Hitta (Mehitabel Gillet) fr her brother Martin Gillet
(Baltimore) 20 Nov 1805; in answer to letter of 30
Sept, Martin living with uncle

Hitta (Mehitabel Gillet) fr her brother Martin Gillet
(Baltimore) 10 Sept 1806; in answer to letter of 29
Aug, refers to death of "Cousin Hall"

Hetta (Mehitabel Gillet) (Lyme) fr her brother Martin Gillet, nd; ". . . For my part I have tried different paths and find in the result that the less intercourse
I have with mankind the less are my perplexities & the less I am harassed with anxiety which always press on the mind and increases dissatisfaction . . ."

Major Peter Lord ("Beloved parents") (Lyme) fr daughter Sarah W. Lord (Colchester) 12 July 181?; homesick, school, ". . . I have attended to drawing, painting, Grammar and Geography. There are young ladies who attend the same school I do, and attend to the same pursuits, and I find some of them to be very agreeable [?]. I like my boarding house, tolerable well, although the boarders complain very much of the food,
but I have not thought much of that . . ."

Major Peter Lord (Lyme) fr Matthew Griswold (New Haven) 22
Oct 1816; "Judge Holmes has handed me a Paper signed with your name & request me to draw a Letter to the Govr requesting that you may be dismissed from further service in the Militia . . . I am willing to do anything for you but I want you to write me what your Indisposition is – how long you have been [?] – whether your disorder is like to remain long – in short all the particulars about it.”

Capt. Joseph Gillet (Lyme) fr son Joseph Gillet Jun (Smithfield) 6 Oct 1815; “. . . But I am sorry to relate to you that I was obliged to leave my Cousin Ely Gillet Thirty Miles before we came to Albany on account of his horse being lame he is calculating to go to Black river Next Monday I calculate to start for the West and how far I shall go I do not but I guess not farther than Buffalo. It is a matter of uncertainty when I shall return to Lyme so you must not look for me till I come. But I think probable I may be at home some time the latter part of Nov.”

3 6 Peter Lord, family letters 1817-1819

Major Peter Lord (Lyme) fr brother William Lord (LeRoy) 22 Sept 1817; asking for money, “. . . Had Dr. Ely paid me I should be able to have paid all that I owe in this County . . . Mrs. Lord has been sick ever since the first of July & I have been obliged to spend a good deal of time to take care of her. . .”

Major Peter Lord (Lyme) fr brother William Lord (LeRoy) 26 Nov 1817; thanks for $200, death of baby “I am very sorrow to hear that you have been so unfortunate as to lose your Babe & also that your wife was brought so very low . . .”

Major Peter Lord (Lyme) fr brother William Lord (LeRoy) 31 Dec 1817; “. . . Our little baby is 6 months old the 7 day of Jany is the healthiest & the fattest baby ...”

Major Peter Lord (“dear parents”) (Lyme) fr daughter Sarah W. Lord (Colchester) 9 Aug 1819; coming home next week

Sarah Lord fr N(oah?) H. G(illet?) (Bacon Academy) 3 Aug 1819; re grief, sorrow, friendship (unspecified?)

4 6 Peter Lord, family letters 1820-1824

- Mrs. Hetta Lord (Lyme; Dear Sister) fr N.H. Gillit [sic.]
(Brookhaven) 10 Aug 1820; long poem re benefits of faith
- Miss Sarah W. Lord (Lyme) fr brother J(ohn?) S(smith?) Lord (Bacon Academy) 30 Oct 1822; re neglecting study of geography, but studying surveying, ". . . I carried your beads to Esq. Kellog (the SilverSmith) but he [cannot?] make a chain of them that he thought would suit. . .", money, ". .. the prevasion? Of the Hooping-Cough at Grassyhill, which you stated as being mortal in come cases, and in others very dangerous, as was the case of M J. Gillet's two youngest children .
. . ."; disease, health, new coat, ". . . it is time for some of our folks to be looking around after a tailor,
for it generally takes us about a month, and sometimes more to get one after we have made applications."
- Mrs. Hetta Lord (Lyme, Dear sister) fr Joseph Gillet (Covington) 21 April 1823, part of letter cut off; burdens of religion, "the feelings of the half or luke-warm Christian.", health of Mrs. Mather and Mr.
Ely, re Mr. Rogers.
- Miss Sarah W. Lord (Lyme) fr (brother) John Smith Lord (Brookhaven) 6 Dec 1823; re death of Uncle? Benjamin and Christopher, illness of Augustus, "Christopher you informed me was buried the same day on which he died -
the cause of which, I suppose, was owing to the putrid nature of the fever with which he died.", health of Daniel and Almira, "I expect by this time you begin to look quite grand about home as you mentioned the prospect was fattering? that the turnpike would soon get worked past the house, but perhaps it has a different appearance from grand to Par to see his mowing dug up."
- Miss Sarah W. Lord (Lyme) fr brother John Smith Lord (Millers Place) 21 Feb 1824 (& on same piece of paper, letter to Peter [Lord, Jr.]); 1) ". . . I think Scimilius? Has cut a pretty caper indeed. I always thought that he was rather void of sound sense, but I thought he had enough to keep clear from such a scrape as this. In the first place, it is a wonder of wonders to me, that he should fancy Sally Clark enough to make him his wife, and next that he should be so surprisingly short sighted as to proceed so far in the business as he did without making know his intentions to his mother and friends and consulting them on the subject – to sum it all up I think it is the most funny circumstance that ever occurred in our nighbourhood [sic] since my remembrance. . . if he gets off with paying two hundred dollars I think he ought not to complain. . . Tell Sarah, I have got most tired of being a School Master. I believe it is the most perplexing occupation. . . I have about thirty scholars now and they want a great deal of assistance in their studies. I have eight studying Arithmetic with whom I could devote my whole time – and Grammarians almost without number. . .”, health of family and friends, small pox; 2) [begin letter on same paper from John S. Lord to Peter (Lord, Jr?)]: Peter [Lord, Jr?] fr John S. Lord (Brookhaven) 23 Feb 1824, on same piece of paper as above; re storm, “I think from the quantity of lumber of all kinds, which has been driven on this shore, within a few days, that it’s evident there has been a high freshet – Pine logs, boards, bri[?] planks and timers, shingles, &c have completely lined the beach . . .”, re Ezra Gillet, Jonathan Hall

Mrs. Hetta Lord (Lyme, Dear Sister) &? Mr. Peter Lord, Jr.) fr N.H.G. (Brookhaven) 24 April 1824

5 8 Peter Lord, family letters 1825-1830 (some re deaths in family)

Peter Lord, Junr. (Lyme, Dear Brother) fr J.S. Lord (LeRoy) 26 Sept 1825; re trip from Esq. Gillet’s on “Line boat” arriving Palmyra (NY?), see Amy & Lucy Ann Clark, stayed with George Beckwith, depart for Lima (NY?), arrive at Uncle William’s, Sarah sick on trip (fever, ague, headache), doctor not alarmed.

Mr. Peter Lord (Lyme, dear brother) fr John M. Gillet (Leroy) 18 Oct 1815; Sarah’s illness & death by “typhus fever”

Major Peter Lord (Lyme, dear brother) fr William Lord (LeRoy) 10 Feb 1826; re purchase of 2 marble gravestones, “They say it is not so common of late to put much work on gravestones we set more plain stones than otherwise – They say that g. stones 4-1/2 ft above ground 21 inches in width will cost $20 including lettering. This is the size you wrote. This size of g.stones I fear will not look in the grave yard so well as you would like. I have taken pairs to measure a number of g. stones in the yard & find those of adults are larger than this size upon an average they are 5 ft & one 5 ft & 8 in. in height by 25 in. in width . . .", re epitaph for Sarah's gravestone, ill health of Mother Ely's family, Augustus sick

Miss Elizabeth Lord (Lyme) fr (friend & cousin) H(arriet?). E. Lord (LeRoy) 15 April 1826; re will not be visiting Lyme with Mr. Ely this spring, visit from John B.B. Lord

Dear Brother fr [Major Peter Lord] (Lyme) 28 Aug 1827; re death of his son Peter at Yale in 1827

Mrs. Hetta Lord (dear sister) (c/o Maj. Peter Lord, Lyme) fr Noah H. Gillet (Brookhaven) 11 Dec 1828; "I am informed by Brother Franklin that Mr. Lord has been more afflicted than usual with his old complaint. . ."

Dear Mother? (Ballston Springs) fr daughter Elizabeth (Lyme?) 25 May 1830, & on same piece of paper letter from J.S. Lord to Peter Lord (Dear Father); 1) visit from Grandma?, Mary? And Angelina (a child), Miss Arabella Ely superintendant of school, heath of family members (Daniel, Julia, Nancy), "We have had some [?] calls beggars &c. but one visitor we regarded with most unusual interest - a man with two very large packs entered the house - stood some moments - then proceeded to take of(f) his burdens - stowed them away under the table and seated himself very composedly - meanwhile staring [at] us with a wide unmenacing gaze but uttered not a word. You will imagine something of our terror and consternation but we strove to exhibit all the bravery we were capable of summoning instead of running away as I would have liked - we stood firmly looking at him as if to demand the cause of his intrusion - but remaining speechless we went about our work with quaking hearts and trembling hands which almost refused to support us - we [?] and washed dishes and talked about folks as if we might command an army - thus we continued about an hour waiting very impatiently for the arrival of Smith - at last he came when he found by some papers that he carried with him that he was deaf & almost blind that he was an innocent and inoffensive person which proved to be the case - he went away the next morning apparently very grateful for our hospitality.", Melinda visiting Mary, made butter, sold for 14 cents per pound; postscript from J.S. Lord re sudden death of Mr. Saunder's (shoemaker) wife; 2) Dear father (Peter Lord, Ballston Springs) fr J.S. Lord (Lyme?) 21 May 1830, on same piece of paper as above; re note from Mr. Parker for Peter Lord? Concerning business with Capt. Leech; re shearing sheep, missing sheep, dead sheep, lambs; fishing

Peter Lord (dear father, Ballston Springs) fr J.S. Lord (Lyme) 12 June 1830; re fishing, ". . . sent some salt fish to New York which were sold for about eight dollars per barrel . . .", re payment for wool, some sheep died or missing after shearing probably due to storm, re price of wool, mentions Mr. Ballard, Miss Julia's brother Mr. Brown, Daniel and Mrs. Flynt

Group II – Daniel Miner Lord, 1828-1849 (folders 7-11)

7 6 Daniel Lord, letters 1828-1834

Uncle (Maj. Peter Lord, Lyme) fr D.M. Lord (Amherst College) 10 or 16 Sept 1828; re debt and loan; "By arrangements made between the New York Presbyterian Education Society and the American Education Society, or rather by their union I am deprived of the assistance which I formerly received from New York and receive now only from the A.E. Society, which places me under rather disagreeable circumstances just a[t] present, as I am now in debt thirty or thirty five dollars for board without the means of discharging it at this time. Therefore I am now compelled? To seek a temporary assistance from some one of my friends, till I can teach school to get wherewith to discharge this debt and others . . . I am induced with much reluctance to ask the loan of the above amount till next spring vacation . . . I have a school engaged for three months at 27 dollars per month . . ."

Sister (Miss Almira A? Lord, Millers Place, Long Island NY) fr sister Julia (Cedar Grove) 14 March 1832; re trip on ship New York to Charleston, SC, cousin Smith, slavery, ". . . the whole of S. Carolina I have yet seen is one continued wall? of pines, not a hill, stone, or meadow to vary the scene - all that you see is at great distances is a house, surrounded by its numerous log cabins for the poor negroes to live in - when I came, cotton was whitening the fields, which are full of old decaying pines, which are not cut down here . . . Everything is very different here from N.E. - manners & customs &c. - slaves do all the work here - Ladies are not accustomed to waiting on themselves - the poor negro does all. At first it seemed strange to me - but now I have in some degree become accustomed to it. However I do not envy the southerners their [wealth?], or slaves - it pains me to see the degrading state of the sons and daughters of Africa. . ."

Sister (Miss Almira A. Lord Female Institution, Amherst, Mass) fr brother Daniel (Boston) 1 August 1834 (on same piece of paper as below); encouraging Almira to stay at school another term; Daniel sick; ". . . Since I came here my congregation has increased. Indeed the number of sailors have doubled. . . I wish you could be present with us on the Sabbath. You would see as interesting congregation as you ever saw - Julia has become more and more like myself, interested in seamen. . .", Julia sick; family news.

Dear Sis & Cousin fr ? (on same piece of paper as below); family news, etc., ". . . D[aniel?] will probably go to Commencement. I do not expect to because of the expense. I find expenses are great everywhere, but in the city you can hardly turn around without paying for it. . ."

Son (brother of Daniel) fr ? (Charleston, SC) 27 Dec 1834 (addressee and addresser torn off (Mr. Sam..., Inst...; on same piece of paper as letter from Julia to Brother below); 1) describes his and Julia's trip from Boston to SC (probably Dec 8 - 18, 1834); seasickness, Julia sick since arriving in SC, expensive living there ($1 board for day each), ". . . I have had time to ramble considerably about the city [Charleston?], which is totally unlike any of our cities or even villages at the north, the style of the buildings, & their somber dullness owing to humidity & warmth of the atmosphere, gives everything a gloomy appearance; there are however a few exceptions, vegetation in some of the gardens is green & lively, & in several of their yards have I seen the beautiful orange tree loaded with fruit. A day or two since, I went into one of the churches, to witness an exhibition of 3 of the pupils from the American Asylum for the Deaf & Dumb, with Mr. Weld, the principal. I believe M. Booth is one of them. The Legislature of this state at their late session have granted a sum of money for the education of deaf mutes in this state . . . I went to the Catholic puppet show - as it appeared to me, rather than a place of religious worship. . . Yesterday, visited the S.C. Medical College, they have a fine museum of birds, fishes, shells, crocodiles & snakes, all done up in very [great? Style?], their anatomical preparations I should think are very fine. . .";

2) Brother fr Julia (on same piece of paper as above; partially cut off)

Miss Almira Lord (New London) fr M.C. Gardiner (nd c. 1834?); illness; "If I live do come and make me a visit in the Spring. Did you see Julia Walters in New London. . ."

Capt. Samuel Lord (Shelter Is, NY) fr "your nephews & son" Daniel M. Lord (Boston) 31 March 1835; ". . . It [his congregation] is now as large as six or eight of the one on Shelter Island. . ."; wife away

Aunt (Mrs. Dorcas Lord, Shelter Island, NY) fr niece Emily (Rocky Point) 31 March 1835 (on same piece of paper as below); 1) grandmother in poor health, letter from cousin Almira

2) Aunt (Mrs. Dorcas Lord, Shelter Island, NY) fr Noah H. Jones, 31 March 1835 (on same piece of paper as above); health, colds in winter, accident with an ax, school, farm work

Mother, Uncle & Aunts (Capt. Samuel Lord, Shelter Island, NY); fr J[ulia?] M. Lord (Cedar Grove) 1 April 1835; away from husband (for health?), slavery, ". . . I passed six weeks with my sister Mary, in Columbia [SC]
at my old home then came to Camden and from thence to my present home where I formerly resided, on my first coming to Carolina. . . and my health has been daily improving. I have now no cough . . . and tho I feel more and more the loss of my dear husband's society yet I know it would be very wrong for me to be discontented. . . I should like aunts to see how Carolinians do their work – how many negroes it takes here to do what they can do with so little trouble.
These people must have a slave to do every kind of work, that is, one to cook, another to wash, one for this, another for that. I know Aunt Hannah would get tired of telling them and waiting for them to do what she told them, they move so slow. I could tell you many curious stories if I could see you. . . Yesterday you would have laughed to see the ride I took with Miss Wilson – we drove a mule in a chaise – but this is often done here. They [?] a great many mules and horses for ploughing – and when we cannot get a horse to ride take a mule. . ."

Dear Sister (Miss Almira A. Lord, New London) fr Julia (Cedar Grove) 2 April 1835; last letter written from Columbia SC, spent 4 weeks in Camden mostly with Mrs.

Cousin (Miss Almira A. Lord, c/o Miss Wood, New London) fr Elizabeth, 11 Nov 1835; parties, health, religion, money". . . My complaint has been a deep soreness and pain in my left side breast and shoulders, difficult breathing, and looseness of the bowels, and at night I found it almost impossible to move myself in bed without help, the pain was so excruciating. A physician has called on me and given me medicine and dieted? Me, and I now feel better but not well of those complaints. He did not say what he thought was the matter. I suspect he did not know . . .", deciding whether to stay the winter at Uncle's family or return south, ". . . she (Mary) has contrived to fall in love with the minister here, Mr. Musgrave, and he also with her. . . who would supposed she would prefer a man of thirty years & a minister to the young flattering beaux so plenty here. . . We have been going to the museum and to the monument and the convent ever since J has been here . . . "they have magnificent churches, [?] priests, and flourishing seminaries, and numerous adherents. The morals of the people are not as good I think as in new England, and to be religious is very unpopular with the young and gaiety and pleasure predominate I have spent a heap of money since I have been here and if I stay must spend still more. It goes I hardly know how in trifles more than in large articles. I have purchased a gay calico dress, woolen cape and breastpin and shawl and a few other necessaries . . ."

Sister (Miss Almira A. Lord, New London) fr Julia (Boston) 14 Dec 1835; in better health, visited the Cottage (in Lyme?) at Thanksgiving, saw baby nephew, ". . . We have agreed with Smith & Hannah to take Mother this winter to [South?]. I think it will be more agreeable to Mother's feelings . . . "

Mother (Mrs. Dorcas Lord (c/o John S. Lord, Lyme) fr Daniel (Boston) 13 Feb 1836?; " . . . I have felt and do still feel that I am called to preach the gospel to Seamen. As a Seamen's preach[er] I have been installed over a Mariner's Church. . .", where Mother will live, Julia's health, nephew Frederick Augustus

Cousin (Miss Almira A. Lord (Boston) fr Mary Gillet (Baltimore) 3 June 1836 (on same page as letter below); 1) cousin E likes Baltimore, ". . . Mr. M thinks something off me and I of course like him but believe me Almira I do not love him. Their (sic) is too many reasons for my not thinking of him as one who would ever be any nearer to me than a dear friend. Please do not mention it to any one. . .", family health
2) Almira fr E.G. (on same page as above); Smith & Hannah leaving for Boston, etc.

Brother (Rev. Daniel M. Lord, Lyme) fr Almira A. Lord (Newport) 14 July 1837; in answer to above letter, ". . . the Committee have helpt me in suspense until today the last day of the quarter. They have treated me mean enough. I could not experience the same unpleasant feelings another quarter for all the money in their treasury. I wrote them a note as politely as I could much the same as you dictated. Not one word did I hear from them. They know I should dismiss the school today unless they come to some conclusion. They then sent me my quarters salary commencing from the 4th April the day I came to Newport . . . Saying they would give me 325 per year. Mr. Guild had reduced his board 2-50 per week leaving me 200 a year. . . . Mr. Dumont has felt badly for me. He himself saw the committee told them I was not to be trifled with. . . Mr. And Mrs. Guild have treated me with great kindness. I believe they really felt bad thinking I should leave . . ."

Sister (Almira A. Lord, Lyme) fr Daniel M. Lord (Boston) 14 March 1838; Mr. Dumont assures him Almira assured room and board for school and $50 per quarter for 6 months and urges her to accept offer; Daniel sees only 2 objections to the offer, 1) climate not good for her health, 2) find out she is expected to teach, can study herself, ". . . You know the people at Newport are not very intelligent. At least that is rather my opinion. . .", apparently she is in Stonington at this time, Mrs. Kennedy has found employment (son George is not with her)

Miss A.A. Lord (Boston) fr William Guild (Newport) 29 March 1838; offers teaching position @ $50 per quarter, subjects include ancient & modern geography, ancient & modern history, botany & chemistry, natural philosophy, algebra & geometry; ". . . Mr. Dumont says, 'Teach all you know!'"

Mother, Cousin S & H, Aunt H, and E (John S. Lord, Lyme) fr Almira A. Lord (Boston) 9 April 1838 (on same paper as below); 1) traveling from New London to Stonington to Boston, Daniel very well, Almira will accept Newport teaching job, . . . "and as I am a minister's sister they seem to think I must know something. Alas, how deceived - well I expect they will find me out . . ." 2) Dear Mother [in law] fr E.B. Lord (on same paper as above); family

Miss A.A. Lord fr William Guild (Newport) 14 April 1838; pleased to know Almira will return to teach in Newport, she should arrive by May 2

Cousin (Almira A. Lord, c/o Mr. Dumont, Newport) fr Hannah (Lyme) 9 May 1838; Almira's mother "feeble", ". . . At mother's they have all from mother & Elizabeth down to Angelina had what is termed 'the rash' which had made them all sick more or less, and at present I am about half sick myself with the same disease. . .", her children Henry and Frederick are well, Mother Brown spent about 20 days with them, ". . . Elizabeth has not gone to New York as we hoped she would with sister Mary. We urged and talked and she went so far as to pack her clothes for going and then would not make up her mind to go. You know she is inclined to look on the dark side and in this case she did very much fearing she should be sick &c, &c.", death of cousin

Hallock Gillet's wife, marriage of cousin Noah Jones to woman named Hollock

Mother (Mrs. Dorcas Lord, c/o J. Smith Lord, Lyme) fr Almira (Newport) 12 May 1838; Eliza's (Daniel's wife) acquaintances in Boston "first in society - real aristocracy", Daniel busy with Seamans Friends Society, Mrs. Kennedy's son George died, "We attended the funeral and saw his little coffin deposited in the Infants Tomb in the city.", Cousin Hallock's wife died, Noah married, teaching, room with Mrs. Packard, teach 15 "young ladies", boards with Mr. Guild, "I felt rather bad the first [?] day, the young ladies came dressed as if they had come to a party - some with their gold watches - but laying aside their external appearance they do not know any more than I do - with a previous preparation I hope to be able to get along without any embarrassment", fire at house of Mr. Rawley

Mother (Mrs. Dorcas Lord, c/o J. Smith Lord, Lyme) fr Daniel M. Lord (Boston) 25 May 1838; plan to visit Almira in Newport, then to Lyme, then to Mouron? To visit father & mother Brown, etc.

1) Eliza's health [possibly morning sickness] "But I am more than half inclined to believe that she is [sic] some notion of making you an aunt one of these days.", "I had a letter from father Brown making some inquiries about our Shelter Island affairs. He is going to attend to them."
2) Sister (Almira A. Lord) fr E.A. Lord [Eliza] (on same page as above); family news

Almira A. Lord (c/o Gould, Newport) fr cousin Emily (Patchogue) 26 July 1838; family news; "Fathers family are all well he is carrying on great business. The place is so altered you would hardly know it. John lives at home and takes charge of the shipyard."; "There has been quite a revival of religion here."; "Mr. Gillet has not been on the island since the death of his wife."; H.W married Conklin; Hiram Tuthill married to Lorra Davis who died 2 weeks ago, "Thus you see he has married 3 sisters and is a widower now."

Mother (Mrs. Dorcas Lord, c/o J. Smith Lord, Lyme) fr Almira (Newport) 30 July 1838; family health; Noah married to Adelia Hallock, lives with his grandmother; Capt. & Mrs. Jones son taking charge of the shipyard; doubts if she will continue at the school, "I have my doubts as to the school sustaining itself longer unless the teachers should teach French - Then the tuition would more than double to the English. About half of the girls are now taking French lessons - a gentleman comes in the school three times a week to hear recitations."

Miss Almira A. Lord (Newport RI) fr sister-in-law Eliza A. Lord (Chatham MA) 13 Aug 1838; Eliza in poor health; Almira's mother in better health than expected but quite frail; Hannah "quite ill"; Daniel probably will return to Boston but Eliza will stay in Chatham until Sept; Daniel, Mr. Rogers & Nathan? Alpheus "have gone a sporting today. . . they do enjoy it. . . They look like anything but ministers and a Boston merchant. It is such healthy exercise. . ."

Almira A. Lord (c/o Wm. Guild, Newport) fr brother Daniel M. Lord (Boston) 20 Aug 1838; "I am sorry to see by your letter that you are discouraged and that you attribute the falling off of the number of your scholars to your incompetancy to teach them. . . I am satisfied that it is very doubtful whether a select school of young ladies, [?] who will teach it, can be sustained in NewPort [sic]. The fact is, the people there do not feel sufficiently the necessity of education to sustain one. And since that is the case, you or any other teacher ought not to take it for granted that the fault is in themselves because such a school does not flourish. I agree with you however that it will be best that you should not continue unless there should be a considerable addition to your school, which I should not think is very probably. . ."; Daniel will look for another school; Almira should visit their mother; re where Almira will live next winter if not in Newport; mentions Aunt Hallock, Brother Rogers, "Ellen quite ill with the spinal complaint", letter from Father Brown re division of property [Shelter Island?], etc.

Last week we met at Mrs. Dumont's to sew for her."; activities at school, many people ask after Almira.

Mother (Mrs. Dorcas Lord, Lyme) fr Almira A. Lord (Brookhaven) 14 Dec 1838; writing from her aunt's (Dorcas's sister); arrived from Patchogue from cousin Emily's hosue; "I arrived here last evening from Patchogue where I found cousin Emily keeping house and was most cordially received by her as well as Aunt Hallock."; "I found aunt as comfortable as I expected. Noah is married andlvies with her and has a little daughter. He appears very happy in his new relation appears quite like his father. Emily is pleasantly situated. . ."

Cousin Almira (A. Lord, Brookhaven, LI) fr, Hannah W. Lord (Lyme) 23 Dec 1838; father returned from the island (Shelter Island?); "As to matters there, he thinks it very doubtful whether anything can be obtained as your portion. They brought forward testimony to prove that Uncle Samuel said he intended they should have all the property. It is not yet known what the decision of the referees will be about allowing their bill which you know takes nearly all the estate. He thinks the people of the Island are mostly in favor of the old women."; "Hope yet we may be favored with a revival of new religion. Cousin Emeline Royce is quite anxious we think. Joseph of course is deeply interested for her conversion."; Mary & Phebe Ely visited last week; lonely since death of husband

Sister (Almira A. Lord c/o Mrs. Hannah W. Lord, Lyme) fr Daniel M. Lord (Boston) 20 March 1839; mother has to move to aunt Hetty's before moving in with Daniel; "You will therefore have to make all the arrangements necessary as to where she [mother] is to board & the price of board. I think one dollar & half a week will be enough for the summer, but if you have to give more it will be very well. Our mother must have a home where she can have everything necessary for her comfort, let it cost which it will. I think you had better see Aunt H. immediately & know whether she will board her until the first of September when I hope, if it is the will of the Lord, we shall be permitted to dwell altogether. If she will take her, she will oblige me greatly. As to yourself if you think we can remain in Lyme with our mother till autumn it would undoubtedly afford Mother much enjoyment & pleasure. . . I will settle with aunt H. for the board of you both, only make as good a bargain as you can. In case aunt H cannot board Mother perhaps cousin Sarah Gillet will be willing to take her. . ."; Eliza and daughter Harriet sick; Mrs. Packard very sick recovered from childbirth; infant Hatty healthy; "I feel that the time is approaching fast when, if our lives are spared, you & mother will be the inmates[?]

of our family. Unless indeed you should conclude that a certain gentleman should need your society. Should this be the case, I suppose we shall have to consult your happiness & yield to your wishes. It seems, however, he is not as [?] as most widowers, but I suppose he is one of the cautious kind. Well, that is all in his favour. Does he talk of making you a visit? Or how does he make love! When things assume a serious aspect if you will let me know, I will write Mr. Atwater, his minister, and learn what he has to say of him. I like your ideas on this subject as well."; will attend the General Association of Ministers of Massachusetts in Plymouth next week; will

Dear and beloved Daughter (probably Phebe Caroline) fr Mehitabel Lord (Lyme) 16 Sept 1837; ". . . as it regards your getting a bag I wish you to get one that you will be pleased with although I suppose that cannot be a very expensive one for the want of funds.
I have felt much anxiety about you since I received your letter because you say you feel so little like doing anything if so I fear you are unwell or do not enjoy yourself and why do you keep us so long in suspense. . . Aunt D has yet (got?) to be quite comfortable and brother F [Franklin] is in better health but his knee he thinks is no better. . ."

Caroline and Sarah fr Mehetable Lord (Lyme) 22 May 1840 (on

My dear children fr Mehetable Lord (Millington) 5 Aug 1840;
re their school "I fear you will both get sick by studying so hard. I think you did wrong not to relinquish your Geography."; ". . . I have been quite sick for two weeks past I was taken with the head-ache supposed it was the sick head-ache but after a day or two I could get no relief. I sent for Doct. Brockway
he came & said it was a Bilious attack he gave me a potion of Calomel which relieved my head but from some cause it produced a sore mouth that lasted a week and was very tedious. I am so much better now. . ."; ". .
. Cousin Sarah is still with us. . . Mary Eliza has been sick today. . . her mother's health is better although she is not able to do but little more than take care of her babe which has grown very fat and as

Dear Anna (Mrs. Mehetable Lord, Lyme) fr Sade Lord 1841?; re school, "I have had to study very hard, since I have returned so that I do not have any time to do anything else. Sometimes we go to the Academy immediately after breakfast and study till half past 12 and then go again immediately after dinner and stud till 6 o'clock though we do not generally stay as late as that...; "I will . . . tell you about a Sail we have had - one Saturday afternoon when it was hottest Thomas and Oliver, the two school masters, invited
Caroline and Catherine and myself to take a sail - We Sailed up the river for 4 miles and landed at a beautiful place in the woods - we wandered about awhile in the cool shade and then set off home & Catherine and I took care of the 'Gib stays' and learned all about managing a boat. I can assure you
we think we are adepts in the art..."

Dimon's school an like him very much. . ."; "This morning I arose at five o'clock and took a walk as usual but who do you think I had for a companion - I will describe her to you and see if you can guess.
She was dressed in deep mourning; had grey eyes and wore Whiskers - I talked to her all the way but she did not say anything to me though she would often take my hand in both of hers and kiss it with great tenderness - Give it up - Miss Pussy cat - an entire stranger to me - I have not got my accordian fixed

Lyme) fr Cousin Rose [possibly Rose Gillet] (Baltimore) 25 Jany 1843; ". . . I have forgotten almost all of my Yankee phrases, I can only think of two they are pillow-bier and flat, I did not think I should forget them so soon. When I first came home Almira did nothing but laugh at me for talking so fast. What do you think there was a young lady that wanted Almira to bring me to her house to hear me talk don't you think that was insulting my dignity at a great rate. . ."; Joseph spending short time in Baltimore; Martin fell down the stairs at school, broke his arm, fractured some bones, painful when doctor set it; ". . .I go to Mr. Prince's school now but one comfort is I don't expect to go much longer. I have been sitting up stairs all this evening by myself very quietly except the little boys snoring, in the next room and you know that is a great annoyance, and Almira playing on the piano down stairs is it not enough to annoy me."

Sister Sarah (Sarah W. Lord, Lyme) fr [sister in law] Hannah W. Lord (Monson) 15 April 1843; "Your letter awakened a strain of 'painfully pleasing' emotions in my breast, for you touched a chord which vibrates long and [?] when you address me as 'sister'. Well it is true then that I live in the affections of the family of my departed husband? Yes! Though the connecting link is broken and dissolved in death. . ." illness of her 2 children?; mentions Francis & Mary (her children?); mentions Frederic & Samuel (children?); ". . . Were I to adopt the sentiment of the [? Milleriks ?] however, I should not expect the earth to remain long. Some of our weak minded people here are confident in the belief that the end of the world is at hand, and make no provision for their families save from day to day. But we look for better things. Do any follow this delusion with you? How do you prosper under the care of Mr. Burdock? Do the people remain satisfied with him? . . ."; read in newspaper of Phebe's marriage; ". . . My house & I am informed is sold, and probably you have some new neighbors. . . You must not expect me to bring the children with me if I do come. . . How goes temperance in Lyme? . . ."

Dear Madam (Mrs. Mehetible Lord, Lyme) fr Henry M. Waite (Lyme) 1 Dec 1843; [entire letter] "Herewith I send you Capt Moore's Bond to Mortgage to secure the payment of the rent due & payable to you, together with a deed of assignment from me. This, I believe, will make you perfectly safe -/ If you find the documents, all right, I wish you to sign the release upon the back of the enclosed lease, and return the same to me by the first safe opportunity -/ If you will, Mr. Bill will explain the writings to you, and give you any information upon the subject, which you may wish. -/ Respectfully yours &c/ Henry M. Waite"

Dear Mother (Mrs. Mehittable Lord, Lyme) fr Sarah, n.d.; [entire letter] "As I have an opportunity of writing by Mrs. Lord I believe I shall avail myself of it, in writing a few lines presuming that they will not be unwelcome. I have been very sick, I think, for I do not remember of ever being so sick before - I had the Mumps very hard, and was sick as I was last winter but I am now much better and Mrs. Chappell says if I do not get cold she thinks I shall get along very well and I think so too. I have not pretty much over the Mumps but I do not feel as if I could go to school very soon. I have not been down stairs to eat since Tuesday noon -/ I have not been home sick though I have wished a great many times, since I have been sick, I could be at home - I cannot stay to write any more as I fear Mrs. Lord will be along - Give my love to A[?]/ Yours Affectionately / Sarah"

Sarah fr Lucretia (Baltimore) 1 Feb 1844; ". . . I suppose it is know (sic.) use for me to ask you if Carrie is [married], for if Mr. Seldon is as attentive as he used to be I expect he has popped [sic.] the question byfor [sic.] this. If she has not I pity the courtship. Does she allow [sic] you to come in the room or does she have it all to her self. But reailly [sic] I don't think I could bring myself to say Cousin Joseph. But perhaps I am on the wrong track it is some one else. I must stop this nousence [sic]. Don't let Aunt see this or else she will think I am a bigger fool that I used to be. Sister Eliza has moved to the country in the most beautiful and romantic place ever I was in in the course of my existence which has not been very long. We have moved out Lexington street a little below where sister Eliza lived when Carrie was here opposite to Feast[?] garden . . ."; ". . . Almira has been taken [sic] lessons on the Piano and is learning to sing. . . "Martin and George are gone to boarding school up in New Windsor about thirty miles from Baltimore. You do not know what an elegant time we would have if it was not for Oliver[?] he stays at our house to go to school but he goes home every Friday evening and comes back on Monday morning so we have two days quiet. . ."; ". . . when you or any of you write to me direct your letters to Lucretia Gillet not Rosalva as I have assumed that name lately. . ."

Dear Angie (addressed to Miss Sarah Lord, c/o Mrs. Peter Lord, Lyme) fr Lucretia [Gillet] (Baltimore) 2 Feb 1844; sister Isabel has a little girl; ". . . There has been a great many persons asked me if I should like to go back to Lyme. I always tell them yes indeed, and then they seem so much surprised. They have got the idea that it is such a dreary place. But I do not know where they got it from for they know that I enjoyed myself so much while I was their [sic]. . ."

Dear sisters (Miss Sarah W. Lord, Lyme) fr Hannah (Monson) 1 April 1844; re religious/spiritual revival; remembers Leander, Erastus & Samuel; on Sept 3 her mother in frail health "was seized with violent hemorrhage of the lungs which in a short time prostrated her on the bed and to which she was confined almost entirely for three months. . . Her nerves suffered exceedingly. Shortly after her attack Frederic was brought down by a slow fever, and rendered helpless for a number of weeks. We had serious apprehensions of a decline, he was so long in rallying. But by degrees he has regained is more than usual health and I am happy to say is now extremely well. Laura Hitchcock, a cousin of mine who had been with us some two or three years, and of whom I presume you recollect of having heard, was with us at the time. Mother & Fredy were both so low but according to a previous arrangement she left us and entered S. Hadly Seminary the 1st of October. She was as well as usual when she left for ought I knew (though we have since learned that she was not) but suffice it to say that immediately upon her reaching there she began to droop, and in six weeks from the time she left us, her corpse was brought here for interment. She was a beautiful girl of sixteen and the only daughter of her parents who themselves were far away on missionary ground. . . She now lies side by side with our dear sainted Julia peaceful in their silent slumber. . . Mother has bended slowly through the winter, though still an invalid. . ." heard from May Ely in Ohio; is cousin Joseph married

Cousin Carrie (Miss Caroline Lord, c/o Mrs Peter Lord, Lyme) fr Lucretia [Gillet?] (Baltimore) 9 Apr 1844?; ". . . How do you and Sarah come in Latin. I expect if you pursue it as earnestly as you did while I was there you will soon be able to read Virgil. I have not got up to that yet. . .", etc

Miss Caroline Lord & Sisters (Lyme, Hamburg) fr D J Spencer (Clinton) 15 May 1844; ". . . you stated that your seraphone was out of tune. I am very sorry to hear is but am not much surprised & expected you was not, as I stated when I sold it to you that the Instrument was new & would probably want tuning in a few weeks. . ."; mentions instruction book

Mother (Mrs. Mehetabel Lord, Lyme) fr Sara (Norwich) 4 June 1844 (on same paper as below fr Angelina); 1) Sarah & Angelina pleased with "our boarding place", "reconciled to ascending three flights of stairs to our room"; Angeline has "sick headache . . . but was well provided with medicines . . ."; "As to our school we have not been obliged to study anything we did not choose though Master Huntington urged me to take another study even that odious Botany which the whole school is mad after, but I refused with my usual firmness. He said it was not well for scholars to be without lessons to occupy them out of school but I gave him to understand I was an exception to the general rule and was fully competent to the taking care of myself. He is inclined to drive us considerably and it seems rather hard to study. I have not done anything of the kind so long but I think I shall get along. I do not find much time to sew and though I fear Carrie has rather a burdensome task in what we left for her to do I do not know when we should do it. . ."; religion & faith

2) Mother (Mrs. Mehetabel Lord, Lyme) fr Angelina (Norwich) 4 June 1844 (on same paper as above fr Sara); 5 services on the Sabbath and 1 during the week; ". . . How did Carrie like her dress - dear girl, she will never have time to make it, for that great pile of dresses we left her to make. . ."; ". . . by the way when you send that treasure box if you will put in an emery pin cushion, pen wiper, & some coarse knitting cotton for mending, with a pair of corsets for Sarah, all of which we very much need. . ."; ". . . We did not get a Hymn book at the meeting house. If you do not want them all you may send us

one. There is another Sarah Lord in Norwich & you must be sure to direct your letters to care of Mr. D.H. . . "

Dearest Sisters (Misses Lord) fr Carrie (Lyme) 12 June 1844; "I have not completed that 'pile of dresses' . . ."; "By the way, a certain friend of ours told me not long since, that 'he had always thought us the most affectionate family he ever knew' . . ."; ". . . I am so glad you are not 'homesick at all', you Angie, especially. When mother came home and said you were obliged to have a room away up in the attic I though it would be very unpleasant for you and I think you will find it very warm by and by . . . for you know we always laugh at you for being such a cold body. . . I have not had time to make my own dress yet, but presume I shall very soon. You ask how I liked it! I admire everything but the price. . ."; still looking for minister, Mr. Joseph Lord(?) "preached last Sabbath . . . I do not think he is a very sound preacher. He certainly advanced some sentiments, which did not seem to me 'Bible' and yet he appears like a very good man. . ."; has a Sabbath school class, Elizabeth Brockway has the "Infant Class"; attended "the female prayer meeting"; sewing circle met last week; Mrs. Selden's illness; ". . . Mother wants me to say a word or two about your studies. We think you, Sarah, had better divide you attention between Philosophy and botany. You have studied philosophy considerable, and I should think if they do not devote a great deal of time to it, you had better certainly. . ."; ". . . I hope your dresses will suit you. . ."

Dear girls (Miss Sarah W. Lord, c/o Mr. Dan Huntington, Norwich) fr Carrie (Lyme) 3-12 July 1844; re studies; friend has "just 'experienced Religion. This was joyful news to me and I know it will be to you. . ."; ". . . I bruised my limb so that it was quite painful and have been limping about since. . ."; apologizes for a previous letter, "I fear a certain letter was a source of more sorrow than joy. Do not recollect what I wrote when I sent it. But I have an idea that I expressed but the feeling of the moment, and regretted the instant after, both it & the letter were gone. . ."; ". . . Mrs. Murdock has visited Lyme. She seemed very much as she used to. She spent one day & night with us, and I did try quite hard to love her, but indeed she would not let me. Miss Ely says she is one of those persons whose worth will never be known or appreciated. . ."; had tea with Philip Morgan, wife & children; Mary Chunlund[?] school mate from New London married Mr. Bristol of young lawyer from New Haven; Eliza visiting now; received letter from cousin Esther Franklin.

Angie (Miss Angelina H. Lord/ c/o Mr D? Huntington, Norwich) fr sister Carrie (East Haddam) Friday morning [19? July 1844] (on same paper as below letter from Sarah); 1) asks about cousin Daniel, Cousin Almira; "We heard sometime since that Mr. Trubee had sold his part of the house & farm on the Island (Shelter Island), and was going to leave. . . Why did not Cousin Daniel come to Lyme!"
2) Angie (Miss Angelina H. Lord/ c/o Mr D? Huntington, Norwich) fr sister Sarah (East Haddam) Friday morning [19? July 1844] (on same paper as above letter from Carrie); ride to brother's

Mrs. Mehitabel Lord (Lyme) fr M.S. Parker (Lyme) 26 Oct 1844; (entire letter) "Mrs. Lord/ Inclosed I send you twenty one dollars - I expect some money the last of this month (next week) and I will then let you have some more./ Respectfully your Friend/ M.S. Parker/ Lyme 26th October 1844"

Dear Ange (Miss Angelina Lord, Lyme) fr E.W. Huntington (Norwich?) Thursday [1844?]; (entire letter) "N Thursday [?]/ Dear Ange/ As the steamer[?] is waiting I have only time to say that we shall be glad to see you & your friend next term & Mr H can take both. Mary is at Plainfield. We are all well but dear Elisa Eaton has died since you left. We doubt not she is happier than here./ With much love to Sarah / your mother & sister - I'm/ Yours in haste/ E.W. Huntington"

Dear Angie (Angelina H. Lord, Norwich City) fr Carrie [1844?] (on same page as letter to Ellen from ? below); 1) family visits and health
2) Dear Ellen fr ? [1844?] (on same page as above); mentions Betsey Maynard

Cousin (Miss Caroline Lord, c/o Mrs. Peter Lord, Lyme) fr
Rose (Baltimore) 30 Jan 1845; ". . . I was very much surprised to hear that Cousin Sarah had gone back to school with Angie. I was very anxious for Mother to send me but she thought it was to [sic.] far and then I wanted to go down to Georgetown to Miss English but that was to [sic] far she would have sent me to Mrs.
Phelps about ten miles from Baltimore but I did not wish to go their [sic] so I still go to Dr.
Cleveland."; wants to go sleigh riding; Joseph comes home twice a year; Oliver visited in the summer;
"Lorenzo has gone to Canton you cannot think how much we miss him. . . I wonder if he eats little dogs and cats like they do. I hope not. I do not think I could kiss him when he comes home."; "Sister Mary has another little girl."

Dear Caroline (Caroline P. Lord, Hamburg, New London) fr
cousin P? Frank? (Penn Yan NY) 15 Feb 1845; Louise Raymond died; Deacon Peck? Married Betsey Brockway; "I hope to hear of another precious revival of religion.
I wish I had some good news to write you my dear cousin but alas no - awful stupidity seems to prevail
it is really alarming it is now three years since there has been a revival of religion in this Village
it may with truth be said 'the ways of Zion move on because few come to her solemn feasts'. I have heard they were holding a protracted meeting at the Congregational Church also at the Methodist. Mr.
Mahon the President of Oberlin College in Ohio is here. They hold meetings every evening. I have not been able to go out in almost two weeks took a severe cold in my face and throat was very sick for a few days."; snow storm; her brother's family - "Emma the oldest is spending the winter with her Aunt in Kinderhook. She is attending school and has just commenced taking lessons in Music."; Mrs. Ely Morgan ill; "Mrs. Josiah Morgan has a fine baby."; mentions Mrs. Reuben Lord, Mrs. Abel Lord, the widow Phebe
Lord, Elizabeth Haydn; "Your sister Mary has another little girl and her name is Caroline. That is very nice. Our namesake of course."

Dear and respected friend (Miss Sarah Lord, Lyme) fr Aurelia McCall (Lebanon) 25 March 1845; "As I know nothing of your secular affairs I shall write on the subject which most concerns us, as an opportunity presents itself by Mrs. Bill. I hasten to improve it by saying I often look back upon the last moments we spent together with peculiar interest, my health was very poor for about two months after I left school it is now good and hope you are enjoying the same blessing. I hope you are living in the enjoyment of religion and growing in grace continually. . . Revivals of Religion are exceedingly rare at the present..."

Dear Sisters (Miss P. Caroline Lord, Lyme) fr Sarah 7 April [1845]; mother's health, "Tuesday Morning she & I together opened her hand and it discharged matter enough to fill a teaspoonful as estimated, not measured - (How useful you would have been about that time!!). Since then it has not pained her very much or not a long while at a time. It continues to be swollen & the doctor thinks there is more matter to come from it. I wish it might come out at this place but I fear it will gather on the back of her hand. Last night when the doctor went from here he said if nothing happened, Mother would be able to go down stairs in a week. . . Mother's appetite is very good, quite ravenous . . . Mother has some directions to give concerning her garden - So be patient while you read. She says you must get a paper of 'early June peas' which with what she saved last year will be enough. You must get John to protect them effectually from the hens when he plants them. Also a paper of 'early turnip beets' and be sure & not hve them planted too thick because if they are it will be labor in rain . . ."

Dear Sisters (Miss P. Caroline Lord, Lyme) fr Sarah (New London) 11 April 1845; (entire letter) "New London April 11th 1845/ My dear Sisters/ I arrived a Mrs Avery's at a half an hour after three o'clock and found Mother sitting in a chair looking quite comfortable. Dr. Perkins thinks the fever has broke and that she will get along very well. Mother says she feels very weak - We cannot tell when we shall come home./ In haste your affectionate Sister Sarah"

Dear Sisters (Miss P. Caroline Lord, Lyme) fr Sarah (New London) 13 April [1845]; (entire letter) "N London Monday April 13th/ My dear Sisters/ For fear you should expect us home today I write a few words to let ou know that you had better not expect us till we come Saturday morning. Dr. P called to see Mother and said she was getting along so well she might be well enough to go home today if it was very warm and pleasant but afterwards she should him her hand and he thought he cold get out the needle by cutting through the skin. He did so but could not get it out though it was plain in sight but ordered it to be poulticed and thought it would come out itself now that it was opened, the thick skin preventing it heretofore. It has however been extremely painful since but is now more easy and we hope near maturing when Dr. P thinks the needle will come out and as a consequence, 'the hand' get well - Owing to so much suffering in her hand she has not gained her strength as fast as she anticipated and is quite far from being well enough to return home at present. So you will not expect us at present and I hope not until you see with some though not a sufficient, degree of affection. I am your sister Sarah"

Dear Sisters (Miss P. Caroline Lord, Lyme) fr Sarah 16 April [1845]; (entire letter) "N. London Wed April 16/
Dear Sisters/ I presume any news from this quarter will be acceptable to you. Mother's hand matured Tuesday Morning and this morning I had the great pleasure of extracting with my thumb & first finger the vile needle from it. It continues however to be swollen & painful though not as much so as before. Dr. Perkins called again this morning and left some new prescriptions and said he thought the worst of it was over and it would get well after awhile. The extreme pain from her hand has reduced her strength so that she is not able to sit up more than half an hour at a time. Charlie does not board at the hotel. He stayed there the first night and the next morning was taken to Mr. Mattas[?] a neighbor of Mr. Avery's where Mrs. Avery thinks he will be well taken car of. My arm is almost entirely well. I can assure you I have not thought much about it. I wish I knew how you get along but I hope well. With much love to you I am your sister/ S Lord"

Dear Sisters (Miss P. Caroline Lord, Lyme) fr Sarah (New London) 21 April [1845]; mother's health, "Mrs. Avery thinks there is not quite so much heat & swelling her her arm as there has been but until it discharges somewhere, either 'from the present orifice' as Doctr P styles it, or from some new one I suppose there is not much room for encouragement. . .

I wish you could have an opportunity to send in her current jelly. If you should she wants, besides the other things she mentioned to you, her waistcoat, if you know what that means. She has interested herself about your washing and says you had better get Mrs. Edgecomb Beckwith to do it if you cannot find those things you missed when Mrs. Chappell washed. She says you can look in the lowest drawer of the desk in her sleeping-room for them. She says moreover if you can have a good opportunity she would like to have you send her 15 or 20 dollars though she is not in any immediate want of it. She is supplied with cabbages for the present but how long she will need them we cannot tell. . . Angie, I am going up to Mrs. Chappell's to tell her the reason you do not come to school. Have you anything to say pro or con. . ."

Dear Sisters (Miss P. Caroline Lord, Lyme) fr Sarah 24 April [1845]; mother's health, "Mother does not think there is any encouraging symptoms in her hand as all the relief she gets is by means of Laudanum. Yesterday the pain was more severe and protracted than it has been for some time. Today she is more comfortable. Doctor Perkins came Tuesday and said her hand looked as well as he expected to see it. . . Mrs. Chappell & Kate have been to see her. . . If you should find any such golden opportunity in addition to those already on the list I want you to send Mother's extensive new linen handkerchief, towel it may be you call it, and a half handkerchief, such as gentlemen used to wear around their necks, which you will find in the lowest drawer but one in the desk in Mother's bed room, also my calico dress, the best pair of my corsets, my new white woolen stockings in my drawer in your bed room, and one or two pairs of knit cotton stockings if you can find any that belong to me & if not could not one of you lend me a pair? . . ."; Mr. Person to fix the well; Mr Lord to take care of horse; pay the "tax gatherer" & get receipt; "My teeth are grumbling pretty considerably about this time, sometimes quite savagely, just because Dr. Clomes? Put a little piece of india rubber between to separate them for a short time."; Mother is quite please with his (doctor's) prescriptions this time because he gave her something besides laudanum & brandy. He said there was another medicine she wanted but sometimes it was very difficult to obtain and that was 'Tincture of Patience'. Is there any out to Lyme? Doctor says he is not now afraid of lock-jaw or mortification but she is a sick woman and he is anxious about her but he wants her to keep up her courage and he thinks she will get well. . ."

Dear Sister (Miss Sarah Lord, c/o Mr. Thomas Avery, New London) fr Angie 25 April [1845]; mother's health, "I am afraid there is still another piece of the needle in her hand, though I do not profess to know much about it, nor can I make anyone else. Last Sabbath I got really faint trying to tell brother G about it. I am very sorry we cannot find an opportunity to send those things she wants. I think we ought to come in & bring them, but Charlie I am sorry to say has got the horse-distemper thought not very badly. . . Uncle Brown & Sis. Hannah, children have been down. . . As to going to school I have not had much time to think about it much less prepare for it. Carrie has proposed getting someone to stay with her to [?] me off, but I can hardly agree to that - what do you think. We think we must hear from you more than once a week, if you cannot have time, to write do send a paper with a few words on it.. . ."

Dear Sister (Miss Caroline Lord, Lyme) fr Sarah, 12 May [1845?]; mother's health improving, ". . . and today she has been down stairs and she had the hardihood even to step out onto the door stone in the porch. Counter to this I must say her hand has been rather more troublesome today. She is even trying the 'pain exercises(?)' in black silk the latter recommended by the doctor, the former an addition of her own. . ."; re summer bonnets, ". . . when you do come please bring me all the ribband on Angie's & my last summer bonnets. . ."

Mrs. Mahittable Lord fr Joseph Selden; nd, probably 1845; Joseph Selden asking Mrs. Lord's permission to marry her daughter Caroline (entire letter follows): "I should be tempted Mrs. Lord to lay aside the pen which I have taken as the medium of communication between us were I not aware that so doing would be a greater neglect of duty than merely the non-performance of a general rule of Etiquette. You undoubtedly - ere this - have been made acquainted with the object of my frequent visits at your house, during the last few months & it is perhaps owing to the uniform kindness which I have ever received at your residence that I have so long delayed the request I am now about to make. And now Mrs. Lord are you willing to entrust the happiness of your daughter "Carrie" to the keeping of the writer. I am well aware of the magnitude of the request and have not made it upon the impulse of the moment but after [?] deliberation & let me assure you my dear Madam I shall consider it a sacred deposit – well knowing that it is a plant which flowers only in the atmosphere of affection and kindness. We propose the commencement of the coming Autumn as the time of our union & that the above arrangement may accord with your feelings is the wish of Yours Respectfully, Joseph Selden"

Miss Angeline Lord (New London) fr mother M. Lord (Lyme) 14 Nov 1845 (on same piece of paper below); 1) Brother G, wife & children visited last Tuesday; Ellen Marven spent the day;

2) Miss Angeline Lord (New London) fr sister Sarah (Lyme) 14 Nov 1845; on same piece of paper as above; re courtship, sewing, church; "I saw Leander at the society at Mrs. George Lord and he said he was going to your town Saturday and would take anything we have to send. I will not send my love to you by him for fear he will take it himself would you? But I guess he would not pocket the things you wrote for and I will send them and be very glad for the opportunity to do so. I am rejoiced that you are so well pleased with your school, boarding place, et cetera. You write that Miss F[?] is lovely [lonely?]. Is she pious and Mr. F also? (How does Mrs. F's health do?) As for keeping Sunday evening in lieu of Saturday it seems to me just as well – so that you keep one of them holy unto the Lord it seems to me to be a matter of little importance which one, since both are sacred, one to some Christians and the other to others. . ."; re sewing, finished Cashmere; ". . . Brother & sister G invited us to spend Thanksgiving day with them . . ."; ". . . We have no rubber. You remember we bartered the old rubber shoes away to a pedlar [sic]. . ."; ". . . I presume you saw the eclipse of the moon last night of course. The evening Brother & Sister G were here I pulled a tea pot full of hot tea over into my lap. I thought I was scalded surely and made an exclamation to that effect but found afterward that I was more frightened than wounded. . ."; ". . . At the society I thought Mr. [?] quite attentive to Mary Hughes. You would have laughed to have seen him.

Whenever Raymond was sitting by Ellen Marvin & holding the ball to her knitting I expect it struck Nate that that was the proper way to woo. So he takes Mary's yarn and holds it very gallantly in his fingers. Oh it was amusing. . ."; ". . . I have been collecting for the Missionary Society & received something over five dollars. Would it had been more. I did not subscribe anything for you so you can give as you have opportunity & ability. . ."

Angelinea H. Lord (New London) fr sister Carrie (Hadlyme) 5 Dec 1845; refers to recent visit to Angie in New London; Angie intends to return to school; ". . . We had a pretty calm ride home that night. But Joseph drove very fast and we did not suffer very much."; re husband Joseph [nearly illegible], ". . . Joseph says very often that he is tired of the business and shall not engage in it again. I am sure I shall be very glad. I should very much prefer to have him at home with me. . ."; re music and playing piano and seraphone; re clothing, ". . . Angie do you recollect the Alpacan[?] apron that I got at Mr. Smith's the day I was in town. If you do Mother Selden would like to have you purchase her one just like it and bring home with you. The price was 50 cts. If those are gone perhaps you can find one at some other store. . ."

Angeline Lord (c/o Mr. H. W. Farnsworth, New London) fr sister Sarah, 9 Dec 1845; expecting visit from Joseph & Carrie [Selden]; ". . . Mother desires you to purchase 'Jay's[?] evening' or 'Morning Exercises' if you have money sufficient. . ."; Angie coming home soon

Mr. & Mrs. Joseph Ho[?]; no date; entire letter: "Mr. Joseph Selden & Miss Caroline Lord will receive their friends on Thursday Sept 4th at 3 o'clock P.M. at her Mother's residence./ North Lyme"

Miss H. Angeline Lord (New London) fr sister Sarah (Lyme, Mehetable's Knoll) 7 Jan 1846; written on used paper as Sarah explains "There is but one blank sheet in the house and that is very nice for these times and I cannot afford to use it in writing to Angie."; making pumpkin pies; Miss Hughes and Mr. Date[?] to be married this week

Miss Sarah Lord (Lyme) fr (sister) Angie (New London) 16-21 Jan 1846; re school, "There is to be given this term a most elegant Bible, as a reward to those who are most punctual in attendance, recitations &c and though I do not expect to get it, it furnishes an additional motive to diligence. My only new study, Chemistry, I like very well so far. I have just handed in an odious composition. I am almost discouraged thinking I shall ever be a decent composer. Mr. Farnsworth's face was as long as 'my arm' when he read it."; spent Monday evening at the Seamen's Friend Society; spent Wednesday with Emma Weaver; re dancing, "Some of the girls have taken up dancing at recess. I enjoy it very well to look on, but should like to join them, it is not much exercise to see, but I do not suppose they would learn me for any sum., they are very choice of their knowledge in this particular."; death of Mr. David Ely; Addie & Leander; wants the following items sent, "the First Class Book, my old corded skirt, the old Accordion which A. wants very much . . ."; re religious faith

Angeline H. Lord (New London) fr Sarah, 29 Jan [1846]; re accordion; Carrie spending the week; "I presume the Mr. David Ely you noted was not Dea[?] Ely's son or they they [sic] would have heard of it ere this."

Angeline Lord (New London) fr Caroline L. Selden (Hadlyme) 6 Feb 1846; death of sister Mary's child (entire letter): "I regret dear Angie that I am compelled to send you this evening sad tidings. But so it is. Our dear sister Mary has in the mysterious [sic] Providence of God, been called to yield to its Maker, another dear child, My little namesake has been taken from us and transplanted to the heavenly Paradise. She was sick about a week of the lung fever and was a great sufferer. Mother and Sarah were there a day or two before she died, and will remain there probably some time. The funeral was attended on Wednesday. Carrie Lord was beautiful in death's embrace, though she did not look very natural. Indeed I should hardly have known it was her. Little Ellen was then quite sick but I had a letter from Sarah today saying she was much better. Sarah wished me to write you dear Angie, of the death of our sweet little niece, and she will write you more particularly as soon as she can. Thaddeus Raimond has just come in to spend the evening so I will not be able to write much more. I have waited quite impatiently to receive a letter from you Sis but received today some music for which I am very much obliged. I hope you will find time before long to write me a good long letter. I have a great many things I would like to write but must wait till next time. Mother says tell Angie I remember her a great deal of affection and Lizzy sends love. My dear Husband also would have a nice little tender line for you but he is talking and laughing with his friend Raimond so you must take the wish for the deed. I would send a great quantity of love to you dear Angie while I remain your aff. Sister/ Caroline L. Selden"

Angeline Lord (c/o Mr. Farnsworth, New London) fr Sarah (Lyme) 14 Feb [1846]; death of Mary's child (Carrie's namesake) on 3 Feb 1846; "Dr. Warren said he never saw a child so patient. . . Sister Mary does not weep much but the deep drawn sigh and the look so disconsolate is as painful to witness as tears would be."; Ellen sick; visitors, "Mother and myself came home yesterday and brought Mary Eliza with us having been nearly two weeks at brother Griffin's."; Sarah has not yet sent to Angie the things she requested

Sarah Lord (Lyme) fr A. (Angeline?) 28 Feb [1846]; re death of niece (sister Mary's daughter), ". . . I had heard from Leander who was here the Wednesday before, that Sister Mary had lost another of her little children."; Angie babysitting Farnsworth's baby; deciding whether to continue school next term; received items Sarah sent; received 3 valentines, ". . . some got 20 or so. I probably should, had I been more acquainted, do not you think so? I wrote a few, one in particular to Ade [Ada?], which I meant she should think came from Leander, but I could not [?] it"; re clothes, "Tell mother I am afraid I shall have to get me another pair of rubbers, these proved to be a miserable pair, I have had them mended twice and I begin to think it would be cheaper to get another pair. I hope she will not think me extravagant."; birthday, "My birthday has passed, and I am seventeen, it does not seem possible & you too are twenty, let us get some caps and spectacles to put on."

H. Angeline Lord (New London) fr Sarah (Lyme) 20-21 March [1846]; Joseph brought Carrie home Saturday; went to church with brother Griffin; Joseph returned to Hadlyme Monday and came back on Wednesday to get Carrie; with Leander attended wedding of Judah and Mary Beckwith; re burial of Mrs. Reuben Lord; re Angie returning to school, "If you conclude to return me think you had better not attend to any study excepting Latin and music if you like as if you do you will be obliged to pay as much as if you studied them all and judging from my own experience Latin will be sufficient to engage all your attending in your study hours. Me do not think it advisable to engage for more than a half term at first."; re clothes, Mother thinks Angie needs dress for summer and calico school dress; need to know how much money Angie needs; sister Mary's baby "grows fast"; re clothing, "Mother says have good rubbers by all means in all places where you will be in danger of dampening your feet."

Angeline Lord (Lyme) fr friend Ellen P. Rogers (New London) 24 April 1846; writing from school, "We miss you very much indeed especially Addy. There are 32 scholars in school now and there are four new ones coming soon. I have but three studies at present [?] Algebra, French and Botany. I wish you was here to study Botany with us, for it is so pleasant to analyze flowers, don't you think so?"; Adeline enjoyed visit [with Angie?]; Mr. F wants her to take Latin; Matilda and Julia just returned from NY; will take music lessons from Mr. Williams, organist of 2nd Congregationalist Church, "I suspect I shall get many a good scolding before I get through 26 lessons."; Betsey Ann not at school this term; school hours 8:30AM-12:30PM and 2PM-4PM; re romance, "What! Has become of that certain young gent you used to think so much of (don't think I am joking) do write and let me know about him."; re African Americans, "There was a fair held here yesterday by the colored people. Ada and me went after school, the tables were laid out with a great deal of taste. There was some of the most polite gentlemen and ladies of color I have ever met with present."

Angie Lord (Lyme), second half to Sarah, fr Rose Gillet (New York) 10 August 1846; (very small handwriting); re Oliver?, sister Bell, Harrington; to Sarah, ". . . Oliver is quite glad you are coming to Brooklyn to live, he says he intends to go over to see you very often. . ."

Sister Sa (Miss Sarah Lord, Lyme) fr Angie [30? Aug 1846]; re capes, ". . . I did not get any trimming for mine but scalloped it, so I shall simply get the silk for yours. . ."; re coming home on Thursday, ". . . We have talked some of coming home in a private carriage. Mrs. Farnsworth says it will cost but 2 dollars and a half . . ."

Sarah Lord (Lyme) fr "Sigma" (New Orleans) 17 Sept 1846; re flowers, ". . . enclosing a few flower seeds. . . These seeds are a species of Cucunbitacae and prodces a very large and fragrant flower the color of which is a brilliant orange. . ."

Sarah Lord (Lyme) fr Angie Lord [probably New London] 30 March [no year, 1846?], written on printed advertisement for New-London Female Academy, H.W. Farnsworth, Principal; re school, prizes, coming home, bills ". . . As to the sum of money necessary to pay my bills, I cannot tell you exactly, I should think about 45 dollars. I hardly think I shall come next term. Mr. F says one cannot acquire knowledge enough of Latin in one term to be worth studying it, but I think I shall need the dresses you spoke of at any rate. . ."

Sister Sarah (Sarah W. Lord, Lyme) fr Hannah (56 Rivington St., New York) 26 Nov 1846; visit from sister Mary, husband & children, and cousin (Miss Sarah Way) of Mr. Winn's arrived from Georgia, ". . . We sung, we talked, we visited, we read, and we prayed together as in the days of our childhood & youth. They were with us four months. . ."; piano playing; Thanksgiving; Carrie has become a mother; mentions brother Francis, sister Mary, "brother" Joseph, sister Carrie, Miss Ely

Angeline Lord (Lyme) fr Ellen (New London) 24 or 25 May 1946; school, not taking Latin but ". . . I think you show a great degree of bravery in studying it at home, yet I do not believe you will continue long enough to be perfected in it although I am fully aware that one of your most prominent [?] is that of perseverance. It is no wonder you are not sorry that you did not return to school this term for I do not think Examination is a very joyful subject for anticipation."; Angie horseback riding, "I should like to take a ride horse-back very much provided I has a horse that was about 50 years old."; mentions

Georgeana from East Lyme, Leander, Ann Latham, Mary Ann; Wallace B, "I heard that he had volunteered to go to Texas . . ."

17 19 Burr Papers; Angeline Lord Burr letters from Mary Adelia Farnsworth [c. 1846]

Angie Lord (Lyme) fr Adelia [nd, 1846?]; Ellen R going to grandfather's(?) funeral in Waterford; Emma(?) gone to Sag Harbor; ". . . Dr. Smith seemed quite surprised to think you did not call to see him."; Hiram received letter from friend in Alabama concerning war(?)

Angie from Adelia Farnsworth, 5 May 1846; re bedbugs, ". . . for my bedfellows are such uneasy little creatures, that I rather by far sit up all night. . . . But they are gradually diminishing . . . but Hiram has said 'they do not trouble me at all' until last week he was reading, put his hand down upon his pants, spat upon a bedbug, ever since then he has been their most bitter enemy, and has given them no peace, but doses them with quicksilver and other poisonous drugs."

Sarah & Angie Lord (Lyme) fr Adelia, 11 May 1846; re her brother going to China again, "He brought me a beautiful box, work box, and a very pretty white shawl silk, just right for a wedding, you get married and I will lend it to you."; re Adelia's beau, Jamie?; "Oh! girls, such an apparition as appeared to me night before last, what do you think it was?" it was none other than Richard in his shirt flaps, excuse me girls, but you have I presume heard of such articles worn by gentlemen, although you have no gentlemen among you. Well dear girls let me tell you all about it. I blew out my lamp and rolled up the curtain and was looking at the moon, when I saw Richard dance across the room with nothing on but the aforesaid article, he came up to the window the blinds were thrown open, and no curtains, and the windows are quite low, well he gazed for a time upon things without, then he cut back across the room on light fantastic toe, blue out the lamp and jumped in to bed, now what do you think of that? I blushed of course, and laughed to my self most heartily, and every time I see him I can but think of those broom sticks I saw peeping from under his shirt. Della says she supposes(?) if Richard should call I should all the time be saying shirt flap. . ."; "Caroline Barre goes to school, and she says the only lady like appearing girls in Mr. Farnsworth's school are H. Bassett and herself, did you ever?"

Angie Lord (Lyme) fr Adelia, 19 May 1846; re Miss Ellen's party, mentions Wallace, Leander, "Another gentleman was present in that vast assembly he above all others took my eye, he is a stranger to me. His name is Fitch [Enoch Fitch Burr, possibly?]. I think you will fall in love with the name, and you certainly would with the person, he is the beau ideal of an [?], with dark hair, and eyes, handsome features . . .", also at the party Miss H. Coggeshall, Miss Harris, describes playing games, describes Wallace accidentally stepping on Ellen's dress bringing them both to the floor, ". . . Wallace was so cruelly mortified . . . he has in a fit of desperation . . . volunteered for Texas." Sarah

Sarah & Angie Lord (Lyme) fr Adelia, 25 May 1846; re playing backgammon with Mr. Emerson; mentions Miss Charlotte Coit, Cornelia Perkins; mentions student actor fainting; Sarah getting married (perhaps)

Angeline Lord (Lyme) fr Adelia, 10 Oct 1846; [very pale, hard to read]

Sarah & Angie Lord (Lyme) fr Addie, 20 (Saturday) 1846; mentions their cousin Leander; "I was very happy to hear of the conversion of your brother Joseph [brother in law?], now I see nothing to prevent your sister, being one of the happiest of wives. Surely she will not now regret the day she married him, no, I do not mean that she would, if it had not been for his conversion. You know Angie the talks we have had upon that subject? That of a professor marrying a non professor? I do think it productive of much good often times. Yet if I ever was to marry I think I never would marry one who is not a Christian"

Angeline Lord (c/o Mr. Geo. Lord, Lyme) fr D.L. Farnsworth (New London, Addie's mother), 10 Oct [no year, c. 1846?]; Addie left for New York, will return Saturday; invites Angie to visit; Mr. Sawyer in New York

Sarah & Angie Lord (Lyme) fr Addie, nd; new nephew; Ellen R has new piano

Sarah & Angie Lord (Lyme) fr Addie, Wednesday afternoon [1846?]; mentions Della, Emma, Savonia; "And you have made up with Leander have you, he does not feel so sheepish as I should have supposed, after his disgraceful conduct."; Savonia gave her book of Burns works; ". . . I have com to the conclusion that New London air is not beneficial, and intend to steer my bark for the coast of Vermont as soon as possible"

Angie Lord (Lyme) fr "your old friend Add" (postmarked New London, Aug 20; Thursday, no year [1846??]); asks Angie to visit, expected her Wednesday ". . . as that is the [?] Lyme people generally take to visit New London."

Angie (Lord) fr Addie, Tuesday, August (no day, no year, [1846?]); photographs; mentions her children Kitty & Della, lonely, wants Angie to visit, "Seymour [probably Addie's brother; see May 1st letter] has gone; sailed last Saturday for China. He Staid [sic] so long here that now we can hardly do without him. I have his daguerreotype, how I love to look at [?] now. It is quite natural, all but the eyes. . . Your cousin, Mr. Lord, showed me his brother's daguerreotype, it does not look at all like him, do you think it does? Not in the least."; mentions Fanny Grey, Mr. Richard? Chappell ("a favorite he is with the ladies"); "Elisa Smith & Harriett B have just gone from here. They spent the afternoon. Both took a shower-bath."; etc.

Angeline Lord fr D(ella) L. Farnsworth (with added note from Addie on back), nd, Tuesday [1846?]; asks Angie to come stay with Addie while DLF away

Angeline Lord? From Addie, nd, Monday (part cut off); toothache; "Mr. Edwards called here this evening to see if Della would not go down to the Harbors mouth to spend a week for the benefit of sea-air and bathing . . ."; mentions Louisa, Della, Mr. Spooner, etc.

Angie Lord (Lyme) fr Addie, nd, Saturday, May 1st "I believe", [1846?]; health; sending this letter "to you by your cousin Erastus."; had "one of my blind headaches"; Leander has bad cold; asks Angie to come to New London, "I will find a home for you here. . ."; mentions Adam Prentis; "Oh girls, my dear brother Seymour is in New York. We are expecting him today.";

"Bedbugs bedbugs, so you want to buy any bedbugs? Such times as we have had with these interesting little things. They have almost eaten Kit up. Dainty little beasts they will not even taste of me. Hiram said I wanted a roommate and now I was well supplied. So I am. Major Williams wishes to build us a house next to Mr. Chapman's, a cottage. Hiram has not yet decided but I presume he will build one for us. I should like that because I should be so near to Hutchins, my beauty. I would willingly move from Richard to be near him. I do not think Richard treats me with common civility . . ."; "I have been to the singing school twice . . ."; etc.

Angeline H. Lord (Lyme) fr Addie?, nd, Monday, April; (very long, 3 pieces of paper, over-written, hard to read); wishes Angie would visit; "Hiram & Della have gone to a party at Mrs. Brainard's, and I am taking care of Mary."; "Angie I am so home sick, that I have a mind to make way towards Vermont as fast as steam will carry me."; Mr. Desmond visited; homesick and lonely; mentions Hiram's school, 33 "scholars", including Jamie's sisters, "The school is below stairs, the room has been washed, new inkstands fastened to the desk, blackboards painted, dressing room cleaned &c &c. It does not look like the same room. As for my room it is the same old sixpence, and Angie about you believe I have 7 whole scholars to teach. I want very much to engage an assistant, if you know of any who would like to teach the young ideas . . ."; saw Ermina[?] sick with dyspepsia; mentions Leander, Martha Noyes; ". . . I have been reading a piece on the subject [of] marriage. . . it said that it was designed by Providence that all should marry, and a woman was not a woman unless she was married."; mentions Lavinia, Mary Potter; Mr. Williams "has made great improvements in our singing at church."; mentions Ellen Rogers; etc.

Angeline H. Lord (Lyme) fr Addie, postmarked New London, April 24; Thursday [1846?]; re African Americans; "I have just returned from the Black fair". The colored people have given a fair for the purpose of raising money to pay for their church. . . The little black children sang very well indeed. The Court house was dressed very neatly, and everything looked nice. But such a display of ivory I never before witnessed, and they would turn up the whites of eyes and look so commercial."; in love with Richard

Sarah & Angie Lord (Lyme) fr Addie, Friday morning [1846?]; re bachelors, "Last night one of Hiram's college friends spent the night with us. He is an old bach, Sarah, at least I should think so, and of all old baches, deliver me from him. I can endure a good degree of homeliness in a man, indeed I never wish for a handsome man, but I would like one whose face does not pain him. He has been preaching among the Mohegans, you may have him Sarah if you can catch him."; mentions Ellen Rogers, Seymour, Richard, etc.

Sarah & Angie Lord (Lyme) fr Addie, nd; mentions Emerline Grace, Mr. Emerson, Richard, etc.

18 12 Burr - Lord letters 1847

Dear Mother fr Joseph (Hadlyme) 16 June 1847; entire letter: "Hadlyme June 16th 1847; Dear Mother; I take pleasure in fulfilling my promise of writing you a line in regard to Carrie's health. I am happy to say she is very comfortable indeed and is really improving quite rapidly under the care of Mrs. Wellman. She sat up twice yesterday the last time more than half an hour without suffering much fatigue. Little - shall I call him [?] - is certainly a promising lad being very quiet, and contenting himself in the land of Nod the greater part of the time. I am sorry to say that the youth more particularly under my care is not so accommodating but hope he will improve soon. Carrie sends much love to her Aunt, my Mother & Sisters and hopes soon to see them at our domicile./ In haste Yours Affectionately/ Joseph"

Angie fr Sarah, 16 Sept 1847; mentions Mrs. Henry Young, cousin Harrington, a wedding, Mr. Noyes, Mr. Goodman in Brooklin (New York?), Dr Cox, husband Edward, visited Gallery of the Fine Arts, "I had the pleasure of returning in an omnibus, the streets being extremely unfit for genteel promenading in consequence of the rain. I have had the extreme felicity of promenading in Broadway and in the Park where I saw the [?] play not- was not that a large pity? I walk through the Battery every time I go to Brooklin so I shall be able to sympathize with Styles in his raptures. Yesterday Edward took a fancy to have my hair curled to appear in a daguerreotype. So he took me to Martelle's the prince of N.Y. barbers and lo, in an hour the ringlets clustered on each side of my visage. I felt faint, but bore it with heroic cheerfulness for my dear husband's sake alone. Now let me tell you that I came under the yoke beautifully and you know you had a vast many fears that I should not. But this morning I was well pleased to hear an expression of his opining that my old way of arranging my few hairs was the cheapest and best."; going to Long Island next week, then to Baltimore

Angie fr Sa [Sept 1847?]; mentions husband Edward, Mr. Noyes, Mr. Moore, Brooklin (New York); having 4 dresses made in Brooklin; George Thomas visited; mentions Brooklin, Bowling Green, ice cream, mosquitos; visited Castle Garden "and I seed [sic] the Chinese Junk and the celestials walking on deck and I have met them in the street also. They are distressing looking objects . . ."; ". . . it is difficult to define the degree of my happiness, it is a good degree considering I am in the city - but I enjoy everything I can, for his sake. I am pretty well though the perpetual noise affects my head unpleasantly. . ."; address is 7 Greenwich St; "You ought to know how I need more corded shirts."; "Direct your letters to Mrs. Edward G. Hyde, No 16 Platt St."

Angie fr ?, probably with envelope stamped "5" and postmarked Baltimore MD; 10 Sept 1847; is Sarah married; ". . . I write to send you my daguerreotype. . ."; mentions Lizzy? Morgan, Addison

Envelope for above

Angie fr Sa [12 Oct 1847?]; Sarah has been to Baltimore; saw Addison K. [?]; husband has been reading to her "Tired of Housekeeping" by T.S. Arthur; visited Radnor[?] Park; visited Greenmount Cemetery; "The country around B [Baltimore] is delightful."; saw Cousin Joseph in Philadelphia; visited Academy of Fine Arts [Philadelphia], "beautiful paintings", and Old State House, and "Returning we saw the Odd fellows procession of Negros - It was really fine - I noticed two among them with perfectly white skins and hair as wooly as possible."; visited Fairmount, Girard College, and Laurel Hill, "The rest of the evening was spent in listening to some Ethiopian Singers which was sufficiently amusing."

Angie fr Sarah (New York) 20 Oct 1847; possibly goes with loose envelope addressed to Miss H. Angeline Lord, Lyme, Conn; will be returning home

Envelope for above

Annie fr "cousin" Rose[?] (Baltimore) 11 Oct 1847; visit from Sarah; "I have taken a class in Dr Plummer's[?] Sunday school; refers to Addison [Addie?]; "The reason I sent you this piece of music is because I think the picture looks like Sarah . . ."; thanks for sending book [probably Cowper poems]; sends love to Oliver

Angy fr [Sarah?, with PS from Edward?] (New York) 2 Nov 1847; arrived in the "big city"; mentions Addison; "cordial reception from Mrs. Hyde and her fair daughters"; mentions Marion Hyde, Jane Hyde[?], Caroline Thomas; walked through the India rubber factory "which was highly interesting."; mentions Simeon [Hyde?] age 12; mentions ride to Colchester and to Newport; visited Norwich; "Mr. Thomas's house is beautifully situated on an eminence which commands a delightful view of the surrounding country. . . ." [Norwich?]; Caroline Thomas beautiful, "The way she mimicked Master Huntingdon and his lady would have amused you . . ."; mentions steamboat? Cleopatra; recalls trip to Monson; arrived at New York at noon, "befogged in the East River"; visited Aunt Gillet; mentions "O.H.P.N."; mentions future trip to NO [New Orleans?]; going to Art Museum with Mrs. Payson[?]

Angie Lord (Lyme) fr cousin[?] Rose L[?] Gillet (Baltimore) 20 Nov 1847; depressed, "that most of all evils, despair", plays piano, misses Lyme, ". . . I have but one tye [sic] that binds me to Baltimore and were it not for him I should beg to go and live in Lyme away from the noise and confusion of city life."; joined Dr. Plummer's church; mentions Addison [husband?]; sister Mary sends love

Angie Lord c/o Mr. Peter Lord, Lyme, fr Rose [Gillet] (Baltimore) 10? Dec 1847; "I do love the country [Lyme], it is a glorious place. There you can do just what you please and it is nobody's business."; re health, "Mrs. Iddings has been very ill for the last two weeks with the inflammatory [?] rheumatism, it is a very dangerous disease, one that a person cannot have often, it is in his system and the Doctor says the disease is only lulled for a short time. The danger is that it might go to his heart, and when that does happen he will soon be no more, he complains now of a pain in his heart, but we hope it is nothing but wind [mind?], and that will give one violent pain whenever it collects."; sister Mary "dangerously ill with the asthma", "She was confined to her bed for nearly six weeks."

19a 2 Summary of Letters of Sarah Lord Hyde 1841-1870
[See transcription "Summary Sarah Lord Hyde letters 1841-1870"]

19b 23 41-4 Burr Papers, Sarah Lord Hyde letters 1848

Angie fr Sarah (Brooklyn) 4 July 1848 [in pencil by entire letter, "July 4th and yet Angie neither comes nor writes the reason why. My dear child I am very anxious about you besides being very disappointed. In haste, Sa"]

Annie (Angie?) fr Rosie? ["Lucretia"?] (Baltimore) 26 Feb 1848 "Leap Year did you know it"; death, health; "Sister Catherine is coming to live with us, her Mother died last week very suddenly. She was quite well at her supper and was a corpse in a few hours. Sister Catherine has been quite sick every since. There has been many persons dying in the city of the same disease. I believe it is paralysis. Have you heard of the death of Cousin John Q. Adams. We tried to feel very much grieved but we have such an excessive flow? Of spirits we could not, another think the connection is rather distant. I did not know he was my Cousin, not until after his death."; "Halleck has gone to Pittsburgh, ". . . we thought he was going to marry a great big fat girl, almost ten years older than himself. . . I disliked her appearance very much, cannot exactly describe her figure, you know she was one of these long, tall, short, slim, fat chunky girls, and those kind are always hard to describe well . . ."; asks if Angie doesn't agree that the picture of the sheet music doesn't look like Sarah; "How has Aunt's hand got, we were very sorry to hear of her misfortune."; "How is Carry and her babies and her fat husband.. If we judge the future by the past Carry cannot be very sociable[?] this winter. What has become of Cousin Mary . . ."; mentions O.P.H.N.; describes steamship launching accident in Baltimore "last week", described by William Haysen? Who ". . . went and not only saw the ship launched, but six? Persons were launched into eternity besides about thirty seriously wounded, most of them boys from ten to sixteen and some few men, many escaped with the loss of a leg or an arm but many have died since from their wounds. . . . I cannot tell you how it was exactly, I know a scaffolding fell down on them, they were standing under it to keep them from the rain. Everyone wonders that more were not killed. There is one reason why I love to be in Lyme or someplace like it, you do not hear so much of such things. In the city our hearts have become hardened, we see and hear such things many days, the newspapers are crowded with the account of fights and murders. I cannot tell how it is but I always have a disposition to read and hear the worst of everything, and would think I delighted in the miseries of others."; mentions "sewing society attached to Dr. Plummer's church, ". . . "We have been very successful so far, during the cold weather we work for the poor. There has been one hundred and fifty good warm pieces of clothing given to the poor already. I think that is quite encouraging, now that the weather is somewhat warmer we are making up five articles to sell, the proceeds will go to liquidate the debt of the church, in the winter we will again work for the poor."

Angeline Lord (Hamburgh) fr Carrie (Hadlyme) 4 Jan 1848; asks Angie to visit "for a week or so", first because Cousin Jane Lynde visiting, and "In the second place, the students are home from Yale & cousin Hart Selden has brought home with him a classmate of his, who is going to give us something very fine, in the way of a Temperance address on Thursday Evening. He is a very find singer, as also Cousin Hart & Cousin Jane, and they have some very fine sings at the little partys [sic] we have among the cousins. . . But in the third, last place, Lizzie is coming home tomorrow to stay a few days. . . Joseph will try and sell your horse for you if you wish, and then he will carry you home when you wish to go."; "Little Eddie, your 'canary bird' appears to be getting better, and we hope he is not going to be very deeply afflicted as was his brother

Sam."; "Angie please bring up your music books as they will be in demand."

Envelope, small, addressed to Miss Angeline Lord, Lyme, Conn; postmarked New York 24 Nov

Envelope, addressed to Miss H. A. Lord, Lyme, Con't; postmarked New York 6 Nov

Angeline Lord (probably), fr Sa (New Orleans) 27 March 1848; re New Orleans "This is a delightful place to spend a winter in . . ."; reading Cheever's "Pilgrim in the Shadow of the Jungfrau Alp."; "Edward expects to leave New Orleans the latter part of April . . ."

Angie fr sister Hannah W. Smith (Chicago) 5 April 1848; ". . . having been married according to law by dear brother L.A. [S.A.?] on the 17 Sept Mr. Smith & myself and Fredy? Bade farewell to our dear ones at Monson and arrived the same day in N.Y. where we spent ten days. At the expiration of that time ?S.R.? & wife joined us and we started 'Westward ho!' immediately. We were two days from Albany to Buffalo - arriving there on Friday evening. Here we took lodgings, and the following morning started for the Falls. . . my expectations were more than realized in visiting them. . . Leaving Buffalo we took passage in a large elegant Steamer and performed the tour of the Lakes in five days, a distance of one thousand & fifty miles. We were highly favored with pleasant company & pleasant weather. No one of us enjoyed the journey more than Fred . . . [arrived in Chicago] . . . Brother L.P.? & wife staid with us about four weeks, and saw us ensconced in our own home. . . Chicago itself has not many natural beauties. Still I think it pleasant. It is prairie land for many miles around us, which does not afford much variety of scenery. The city however is regularly laid out with very broad streets, lined with trees, though small & with good plank sidewalks. The two streets running parallel with, and nearest to the Lake, are 150 feet wide with double rows of trees on either side. These streets are for residences, and are fast being built up. We are on Wabash Avenue next to the Lake shore which is one of the above mentioned streets. The business streets re compactly built for a long distance. The census of last Autumn gives seventeen thousand & six hundred - you must count two more for Fredy & I. I do not feel any want of the privileges of N.E. as churches, schools & social enjoyments abound. I have received every attention I could wish from the Ladies here, and already feel myself attached to the place & the people. In a few days more we shall have daily arrivals by Steam Boat from Buffalo, which brings us great many strangers to the place, and a constant increase in population. The Illinois canal from this place to the Illinois river is now open giving us direct communication with N.O. by water. Much of the travel from the South is through Chicago. Will not Sarah return by this route. Telegraphic communication is also completed to N.Y. from this place so that we get eastern news very soon."; friend Miss Mary Ely is visiting now; re husband ". . . I tell you that your new brother Smith (is not that natural) is all that I could desire as husband & father, and it is my firm conviction that you would love him as a brother were you to know him. Fredy is very fond of him and most affectionately styles him father. Charley & Libby my newly adopted children are affectionate and interesting. I think they are the least trouble of any children I ever saw. Their subjection to their parents is perfect."; refers to mother's ill health, accident, "Was it the same hand which had become so disabled before?"; invites Sarah & Mr. Hyde; mentions Elizabeth Hudnall married to cousin H.. Bartlett and gone to New Orleans

Angie fr Mary E. Ely (Chicago) 7 April 1848; been in Chicago nearly a month, 40 miles north of Chicago on lakeshore; weather less severe than past winters; likes Hannah's husband who "is known & highly respected in society. His two sweet children are well disciplined & Freddy appears to repay the kindness of his father with the affection of an own son." Etc.

Envelope for above

Angie fr Sarah (Brooklyn) 31 May [1848?]; write or visit;
[note from E.G?H., probably Edward G. Hyde, husband of Sarah Lord Hyde] urging Angie to visit

Angie fr mother M. Lord [Mehitabel Lord] (Hadlyme) 6 June 1848 [re visit], and on same paper from sister Carrie;
re visit; mother visiting Carrie?, "If she gets homesick I shall write you."; "Joseph thinks cousin Reuben's boat is back on this river, and if so you will find it quite pleasant to return with him."; re newlywed Sarah, "I should love dearly to see how well sister bears the burdens & horrors of housekeeping."

Angie fr mother M. Lord [Mehitabel Lord] (Hadlyme) 21 June 1848, in answer to letter of Friday 17th, Angie visiting sister Sarah (in Brooklyn?); has been well and "have not had a visit from my old friend the sick headache"; asks Angie to visit. And on same paper from sister Carrie; weather very hot, "You know I was always very sensitive to the head and I have suffered exceedingly."

Angie fr sister Carrie (Hadlyme) 3 July 1848; Lizzie wants
"a plain linen gingham dress, something like Sarah's traveling dress. . . Perhaps the plaid ones are more fashionable, but she prefers the plain. The general price here is two shillings per yd. I suppose it is about the same in New York. I have enclosed 4 dollars
if it is not sufficient Joseph will make it all right

21 26 43-7 Burr; Letters to Angie & Sarah 1850

Angie fr Sarah (New Orleans) 4 January 1850; Millie now has 4 teeth; Sister Mary sick; Carrie's health improving; reminisces about Thanksgiving; "Mr. Burr is with you it seems . . ."; re games, playing chess with Miss Peck; "Sister Smith has a daughter"; mentions Adeline; "Nevins is in Norwich at Mr. Abbott school and

Gertrude is in New York boarding at Mrs. Bull's. Mrs. Thomas could not take her and recommended this place."; sudden death of Mr. Lord; gave presents for New Years; called on Mrs. Nichols and saw her sister Jane Wilson who was Sarah's schoolmate in New London, "We had a long chat on 'bygone days'. . . She said the New London girls did not seem to get married very fast. I think so too. So much the better perhaps."; "Edward has quit tobacco chewing entirely and says he begins to feel better in consequence even though he suffered for the want of it 'very considerably if not more so' for a while. The occasion of this decided step was on this wise. Two weeks since at the dinner table which is a great place on some accounts, Mr. Peck abruptly remarked - 'Mr. Hyde if you will quit chewing I will smoking, what do you say'. Here was a question asked you observe do you not? It seemed to require an answer and it received it in these words - Well, agreed - The ladies did not seem to have any great stock of faith in the fulfillment of this engagement and did not fail to express it in full which did not give any particular satisfaction to the gentlemen and may have no little influence in causing them to keep to their agreement. I think I have the best of the bargain though I do not feel highly flattered by the recollection of the fact that my expressed abhorrence of the practice of chewing, which you I think will remember, was without effect. It's all the same to me now however. I have learned to take men's professions at a great discount, at what they will bring in fact, and that is not much I reckon. They 'are not what they seem' or rather 'One foot in sea and one on shore - To nothing[?] constant[?] never'. I would not like to have any of the fraternity peruse this - I trust they will not."

Angie fr [Carrie?; Joseph? adds note at end] (Hadlyme) 24 Feb 1850; went to Colchester via Brother Griffen's; mother sick; stayed in hotel because Maria says her children have scarlet fever; "Joseph visited the Piano Agent . . ."; he met John Hyde in the street; Eva Griffin beautiful; mentions engagement of Angie and "Brother Fitch" [Enoch Fitch Burr], Joseph "has had a long chat with him once or twice."; Joseph enjoyed visit with Sarah; "Joseph thought she [Lizzie] had made very good progress in her music."; Joseph called on Mr. Dickenson to inquire about piano [for Angie?]

Angie fr Sarah (New Orleans) 2 March 1850, No. 5; Carrie's children sick, whooping cough; sister Mary has a daughter; re Millie, "She is a good child generally and with a smart spanking now and then would be quite charming. . . She does not mind a moderate slapping at all, and I do not seem disposed to take her in hand in earnest - Well I do not do exactly as I thought I should I acknowledge. To come to the story, she had broken a glass bottle that I brought from Brooklyn with milk in it. Well I had the fragments to collect and to keep her from touching any of them and my hands were full I assure you, as often as I pushed her away back she came and I finally told her as decidedly as I know how to I would whip her if she did not keep away. She took up my tone in a minute and raised her hand threateningly. I thought it was a little too much of a demonstration so I gave her a tolerably hard slap on her naked shoulder which was temptingly exposed by reason of not having a dress on. She did not cry however, though her flushed face and pouting lip expressed her indignation. Then she turned round and walked slowly to the other side of the room. In a minute she came back, looking as pleasant as a basket of chips and laying her hand on my shoulder peeked round into my face and commenced chatting like a monkey and about as intelligibly. I did the best thing I could do under the circumstances, I covered my face with my hands and laughed. Slapping had proved as ineffectual to keep her away I thought best to try something else. So I pushed her down into a little box just of the size of her [?] and left her to 'sound forth in tuneful numbers' until I had finished my dangerous employment. . ."; studying Italian

Angie? fr Sarah (New Orleans) 25 March 1850, No. 6; Millie "has a strong passion for horses. . ."; Eben Peck has had measles; Eddie had whooping cough; expect to leave New Orleans in April; Edward has business in St. Genevieve; "the Campbells have been here and we all turned out in a body to hear them. Angie fr Shady (Sarah); Sept (probably 1850); Angie has not written before because mother ill; Mr. & Mrs. Poor visit for a week; asks Angie to bring Ellen Griffin; has favor to ask Angie and mother when Angie visits; with envelope postmarked New York, 20 Sept.

Sister Angie fr Joseph Selden, 12 Oct 1850; house break in?, "For fear Mother would be very anxious to return I have thought fit to say to you that some one has been into your house in your absence and judging by appearances should think they had made themselves quite at home. They helped themselves to bread, butter, peaches, &c and besides all that demolished the balance of my [?!]! In addition to the work indoors they took and carried into the cellar some thirty bushels of fine apples. However I do not think your presence at home would help the matter now that the mischief is done so you had better finish your visit."; re delivering piano.

Angie fr Sa (Clintonville) 11 Nov 1850; with envelope addressed to Miss H.A. Lord, Lyme, Connt, postmarked New York, 13 Nov; mentions Mrs. Bailey and her protégé Miss Haddon; Angie may spend winter with Sarah; Millie's sickness, "Before I put her to bed I saw she had a spot on her arm that looked like the effect of a nettle sting. Before I went to bed she awoke crying, apparently in distress. I took her up and found she was nearly covered with fine burning blotches. I washed her in salt water but that seemed to increase her affliction. Finally I applied the Pain Extractor and in a short time she was asleep and remained in that desirable state until the morning when there as no appearance of anything on her."

Envelope for above (postmarked New York, 13 Nov)

Angie from Shady, 1850-52, possibly 4 Dec 1850); health & sickness & medicine; Gertrude with nausea; "Marion has been here since the middle of November. She took care of Gertrude Sunday night but I slept where I was disturbed nearly as much as if I had been nurse myself. Last night I devised a better arrangement. I had a bed made on the floor in the sitting room where Marion slept. I slept on the lounge in the dining room with the door open into my bed room where Gertrude was. She did not have to take medicine only every two hours but she wanted water so often that the chance of sleeping was rather small.. I sent for Dr. Annin[?] a homeopathic physician according to Edward's wish, who I should have mentioned before, left a week ago. [?] said yesterday that Gertrude had a mild form of Scarlet fever. We are all taking belladonna to prevent contagion; The following is a dose - Dissolve 10 pellets in two thirds of a tumbler of water - take a tablespoonful twice a day. If it does not cure it will not kill I think. Dr Ammin's[?] medicines have acted on Gertrude precisely as he said they would which is encouraging. I am surprised at the effect of such excessively small doses. If he does prevent the rest of the family from having the fever I shall think very highly of the new practice. Dr. Ammin[?] practiced on the allopathic system for 15 years and 6 on the homeopathic so that I fell very differently from what I should if he knew nothing of any other system than homeopathy. . . Maria says she shall not leave me until Gertrude is convalescent . . ."; "I have a Camp town mostly engaged which is an immense relief. I have been to hear Jenny Lind. Edward took Marion and myself to attend a charity concert given in the day. I confess I was disappointed not in her voice, for I am sure nothing could be more rich or wonderful, but in her songs. Her famed Echo song failed entirely to charm me. I admired her voice more in singing a piece by Mozart than any other. I wish I could hear her perform sacred music. I think it would be heavenly. When she first came on the stage I thought her positively ugly but she has a fine expression and I presume in conversing she might seem really beautiful. Her figure is faultless and she is very graceful. When she ungloved her hands to play on the piano I thought they were exquisite but it may be that distance lent enchantment to the view. She was dressed in a watered silk of a certain shade of yellow trimmed with lace and sleeves of the same light material. I liked Bellotti exceedingly. The performance of the orchestra under Benedict was undoubtedly fine but I am not capable of appreciating such a melodious jargon. If it had burst unexpectedly upon my ear softened by distance I should have called it wild and beautiful but it did not strike me that way in Tripler Hall – En passant Tripler Hall is a gorgeous affair and must quite dazzle eyes unaccustomed to such splendors.”; etc.

Angie fr Shady (Clintonville) 18 Dec 1850; happy for Angie engaged to E.F. Burr by now; refers to “. . . brother B (I have learnt this fraternal style of address from my Methodist Sisters, so you will have to excuse it in the present instance, . . .”; sickness & health; did not get scarlet fever; “The second day after the rash appeared on Gertrude Millie’s was taken. She had very little fever compared to Gertrude but she has suffered more from other symptoms. The rash did not come out so well on her and troubled her exceedingly with burning and itching. Then she had a sore throat and the glands of her neck under her ear are swollen as though she had the mumps, and indeed Dr. Annin says they sometimes set in after the fever. By the way, he is a very kind, pleasant physician – quite a contrast to Dr. Wederburn[?] in N.O. – and the children like his homeopathic doses not a little. I think Millie took some cold in some way but Dr. A thinks it is a remnant of the disease and says these after symptoms are often more troublesome than the fever. In her case they certainly are. . . I asked the doctor last night if he thought there would be any danger of my sending Nevins who has had a light touch of scarletina, and Gertrude up stairs to sleep and he said none at all so I had the happiness of sleeping in a bed last night and a very pleasant change it was. When one has slept on a sofa for a fortnight, one knows how to appreciate a good wide bed. . . [earlier felt miserable] but Mrs. Bayley, dear good creature, gave me some homeopathic pills which benefitted me exceedingly . . ."; Eliza sick; Margaret sick"; "I do not see as I can give you any suitable advice relative tot he interesting Ely case but I doubt not that your mother will help you to get out of the dilemma beautifully. I could not suggest anything better than an old song and surely nothing could be more appropriate. I am very desirous to have that mysterious passage in your epistle respecting your visit to Carrie's explained."; re sisters, husbands, family, "I believe that is the sweetest relation as you say. Children are troublesome comforts and husbands have too much authority vested in them exactly to suit our proud spirits. . . "

Angie fr Shady (Clintonville) 27-28 Dec 1850; Angie and "Brother Burr" to visit in February; Marion to return, "Edward invited her to spend the winter with me but I cannot say that I seconded that invitation."; Angie to live on Mount Arthur?; Angie & Carrie resolved misunderstanding; Millie's illness; Gertrude had dropsy; [Sarah probably pregnant at this writing]; reading Robin Hood?; " . . . shocked to hear of Mr. Abel Lord's death. Angie (Lyme) fr Shady (Clintonville) 27 Jan 1851?; Angie to visit this week; Sarah pregnant, ". . . I think it would be rather pleasant to place my fine proportions in the attitude of repose . . ."; refers to "'innocent' Cousin Haldat[?]" ; refers to "Brother

Fitch"; husband in New Orleans (probably); "Do not be alarmed if you find me more extensive in appearance than you have anticipated. So speak the truth, I think there is little reason to hope that Brother Fitch will think these are my ordinary dimensions."; "Don't you be so anxious about Millie's bringing up. It is first rate or it will be when you come to take charge of her. You will be able to remedy any evils in her training doubtless."

Miss [Angeline] Lord fr E.F. Burr (Hamburg) 4 Feb 1851; religion, love, death; To Chester for monthly Ministers' Meeting; "Shall I tell you a little about our meeting at Chester, assuming that you will interest yourself in whatever interests me? Mr. Cheesebrough has just [?] his new house. His study which is not a very large one was so full and the day so warm and as large air-tight so generous of its heat that one session of a few hours nearly made me sick. We met at 10 o'clock. Our meetings are always opened and closed with prayer. First each person gave a sketch of the sermons which he had prepared during the last month. Then a long essay was read by one previously designated (Mr. Cook of Haddam) on the bible doctrine of Providence. Its chief object was to show that the Scriptures from the doctrine of Special Providence - that God sometimes interferes directly with the natural course of events to accomplish special purposes. The reading of this essay occupied till dinner. After dinner we proceeded to criticize the production and discuss the subject of it. This part of our session became quite animated. The members of the Association are called upon in succession for their sentiments but discussions are apt to become quite interlocutory before we finish. At this season of the year the Meetings usually break up not far from 3 PM so as to allow those living at a distance to reach home before night. Another essay was to have been read but we exhausted all our time upon the first." Visited sick people all apparently near death, Bradbury, Stoddard, and Robinson; "On Saturday I convened with Bradbury and found him apparently sensible of his alarming prospects for the next work, though I could get nothing from him but monosyllables. Today he [?] unconsciousness and after making two or three efforts to arouse him I was obliged to leave him to his fate. And what a sad fate it is! He has, I fear, lost both worlds. These are sad scenes to one who ha any feeling but yet I consider it a great privilege to have it in my power to visit the sick and dying and at least point them to a better life. I am every day more sensible of the infinite importance of the work of the Christian Ministry and engage in its duties with an ever increasing pleasure[?] There is no employment which seems to me so exalted and happy as this."; I prize very much the assurances which you have given me of your affection. I love you abundantly the more for them."; will mail the letter from Essex.

Angie fr mother? (M. Lord, Hadlyme) Friday morning 7 Feb 1851?; with envelope addressed to Miss H. Angelina Lord, c/o Mrs. E.G. Hyde, Camptown NJ; "My ride to Hadlyme was very comfortable with my warm foot stove and other fixings. . . . Carry is better than she was when you left. Mr. B. was here Monday on his way to the Ministers Meeting. Dea. S. saw him passing invited him to call as he was going to the ferry he would give him a ride."; advise on Angie ending engagement to Ely [?], "The other letter was from E.D. Ely which will be sent to you. I reads the letter and concluded you must write an answer & return the ring & see if you cannot put a stop to his writing. Joseph and Carry think so too."

E.F. Burr ("My dearest friend") fr Angie (Clintonville) 13 Feb 1851; with envelope addressed to Rev E.F. Burr, Essex, Conn, from Camptown NJ, 13 Feb; "I was going to address you by the most ceremonious title I could possibly think of in payment for that formal 'Miss Lord' which first met my eye on opening your letter. Now I ask it as a particular favor that you will call me by a name more agreeable to me. I may be Angie or anything you chose so it is not 'Miss Lord'. But notwithstanding the startling address, I read your letter with an avidity which had you seen it, would have been I think sufficient evidence of how much I prized it. . . . And whenever Michael, who brings the letters every day, came in, I found my heart beating at a most unaccountable rate and then stop most suddenly and painfully when I found there was none for me! . . . I have often wondered why with your high hopes, you consented to settle in North Lyme. I am reminded of a learning[?] society I once attended when this question was discussed by a little circle of gentlemen and ladies. One thought it strange you did not take the professor's chair, &c."; reading "Miss Sedgewick's novel 'Closence'[?]" ; refers to Alexander Dumas, etc.

Mother (M. Lord) from Angie (Clintonville) 14 Feb 1851; medicine; re Burr's visit to mother ". . . I did me more good than homoeopathy!"; "Really I do not know what to do with Mr. Ely's case. I am seriously annoyed for I know of no agreeable exit from this scrape. As to sending back the ring that seems [?] to me, but I will try and mend the matter as well as I can."; I have done nothing about taking music lessons yet, partly because I did not well know to whom to apply and the parlor cannot be warmed[?] sufficiently for me to practice enough to profit by them. Do not expect much progress from me in this respect. I have been to the dentist's and had that tooth drawn which has troubled me so often and one filled. You would have admired my heroism Mother. I have considerable nerve about me although I am not thought to be [?]. Do you know anything of my interesting Cousin H? Joy be with her and may she find entertaining friends elsewhere!"

Angie fr EFB (Hamburgh) 22? 1851; with envelope addressed to Miss Harriet A. Lord, Camptown, N. Jersey, c/o E.G. Hyde, postmarked Essex, 4 Feb; "There is that satisfactory, my own dearest Angie?"; "Your letter was received on Sabbath Eve in rather an awkward condition and under rather awkward circumstances. As I was entering the church for my third service Capt. Brockway met me at the door and with some confusion of manner told me that D. Brown had taken a letter for me from the Office in Essex and that in bringing it over in the rain he had unfortunately wet it and torn the envelope. He ended with producing your letter in a most sorry plight to be [?] - soiled and torn so that a person with a little curiosity and a little principle and a little dexterous manipulation could take out the sheet from its envelope without breaking the seal. Capt. B said that D.B. fell quite [?] at the questionable shape in which the letter had to be delivered and you know that when we are in trouble we sometimes like to have the sympathy of others and so tell them of our misfortune."; re Angie's letter ". .. I was very much gratified by it on more accounts than one but especially on account of its affectionate tone. I believe that I am able to reciprocate fully all the affection which you can spare me."; "As to my ambition of which I somewhat playfully forewarned you; it is not of such a nature as to prevent my being contented for the present in North Lyme or in any other place equally small. It is just large enough for me. I have my time more unbroken for study here than I could have in a larger place and I like quietness and retirement from childhood. I sometimes crave a little more refinement of feeling and language in those with whom I am obliged to come into frequent contact but on the whole I am quite at my ease. I could wish for a little more intellectual sympathy and intercourse than I have had - someone who can sympathize with me in my much loved pursuits and who can talk with me intelligently of them. But this last [?] will not, I trusts, remain long unsupplied."; church news (health, death, attempted suicide, alcoholism), Stoddard was buried, Martyn has delirium tremens "while others say that excessive religious anxiety acting on a weakened mind and body has made him deranged. For some days his life was in danger and he has once or twice it is thought, attempted to destroy it."; "Bradbury died a dreadful death and Martyn seemed very much impressed by it. Immediately after he seemed very much disturbed and called up person's night after night to pray with him. I seem inclined to the opinion that both anxiety and delirium tremens have operated to reduce him to his present condition, as this disease is very apt to attack hard drinkers after they have been weakened from any cause."; "I have just been looking at your miniature. As you may easily believe this is not the first time it has met my eye [?] lip since we parted. But the painted lip is very cold and makes no expressive return to my warm [?]. And I fear that all my [?] of love would fall unheeded upon the ear which I see peering out so modestly under the glossy tresses. But I know the original would not be so frigid and so I manage to comfort myself by the assurance and by the hope of hearing again one day the "ponderous strokes" of that great heart of yours."

23 17 Burr; Lord letter March 1851 [Birth and complications]

Rev. E.F. Burr ("My very dear friend) fr Angie (Lord, Clintonville) 6 March 1851; with envelope addressed to Rev. E.F. Burr; in answer to letter above (in box 22); enjoying being in sister's company; misses EFB; "I spent an evening not long since at the Rev. Mr. Chapman's. He is the principal of the Home Institute here, and has quite a number of lads and misses under his institution. I've been invited to be present at a small exhibition of their attainments. There was declaration and the reading of compositions after which Mr. C. called upon them to arrange themselves for a dance. It was a novel sight to see a clergyman superintending a dance and he seemed to enjoy it nearly as much as those who participated in it. He took particular pains to apologize for the apparent absurdity of the thing and gave very plausible reasons for introducing it into his school. I have just glanced at Noel's[?] Union of Church and State and am perfectly astonished to find 'the church' so fettered and 'hand-cuffed' as we expresses it. I do not know but I should lose some of my anti-sectarianism, upon which I have always prided myself, if I were to become more acquainted with other denominations. I am more in love than ever with our uncorrupted faith as I am disposed to call it. . . .I was very much shocked to hear of the death of those miserable men. It is remarkable they should have accused? In so short a time and if anything could make an impression upon those who remain, a warning so appalling, I should suppose could not fail to do so. How is Erastus Lord? I have feared he would not survive the chilling winds of another March. He used to speak very gratefully of your frequent visits to him. He spent so much of his time alone that he seemed always grateful whenever his friends came to see him. . . My own faith is very weak sometimes and it is well you pray for me. . . The evening has flown apace and if I would not 'waste midnight oil' I must bid goodnight to you, to you who have called me 'your own'. And so I am. What will you have me do for you? Love you? I will indeed. And now will you do a thing for me? Remember me and write very soon for I am athirst for a letter already."

Mrs. M. Lord (My dear Mother) fr Angie (Clintonville) 12 March 1851; with envelope addressed Mrs. M. Lord, c/o Joseph Selden Esq., Hadlyme, Conn, return Camptown NJ Mar 14); birth of Sarah's son; medicine; servants; "The grand event has come off and though my hand trembles badly from my intense anxiety last night I feel desirous of giving you the first possible intelligence of Sarah's welfare. Be it known then that you have another grandson, born into this world of sin and sorrow early this morning, but thus far on life's journey he is taking[?] things remarkably coolly. He is a fine boy, that is not questioned and appears well for one of his age but what is of still more importance to me is that our very dear Sa is I think I may venture to say quite comfortable & everything I believe is going on smoothly. . . The children are all delighted. Millie is almost ecstatic in her demonstration over the little brother. You see Mother my responsibilities are quite increased now that I am a sort of stepmother, overseer generally, always excepting her ladyship Mrs Allen who is inducted into the office of nurse. Dr. Annin the physician in attendance is so kind that one can not help liking him if he is homeopathic. . . May I presume upon your clemency so far as to ask you to remit $25 or so to me. I have not seen the last of that [?] I brought with me, but I am thinking I shall soon and it would be agreeable to have another supply. If I come across anything pretty, may I not get it for our lounge. I am getting in such bad habits, sharing a sofa here. I am afraid I can not exist comfortably when I get home without something to take the place of it. . . And now as to the matter of an Irish girl - May I not bring on home with me if I can contrive it. Don't say nay. I want to go on with my music when I return and the less house work the better, for there's no use in talking of one of my limited strength, practicing when I am tired. . ."

Angie (Dear beloved Angie) fr M. Lord (mother) and Carrie (sister) (Hadlyme) 15 March [1851?]; engagement of EFB and Angie; Angie's other beau Mr. E.; "I paid Joseph at the shortest notice all he would receive."; "Mr. B [EFB?] called and told me he had not heard from you but once since you left which appeared to give him considerable anxiety and it certainly did me for I thought you would not neglect him unless you were sick."; "I hope you hve written something to Mr. E to stop the shower of letters I have received. I have two come to hand since the one I sent on to you in the last one he mentions his coming to N.Y. the middle of April is desirous you should write[?] him before that time - while I was at Mary's she with her husband and Dea. Marvin & Wife visited to Mr. Sheldon Elys while there Mrs. Marvin I her earnest way said to Mary we have just found out Mr. B. is going to gratify us all so much as to take your Sister Angie for a Wife, so you see it has got out, - Mr. Bill has paid that Note if you want some more Money you must write immediately or if you are both sick get some one to write for you. There was one boat went up yesterday . . ."; Carrie visited Saybrook; from Carrie "O Angie I wish you had read Milton. I should like to know how you would like it. It is a great thing. 'Pollok' is small beside it. I have not had such an intellectual feast for a long time. I have not finished it yet but will endeavor to so before you will call for it. I must tell you how smart I have been this winter in the singing line. I have attended quite a number of the singing schools we have had here, and really have quite revived my musical powers, so much so as to convince Mr. Choler? That I am a real? Singer at any rate to remind me of my young days to be flattered a little on that point. I must tell you for your encouragement that when I first commenced I could not sing 10 minutes without experiencing severe pain in my chest and feeling nearly exhausted. But I persevered from day to day until I could sing nearly a whole evening. So I beg you will not leave off singing. By the way they have had a concert in Hamburg, but I cannot tell you how they succeeded. Joseph & I talked of going but we heard that Mr. Ayers was very unpopular there and fearing it might be a failure we did not attend."

Angie fr E.F. Burr (Hamburgh) 17 March 1851; with envelope addressed to Miss Harriet A. Lord, Camptown, NJ c/o E.G. Hyde, postmarked Essex, CT); misses Angie, "My heart has been yearning for you a long time - a very long time."; "Though there is perhaps no occasion to mention the matter to you, yet I cannot do justice to Mrs. Ely's kind feelings without telling you what she said tome a couple of weeks since. As I was passing down the street in the evening to my [?], I met her. She said she had something to say to me if I would not deem it impertinent. 'I wish you would tell Miss Angeline in your next letter, said she, that I give my full and hearty consent and I think she need have no fear the she will not a general consent.' So my commission[?] is discharged. I am sorry to say that Mrs. Ely is now sick and there is some apprehension felt that she will have the lung fever. She was however better last evening and I think she will escape. One or two other persons have very respectfully hinted to me that they know a mystery and very pleasantly and kindly. Your friend I am glad to find did not wait to be commissioned by you. I hope you will however give them a formal commission immediately for their own better satisfaction."

Mrs. M. Lord (My dear Mother) fr Angie, 19 March [1851?]; with envelope addressed to Mrs. M. Lord, c/o Joseph Selden, Hadlyme, CT, from Camptown NJ, March 22; music lesson; newborn; diseases; mail; Angie taking care of Sarah's other children; "But I was greatly surprised to find you had not received my letters. What is the trouble? On the 6th I sent a letter in which I enclosed one for Mr. B. and one th 12th another for you. I am afraid Michael spilled them out of his pockets. I have not the smallest confidence in that man, and for the future I should take my letters to the Office myself. It is a thousand pities to lose so many of my valuable letters. The first to Carrie was brimful, not to say anything of the one to Mr. [B?] and that for you contained news of the greatest kind which I am in hopes you may have received before this."; re Sarah's newborn son, "He is a week old, and when aged three days weighed 8-1/2 pounds, has the jaundice now, but was considered remarkably well looking. Sarah we thought was getting along very finely when until a few days ago when she seemed to have some difficulties which rather retarded her progress, and today she appears to have taken some cold I think. She has not got a very efficient nurse, and she thinks all the while of Mrs. Baker and I imagine she would get along rather better if Mrs. B. was here even if she did not actually manage better. The imagination has something to do you know in a patient's recovery. I hope however this little fever and chilliness she has now will be off by tomorrow and I may be able to give you a decidedly favorable account before I close my letter. I have my hands quite full to rouse myself in the morning, dress myself and Millie in time for breakfast, get the children off to school, a clean collar for this one and handkerchiefs for that, brushing of hair, &c, &c, besides in general a vigorous and unceasing effort to keep them from raising Neptune. Every night I put Millie to bed away in parlor chamber, bring down the light and leave her to [?] sleep as she best can. To be sure I listen a few minutes in the hall and keep up a good degree of attention

through the evening but except last evening she has never cried at all. I expect she will learn some fine habits under my tuition. Indeed Sa says she has improved already. She is a nice child of her nature, that is not to be questioned, and I think so all the more now that I have the care of her. A saucy young one too. She calls me 'Angie' as if she were ten years my senior, but I believe she has an idea she is saying Auntie and there is not much difference to be sure. She has more temper & spirit than the commonality[?] but of course I keep it in beautiful subjection. How I should like to see her with the other nieces & nephews. She say she is going to see little Georgia & Uncle Joseph. I wrote to Carrie an acknowledgement of my indebtedness to Joseph for looking after a piano for me and a few reflections as to securing one . . . If it is not asking too much, I want Joseph to inform Mr. D. that he may hold himself in readiness to bring one of Gilbert's pianos $265 if you think it can be got nicely[?] into our parlor with a music stool, we will say by the first week of April. I may not be home by that time, but we can let him know a little more definitely before that time, and I am anxious to have it as soon as possible on my return. I am not precisely discouraged in regard to my music, but I had no idea it was such a labor. I thought of it as an agreeable diversion, but I assure you it is anything else. If so many had not accomplished it before me I should think it deserved to be ranked as one of Hercules labors. It seems as if I had only been unlearning so far, I am only in my A.B.C.s yet. But I blunder on, my love of music and earnest desire to accomplish something in it, bear me up wonderfully. I would like to stay and finish my quarter. My practicing is a little interfered with just now but I hope soon to resume it in earnest. . . And you [Carrie] like Milton. I am glad you are reading it. It is refreshing to read something one really likes. Do you remember Bishop Heber's[?] 'Lines to his Wife'? I think they are very charming. I have not read much of late. My eyes are rather weak. And when I do it is generally a little from "Howe's[?] history of England."; re Angie's other admirer, "Truly Mr. E. is very lavish of his epistolary effusions. I think he must write from the force of habit. I thought a letter I sent him two or three weeks since would dispel any mist he might have over his eyes. But that does not trouble m as much as to think that my letter has not reached Mr. B (EFB)."; March 21, "I could not write yesterday for Sa seemed so very sick. . . She had a very high fever with chills, headache and all the appearances as I thought of a [?] fever, but this afternoon

she has had a very sweet[?] sleep & the Dr pronounced her better and I hope it is so. . . "

Angie fr Carrie (Hadlyme) 20 March [1851]; re mail schedule; Mother has "gone to Brother Griffin's this afternoon and will spend the Sabbath. I find she has a singular fancy for attending her own church. Perhaps you can account for it. She has not been to hear Mr. Goodwin but one half day."; Joseph in Saybrook all week; death in family, "Our old Grandmother Kirtland died on Monday. She was a lovely Christian. I think she had more of the spirit of our blessed Savior than anyone I ever knew. Mother Selden returned with Joseph. She will remain with us a week or two. She feels quite broken up. . . . Lizzie will be home in two or three weeks to spend a short vacation. She wrote in her last letter that she was nearly discouraged with her progress in music and thought she would have to spend at least two years there, before she could teach."; more re Milton, "I am more delighted with 'Paradise Lost' every page I read and I do not think one perusal will satisfy me at all, and if you can conveniently purchase a copy for me before you return I shall be much obliged."; Joseph writing to Mr. Dickinson [re piano for Angie?]."; re EFB, "I should like to have you inform Mr. B. when you see him that his Hadlyme friends are quite innocent of the charge of divulging his secret. Are you sure that Mr. Ely [Angie's admirer] still persists in the fancy he has taken to send you some remembrance of his affection almost every week!"

Angie fr M. Lord (mother) (East Haddam) March 21 1851; answering Angie's letter about Sarah and baby; servants; money; "About the lounge I do not believe Morley has done anything about it, if so think I had better tell him no0t to [?] and get one in Essex ready made - I wrote you in my last what I thought about the Irish girl. I still wish you to do something about it, Carry told me her Grandmother Kirtland was dead and also thought it very probable I might get the girl Mrs. Selden had if she should break up housekeeping. I enclose thirty dollars in this letter . . ."

E.F. Burr (My dear Mr. Burr) fr Angie (Clintonville) 21 March 1851; with envelope addressed to Rev. E.F. Burr, Lyme CT, return address Camptown NJ, March 22; postmarked Lyme

CT, March 24; Angie been away nearly 8 weeks; Sarah sick; "It is impossible that I should leave Sister Sarah next week. She is now very sick, a cold taken when she was already an invalid has produced a violent fever and I am afraid it may have a long course. For two days past I have suffered a most painful anxiety and feel all that depression which the suppressed voice, careful tread and the sight of suffering will produced in the most hopeful. Perhaps my solicitude is greater than the case demands. I know I should feel quite differently if I were home with tried friends, but here all are strangers and I do not know how much confidence to place in their skill in attendance upon the sick."; physician hopeful, Sarah improving; Angie must stay for 2 or 3 weeks "before I can think of leaving her with her little infant entirely at the mercy of servants and a nurse. . . I am very sorry I cannot avail myself of your company and protection on my return, but as there will doubtless be boats in the river by that time, I apprehend no difficulty in coming alone."; Angie's admirer Mr. Ely, "I am of course highly gratified by Mrs. Ely's approbation as well as Mrs. Marvin's which she expressed to Sister Mary, by the way perhaps I should have asked their consent. But how did the matter reach the ears of the public? Through that letter? Well, never mind."

Mrs. M. Lord (My dear Mother) fr Angie (Clintonville?) probably 24 March 1851; with envelope addressed to Mrs. M. Lord, c/o Joseph Selden, Hadlyme CT, return address Camptown NJ, March 27; Sarah's health improving, but slowly, other symptoms, has not been out of bed, "The baby, poor little creature, has had the sorest mouth I believe anyone ever saw. One night he cried so as to keep Sa awake the whole night, not to say anything of Mrs. Allen, who did not bear the trial of her patience very well. But he has got through the worst of it we think."; nursing, ". . . she [Sarah] is afraid she will not be able to nurse the baby again. It is the natural effect of the fever, but the Dr. has always encouraged her to think it could be obviated. Poor Sa has got very weak, nervous & low spirited . . . This morning she took her first lesson in fainting, not on a large scale, but the novelty of the thing, did not compensate for the disagreeableness of it. I do not know what she needs. I sometimes think Lyme air. Could you not cook up a little of it, and send it to her? Then she has no appetite, and if she could have some of Mother's nice fixings, I believe they would certainly be potable."; thanks for $30 included in last letter; Sarah out of bed for a few minutes, doctor [probably Dr. Annin] confident; There are several things rather trying to me, and what is worse Mrs. Allen says she thinks it is possible Sa may have a gathering of the breast. She does not tell her so, and the Dr. says he hopes not, and all I can do is to hope so myself. I wanted a little of your sympathy & have written this little corner [written at end of letter lower left] not to read to Sa."

Angie (My dear Angie) fr E.F.Burr (Hamburgh) 28 March 1851; with envelope addressed to Miss Harriet A. Lord, Camptown NJ); received letter; misses Angie; "Much as I wish to see you, I do not wish to purchase happiness at the expense of your duty to your sister."; re engagement, "I do not know how the North Lyme public have gained their knowledge of 'the matter'. I am quite sure, however that your first letter to me did not communicate it. Your Mother thinks that your cousin found the secret too mighty to keep without [?] assistance of Dea. Lord's family and that they felt the need of some additional auxiliaries; so the whole parish can now divide the burden of it among them. This is not your Mother's opinion verbatim but her opinion paraphrased by myself. I had supposed that your friends in Hadlyme had very properly given some intimation until I received your letter."; reading, "You speak of having read B. Noel's famous book. I am glad of it as I have not had the opportunity of reading it myself and yet should be very glad to know something about it. He has sacrificed much for the sake of his opinions on the union of Church & State, and this fact adds much to their weight. We, in this country [?] having had, since the early days of the Colonies, any religious Establishment, are apt to look on the fact of its inexpediency as almost too slim and elementary to need the support of formal argument. But it seems far otherwise in the Father Lands. And Noel is doubtless just the man by his birth and talents for leading a crusade against the portly yet mischevicious old gentleman with his well-to-do-in-the-world look who brought him up. Speaking of books suggests to me quite a little loss which I experienced some weeks ago by a fire in Middletown. I had sent 14 or 15 books there to be bound; and the bindery took fire and they were all consumed. Some of them were French Mathematical books of great value. I am sorry to find that I am not alone in the [?] but that other ministers in the vicinity have lost also."; misses Angie, "I do not dream of you, for I do not possess the faculty of dreaming. But I think of you very much and love you just as truthfully and tenderly as if all my nights were dreams and all my dreams were of you. Do you know that you have a larger place in my heart than all my kith and kin, however near? Did you ever hear of a philosopher talking so cordially?"; perhaps meet Angie on her return home

She had a severe attack of Rheumatism while here. Edward sent for the Homeopathic physician in Camptown and his medicine was 'beautifully triumphant'. I am prodigiously sorry that you cannot establish your faith in Homeopathy on the basis of a personal cure - Nevertheless I must be indulged in a hearty laugh over Carrie's tea[?] [refers to previous letter from Angie]. . ."; received the $20; Mr. Chapman to have a "grand May celebration" on Thursday; Mr. Chapman's house beautiful, charming

Mr. Hyde fr Angie, 7 April 1851; part cut off and missing; Sarah's health after childbirth?, "I deferred writing, hoping every day to have something more favorable and consoling to offer you. The cold Sarah was so unfortunate as to take threw her into a violent fever but under Dr. Annin's kind and I am disposed to think skillful treatment of it, it left her in a few days. Hew was not however so successful in removing all the effects of it. And superation[?] of the right breast was the final result. A few days since it broke, and Sarah has been much more comfortable, though not decidedly better since. Dr. A. is now apprehensive that she will have to suffer the same process in the other breast. We can not expect a very decided improvement till after that. The young what-shall-I-call-him [the newborn?] has been sadly afflicted with the worst imaginable sore mouth, and for lack of the kind attentions of his lady momma he has made no[t?] very commendable progress in growing good looking or good humored. He is however just beginning to mend his ways and I am not without a faint hope that he may yet be a prodigy."; re Michael [rest cut off]

Mother fr Angie (Clintonville) 8 April 1851; Sarah's health, "Our apprehensiveness was realized and Sa has had one broken breast and we are daily expecting the other will break and still more that the first will break again. Is not this a series of afflictions? I expect you are rady to exclaim 'how has she lived through it!' Well my dear Mama, much better than I feared. She has suffered and today suffers very considerably, which had us to think they will break very soon, but I do not think she has been obliged to endure the pain that many do from the same cause. She thinks homeopathy is the Godsend which has kept her so comfortable and why not! If the devil is to have his due, why not this new art of healing!. Sa sits up two hours or more every day and thinks she should be quite well if it were not for this difficulty. Of course we can not make any calculations for the future. Mrs. Allen tells of some one whose beast broke fifteen times, another five &c. But I confidently hope God hath better things in store for our dear Sa . . . The baby is doing as well as can be expected. It cries considerable, and who would not with no attention from dear mama."; inquires about Mr. & Mrs. Georgia, the Chap mans, Hallock[?], expecting visit from Mr. Peck; ". . . let me tell you what Nevie[?] says, 'What is the reason we don't take medicine to prevent our taking Mother's disease. Why when Gertrude was sick we all took preventive medicine at a great rate?.' Answer not given. Oh wht a torment Millie is! Here she is, squat like a toad on the table beside me, ready to upset the ink for me or anything else I may require."

Angie fr EFB (Hamburgh) 16 April 1851; "I love to tell you how dearly I love you but not so much perhaps as I love to hear from you the expressions of tenderness. I should be sorry to be such a philosopher as not to feel grateful and happy and tender under their influence."; re preaching; re Erastus L., "I think however that he has been troubled with swelling of the feek, which is commonly regarded as a sign of approaching dissolution. . . I have just sent him at his request Dickens's Works; though with some hesitation as I do not think that such works are fitted for his condition . Yet he is so peculiar in his temperament that they may be harmless to him in circumstances when they would be hurtful to others. I purchased them to be taken in homeopathic doses at times when I should be depressed in spirits and overwrought by study and hope he will agree with me in respect to the way in which novels should be read and that the book will serve to amuse some of his lonely [?] moments without abating the spirituality of his mind."; will go to New York to meet with his brothers, "Anniversary Week", suggests Angie come home at that time; saw Angie's mother on Monday; misses Angie

Hyde, Clintonville; entire letter: "New York Apr 19. 1851/ Miss Lord/ Dear Madam/ I have been quite sick or would have been on to see you before this. I have recd from Mr. Hyde a telegraphic dispatch enquiring how his family were. I would have been over today but my own health and a death in my brother in law's family prevent. I wish you particularly to send me word Monday A.M. by Mr. Bailey and at same time send over a letter which was sent to Mr. Hyde about Insurance on the house. I have sent to Evangelist office and they say that the paper is regularly (& has been) sent every week. I hope Mrs Hyde is better, but I wish to know particularly and you'll oblige me much by writing by Mr. Bailey. Give my regards to Mrs. Hyde and say to her I hope now[?] to welcome Mr. Hyde here./ In haste/ Your friend/ John N. Olcott"

Angie fr Sarah (Clinton) 6 May 1851; 2 pages, half of one missing; referring to Angie's apparently entertaining letter, "Have you received a new faculty or is it merely your old one sharpened and refined by intercourse with a superior being (referring to the clericus[?], ? In this demonstration of curiosity I prove my descent from our Great Grandma so conclusively that Agassiz himself will not be able to make it out that I am of Monkey extraction. Therefore I flatter myself that you will not now hesitate to own our relation. I cannot but admire the heroic coolness and contempt of danger which you evinced in the midst, not of battle but of Wasps." ; "James Hyde spent last Sabbath here and read to me two of his sermons. Oh Anie, what a feast was that. It was in very truth soulrefreshing. The subjects were taken from Matt. 5-6 and John 21 from the 15th[?] to the 18th verse." ; re Angie's engagement to EFB, "James is perfectly 'au fait' (not in the sense in which we generally use it) to your engagement. He says he learned it from Mrs. Young who learned it from Professor Olmsted who, probably, learned it from the domine[?] himself. O Angie! What a world-wide renown you are destined to have! Ms. Young has met his reverence at the Professor's and doubtless is the lady to which he referred when the untimely rumbling (I wanted a word but that was not it) of the Carriage prevented me from hearing the interesting remark of the reverend Sir -."

EFB "My very dear friend" fr Angie (Clinonville) 4 April 1851; with envelope addressed to Rev E.F. Burr, Lyme, Hamburgh, Conn, postmarked April 3; Sarah still sick, "I am watching with a great deal of interest the effects of homeopathy, and hardly know as yet whether to place myself on the list of believers in that fanciful science or not." ; re Clintonville, "I am not enough of a traveler to be able to say that the hills of my native place are superior to all others, but I can safely say their equal is not to be found in the vicinity of Clintonville. I will admit however that there are some beautiful hills in or near Meriden, judging from a peep I had at them, from the window of the cars on my way from Hartford to New Haven - but that is in Connecticut and I am not disposed to quarrel with the towns, if it be admitted our state has the precedence in beautiful scenery." ; "Ah, I am so glad you are not a philosophic [see a previous letter] - what a waste of my affections it would be to bestow them on a calm, passionless stoic!"

Angie fr Shady (Sarah) [Clintonville] 17 July 1851; with envelope addressed to Miss H.A. Lord, Lyme, Cont, postmarked New York, July 18; death of child, entire letter: "Thursday, July 17th/ Dear Angie; This morning we laid our dear little boy to rest in his 'dreamless bed'. I should have said his mortal part for O how unlike my darling, warm with life and beautiful with intelligence, was the soulless clay we have this mournful day committed to the earth. O this is not my child was my involuntary exclamation every time I looked upon his lifeless form. Death never seemed to me so much like the king of terrors as when he came for my sweet baby. I am going to carry my sick heart to the home of my childhood not to make you partake of my sorrow but that I may become if possible a sharer with you in the happiness that I always fancy is to be found there. Edward proposes to accompany me taking Nevie along to return with him in two or three days. Gertrude is in Norwich. I hope we shall not occasion you more trouble than our visit will be worth. I am somewhat afraid of it even allowing it the greatest possible value. We think of leaving Monday but we may be detained here longer. As I have not been to bed for three nights I think I had better retire early, so good night to you and my dear mother. Shady"

As yet I have not been very successful in obtaining the help that I want. The labours having been all previously engaged."; misses Angie

EFB fr Angie, 21 July 1851; with envelope addressed to Rev. E.F. Burr, Westport, Ct, postmarked Lyme, July 22; loves and misses EFB; re death of Sarah's baby; health of Mr. Ely's daughter; re Sunday service; "There is no parish news except Mr. Burr's mysteriously sudden disappearance! 'did you know that Mr. B. had left? It was very unexpected. I was very much surprised' &c &c. The ladies who discussed the matter at the sewing society, I was told, circumstances did not permit me to be present, referred I to Mr. & Mrs. Harrison's absence. Leander came in this morning desiring me to tell him the reason of your abrupt departure & when you were to return. He had heard you were coming back in about three weeks. How he came into possession of the information is quite beyond my power to guess even, unless birds have learned to talk."

Burr, Westport, CT, postmarked North Lyme, Aug 2; "I have just finished a re-perusal of your letter, and have just closed the case which contains your miniature . . ."; "Sarah has been with us, and other visitors have made the week a somewhat busy and exciting one. Mr. Hyde expressed himself exceedingly disappointed in not meeting you and declared he would not have come, had he known you were not to be here. . . . In my fondness I will sometimes talk of you to Sa, and she has promised to think highly of you in exact proportion to your regard for me. Mirabile dictu! What an incentive to your love!"; regarding EFB's letter of 26 July 1851 above, "Now really I am quite disturbed over your account. I fear so much exertion and exposure to the sun will prove anything but beneficial to your health."; re Mr. Olmsted's death and funeral, "I have not heard anything in regard to his death. I had not thought he would die so soon but to one who suffered as he did, and who was, I believe, so ripe for Heaven, it must have been a joy and not a grief to die. But his poor family, they are indeed plunged into the depths of affliction. They are all old enough to profit by it and to obtain consolation from the highest, the infinite source and most earnestly do I hope they may. Have you ever noticed what a thoughtful face Ellen, the eldest, has?"; "My Sabbath school teaching is becoming very pleasant to me. I must confess that on the first Sabbath I wished myself in our Bible class again. Not that my pupils were dull, or that their recitations imperfect, on the contrary, their lessons were well covered by the head, but the heart had had nothing to do with it. This pained me and I felt somewhat discouraged. But now I only hope it may be as pleasant and useful to them s I feel it is for me."; re when Mr. Marvin will come, possibly refers for wedding arrangements.

Mehetabel Lord ("My dear Mother") fr Sarah (Clintonville) 29 Aug [1851?]; with envelope addressed to Mrs. Mehetabel Lord, Lyme, Conn., postmarked New York, Sept 1; re furniture, servents[?], sun protection, health; entire letter: "Clintonville, Aug 29th/ My dear Mother/ I was very happy to receive a letter from you written with your own hand and to know that you were getting along so well also./ I am exceedingly disappointed that Angie has not made her appearance here - I hope she is well and happy. I am sorry to say that I have been rather unsuccessful in obtaining a bureau for Angie. I went over to New York on Wednesday and was informed that it would not be finished before a week but there was a mahogany one with three drawers that I could have on Saturday. I thought Angie would surely be here very soon and I would wait and consult her about it but as she has not I believe I will have the mahogany bureau sent over Monday. I did not think of having difficulty in finding what I wanted for her and I am quite disturbed about it. I am afraid Angie will be sorry that she left it to me. I did leave my veil[?] but I do not see how you can send it to me./ I hope your Peggy is not going to be light-fingered. Millie is very well and I think has bleached[?] considerably. I keep her bonnet on her head as much as possible and long-sleeved aprons./ I have not had much of the head ache since I came home but I am rather hoarse from a cold I took last Sunday, how I can not tell. Mrs. Goodman is here with all her children and I find some difficulty in writing with so many around. I send Carrie a box of Homeopathic medicines for her headache and hope she has received it and is finding great relief from the use of them. I shall look for a letter from Angie quite anxiously. Give a great deal of love to Sister Mary and Carrie and tell them I shall be excessively disappointed if I do not see them before I go south. I asked Millie if I should send her love to Grandma and she says "Yes - Do write me to grandma". I thank you dear Mother, for your remembrance of me in your prayers and remain your Affectionate/ Daughter Sarah"

Mehetabel Lord (My dear Mother) fr Sarah (Clinton) 9 Sept 1851; furniture, sickness (dysentery); entire letter: "Clinton Sep 9th 1851/ My dear Mother/ I wrote you a week ago from last Saturday and have received no answer. Angie has not been here and I have not heard from her either so that I begin to be distressed. Do relieve my anxiety if possibly. I wrote you that the bureau would be sent on Monday because I was told that it would be sent then but the man told Edward that it could not be sent until Wednesday. I was so angry about it I would have given a good deal to have been able to tell him I would not take it at all. I hope it has not troubled you as much as it has me. I cannot think what has become of Angie. The dysentery is all about here and some have died from it. There have been sixteen deaths in three weeks which is a great mortality for so small a place. Give my love to Sisters, brothers, nieces and nephews and believe me/ Your affectionate daughter/ Sarah"

Angie fr Sarah (Clintonville) 22 Sept 1851; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, Lyme, Conn., postmarked New York, Sept 23; "I am not a little disturbed when I reflect that it has been more than a week since I was so happy as to receive your letter. To say truth my heart was quite sick with anxiety and hope deferred. I had a violent fit of blues, 'horrors' perhaps you would say."; re Angie's sickness; asks Angie to visit before she (Sarah) goes south; re furniture, "The bureau which I ordered for you was a mahogany one with three drawers and a mirror on the top. The price was then dollars and it was the best I could do for you. I was sadly [?] from my accustomed serenity by the faithlessness of the man I had to deal with and if he has not sent the one he engaged to I say 'bad luck to his imprudence'. But I do not see as I can know until I see it."; "I have spent the last week at the 'Orange Mountain Water Cure'. Don't be alarmed. My health is very good. But Mrs. Bailey has been out of health for some time, and took it in her head to try Hydropathy. With her fair speech she persuaded Edward to send me with her. I was obliged to leave Millie at home and so it turned out a poor pleasure. Notwithstanding, I contrived to enjoy it quite well. It is a very pleasant place with beautiful walks in the woods. My appetite improved wonderfully and I grew fat on graham breads and vegetables. I had all my old notions on diet rubbed up for me and now I intend to try the hydrophathic system in order to keep well for I think it is excellent for that [?] if I was sick I would prefer Homeopathy and Dr. Annin. There were all sorts of people there from all parts of the world. Good bad and indifferent. I became acquainted with Mr. And Mrs. Marvin, riends of E. and delightful people they were and I enjoyed their society exceedingly. If I should go into society more I should like it better but when I get home I like to stay there. I am losing a good deal of my aversion to making new acquaintances I think. Perhaps you would like to know something about hydrophathic treatment. Well, at six in the morning jump into a bath of 72 degrees temperature. The bath maid rubs you as violently as you like. After two minutes passed in rubs and shakes you emerge from the watery element into a dry sheet and undergo another rubbing which puts you in good humor again. At eleven a sitz bath which is an amusing performance. At four a dripping sheet which is, as you would imagine, a wet sheet wrapped about your entirely exposed person - A thorough rubbing ensues, then a dry sheet, then another rubbing and the deed is done. At 8 in the evening a foot bath and you have done very well for the first day. After you have tried this for a week or two you can be indulged in a 'pack' after this fashion. A wet sheet is rolled tightly around you, pinioning[?] your arms to your sides in a delightful manner. Then 1 or 2 woolen blankets are added, then a comfortable. Your teeth chatter for 10 minutes then you feel excellent. When you get into a thorough perspiration you can be unrolled and take a good bath after which you feel better, or at least you ought to. Then there is the plunge bath, the wave[?] and the 'douche'. This is a stream of water pouring on the back from a height of 10 or 15 feet. Take moderate exercise before each bath and exercise afterward until warm. Are you a mind to try it?";

Angie from Sarah (Clintonville) 13 Oct 1851; with envelope addressed to Misses E.F. Burr, Lyme, Ct; postmarked New York; re hydropathy, "In my descriptions of the various kinds of baths in use at the 'Orange Mountain Water Cure,' which you are pleased to notice, I can not say that I spoke from experience except in the case of the Sitz. I can testify to the agreeable and amusing nature of that. If you are skeptical I can convince you when I have the opportunity. I follow your excellent advice in regard to hydropathy and I think you will do well to take mine in respect to Gymnastipathy which I beg leave to say is a very nasty [?] for one so delicate as yourself. You are in danger of [?] your 'hopely'[?] to death literally. I therefore counsel you to take Homeopathic classes[?] at your new Pathy[?] if you find it agrees with your and if otherwise discontinue it altogether."; Carrie visited, sister Mary not coming until spring; "Your experience as a minister's wife amuses me wonderfully. So you are determined not to have greatness thrust upon you. I am truly glad the people are waking up. I suppose they will be making you a life member of the Bible & Missionary societies next. It affords me inexpressible pleasure to learn that you continue to be 'the only perfect family in town'. I am anxious the family characteristic should be kept up. Ah! If I could come in and make one of your number! But 'it's no use doing nothing at all'."; Millie had dysintary, now has a cold.

Angie fr Sarah (Clintonville) 20 Nov [1851?]; disappointed that Angie did not visit; leave on Monday for New Orleans,

"Edward having obtained a transfer to the Georgia which stops at Havana[?]. I dread the voyage very much for I expect my usual quantum of sea sickness, notwithstanding the three bottles of Homeopathic medicine I obtained from Dr. Annin, and what I am to do with Millie I know not. She, in her blissful ignorance, says she 'shall be 'lighted to go'."; re Millie and her doll, "She treats it as though it was as much a sentient being as herself and reminds me very strongly of bygone days when rag babies were my chief delight."; re photograph of Millie, "You will have to wait until Spring for Millie's daguerreotype."; re reading, "I have some leisure now and improve it in reading Robertson's History of Charles the Fifth. It is exceedingly interesting. What are you reading?"; Edward going to NY for last time before leaving; not certain if take the Georgia; Nevie sick; infant, "Young Lovemouth, (Ed's last name for baby) is getting along finely on Farina. He has gained two pounds in the last two weeks."

Angie fr Sarah (Lafayette) 26 Dec 1851; Sarah & family to going to New Orleans on the steamer Winfield Scot, 7-1/2 days, "I suppose we must call it a pleasant passage yet I think I never suffered more from the sea sickness."; Merry Christmas, "Santa Claus was very generous to me. A mother of pearl 'porte monnaie,' a gold thimble and 'Egypt and its Monuments' by Dr. [Francis L.] Hawks make up the sum of my indebtedness to St. Nicholas. . . Millie went into extacies at the sight of her stocking, Christmas Morning. She found in it a set of cups & saucers etc, a flute, a 'woolly dog,' a baby & cradle and a wash bowl & pitcher all rather 'wee' than otherwise. I am glad to learn that you duly observed the time honored 'festerval' of Thanksgiving day."; re reading; re New Orleans[?], "I went down this morning to Chartres St. to go with Edward to see Mr. Bell's paintings. He has three large rooms hung full of beautiful choice pictures and it is something of a feat to spend an hour in such company. The Art Union 'cannot touch it with a ten foot pole'. It was such a detestable walking[?] I wished myself at home a good many times. I am sorry there was not good taste enough in the Country to prosper the Bloomer Costume. Strange that ladies who are supposed to like cleanliness, should prefer to wipe muddy pavements with their satin skirts to wearing the dress of Turkesses[?]."; re Carrie's health, "Do her homeopathi8c doses do her any good? I have obtained a prescription from Dr. Sunderland which I want her to try if she is not benefited by Dr. Annin's medicines. I am sorry for your foots. I don't remember what you used for them but I will send you some to try. It seems to me it was Arnica that you used when at Clintonville so I will send some of that and Belladonna, if I do not forget it."; Sarah & Millie have bad colds, "I had chills and fever one night and had to take a seidlitz powder - bah! - and keep my bed one whole day. Dr. Sunderland is teetotally opposed to Homeopathy so I practice it 'sub rosa'."

Metetable Lord (My dear mother) fr Carrie (Hadlyme) 5 Dec 1851; disappointed mother & Angie did not come for Thanksgiving; "Mother Selden & Lizzie spend Thanksgiving week with us."; cold weather, "Yesterday we went up to Mr. [?] to attend the funeral of their little boy who died of croup and we found it very cold indeed. We called at Uncle Franklin's a few minutes."; re food, and sewing "Joseph is very desirous of getting the recipe for curing Beef, in your recipe book, and if you would get Angie to copy it off and sent it up by Tuesday's mailing you would very much oblige him. He says if you will come up the first of the week he will give you a Ribspear[?] or spare rib. I am going to turn my cloak and I wish Angie would be so good as to advise me a little as to the manner or fashion of putting it together. I thought I would like to cut it like Angie's and quilt it like hers if I could. . . I have so much sewing to do before I can come an then I suppose I shall have to come along, for Joseph and I cannot both leave home together."; thanks mother "for making my sheets."; asks for "some white yarn. I want some to foot up two pair of stockings and to finish the pair I commenced last winter. . . If Angie has any little strip of velvet that she is not intending to use, I should like to trim some loose sleeves for my green dress, but it is not important. Joseph says he is going to suggest to Mr. Noise [Noyse?] the propriety of exchanging with Brother Burr . ."

Angie fr Sarah (N Lafayette) 20 Jan 1852; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, Lyme, Con't, postmarked New Orleans, Jan 23; cold weather, 14 degrees, "Imagine yourself sitting in a room where the wind has perfect license to come in through crevices innumerable and there is only a small grate for fire and you will easily credit me when I tell you that I am shivering though I have my double gown on over my dress and my hands are nearly stiff."; re medicine, "Did you receive the pellets I send for your chilblains and have you been benefited by the use of them? Has Carrie discovered any effect from her trial of Homeopathy? If she has not I should like to have her try Dr. Sunderland's prescription. He is confident that it will relieve her and I am not so jealous for Homeopathy that I am not willing she should be cured in any other way. I believe that Homeopathic medicines would do it if they were the right ones. I called on Mrs. Goodrich some time ago and she said she had been greatly benefited by the use of Homeopathic medicines. She said she had been taking them a year for headache and now she can read all day when she has [?] which she could not think of formerly. Last week the synod met and Miss Peck, Mrs. Sunderland and myself attended one of their meetings. After a sermon by one of their members they proceeded to business and it was rich to sit by and hear the goings on. There were many men of many minds and I was not a little amused at their attempts to settle a question."; 8 infants baptized at church; Millie in good health; Marian Hyde married; re pregnancy & infant death, "Mrs. Goodman has had a premature confinement. The baby lived but a short time."

He has gone to Louisville on business and was three weeks on the way. You see how very sentimental I am still!"; visited his brother who is apparently building a new house, "The house had been delayed by the absence of some of the workmen . . . Still my brother expects it will be ready for use soon."; "Your letters should be addressed to Westport which will be my head-quarters. I expect to be oscillating between the two places for a while but your letters will not be long delayed at this office."; farm[?], re cutting hay, thinning out grove of young trees, fences, "timber up the barn"; "I hope you will romp about with your sister all over Mr. Hyde's farm and get to be extremely rugged by the end of the vacation. I am about to aim at a similar result. I am very well now. The country about here is swarming with New York people. The singing birds with which Lyme abounds have long since been siphoned[?] away and my own particular songs I miss very much."

You know you can hand Moolie[?] over into neighbor Latham's care and visit sisters M & C which will please them not less than it will me. About two hours after parting from you we reached New Haven, and after a fatiguing through pleasant day we went on to Southport and spent the night at Capt. Thorp's the father of Mrs. B. Burr. At eight in the morning we started for New York. Mr. Burr did not leave me till he saw me safely on board the cars for Newark, and then we parted. I with the tears almost in my eyes for indeed three or four weeks seems a long time to be absent from my husband. I reached Mount Hermon about two o'clock and got fairly into Sa's room before she knew I was there. . . . Indeed I was tired out, but I am getting somewhat rested

Angie from Sarah (Mount Hermon) August [1852?]; entire letter: "Mount Hermon August/ My dear Angie,/ Agreeably to my promise I send you today a piece of my dress. I felt so badly about your coming up to Joseph's with Margie[?] that I regretted I had made you this visit but Carrie hushed me up so I can say nothing but that I hope when I come again I shall not be so troublesome to my friends. I left Joseph's on Wednesday though I very much wished to remain until the next day and o in Parker's boat - but I was afraid Edward would be waiting for me as he was, in NY, and Carrie said she would take me to Goodspeed's herself as Joseph had gone down to Saybrook in the morning not expecting it would clear up sufficiently for me to leave. When I arrived in NY Edward did not come to the boat quite as early as he generally does and I too hastily, concluded he was not coming at all so off I packs for home - Arrived in Newark I meet Nevie who communicates to me the intelligence that his father was in New York waiting for me. What am I to do says I - O says N, 'Father will take care of himself, let us go home'. Unhappily, I took this advice and in consequence Edward did not come home until this morning. What a goose am I. Write soon, please, to your aff sis/ Sa/ Love to all - hope dear Mother did not have a very severe turn of headache."

Angie fr Sarah (Mount Hermon) 2 Oct 1852; bookcase arrived; interested in "The Infant Pilgrim"; enjoys sewing in the day and reading in the evening; re fixing Mrs. Holmes watch; Carrie will have arnica plaster [medicine?]; "Thursday Oct 7th - I have been reading this evening in the Observer of today what a sad affair is this 'flare up' between Dr. Parker and Henry Ward Beecher or rather Mrs. Stowe. You have the advantage of us as you have both sides of the story. I should like to know what Mr. Burr thinks of it." [re abolition?]; "I went across the way this afternoon to get Miss Wooley to make a night shirt for my spouse to match the old one he has. She sews for the society."; "I have finished 'The Infant Pilgrim'. The termination was quite unsatisfactory to me."; "I have been quilting a hood for Millie today. The Bailey girls have been spending the day with Gertrude and Millie has been playing with them all day so that I have been quite alone and I enjoyed it exceedingly. The children have been playing in the garret and such racing and such screaming as there was reminded me of the days of my own juvenility. Angie, do you remember how we used to ride our steeds around that venerable chimney?"; "Monday eve - Mr. Bruin has resigned but intends to remain here I suppose, as he has purchased the house where he lives. We ought not to suffer for lack of preaching having two ministers in the place. Yesterday Mr. Taylor preached for us. He is recommended to us for our minister by Classis. Edward was exceedingly pleased with him and proposes that we should take him to board, as he is a widower. Ah me! I hope not. I went to Newark this evening and made one grand call - The lady is a minister's wife, like yourself, but unlike yourself she has three children, the oldest being about Millie's age. You cannot say but that she has prospects . . ."; re Angie's "epistolary diary", "It is strange Angie as you say, that we do not speak more often of heavenly things. Why it is I know not. He who knew what was in [?] said 'Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh' but it seems to me that I am an exception to that rule, but perhaps it is because I know so little of my own heart."; comparing apples from Edward's garden to Angie's; re chickens; "My health is improved owing perhaps to my having taken my half pint of wind and six grains of quinine so faithfully. Was it not a bitter dose to take three times in one day? I have been making quince jelly and marmalade and I wish you could pronounce upon its quality."; "Do you know we have the greatest pet kitten agoing? She is charmingly playful and frisky. Millie had the tallest sort of a frolic with her before she went to bed. Perhaps you might have been as much amused in looking on as I was. I am making myself a calico dress with a border something like Mother's. I shall think myself pretty smart if I succeed well even with your pattern. I have made one slight mistake already."; re medicine, "I enclose an Arnica plaster to be applied by Carrie to the numerous wounds of her three boys according to a previous arrangement hoping it will prove very mollifying."; re Mary's child [born

1852], ". . . inform me when you write again if Angie is to be the name of her sweet baby."

Angie fr Sarah (Mount Hermon) 2 Nov 1852; re work and health, "My head has troubled me lately some and my mood is exceedingly variable."; John Hyde marriage, "By the way do you know that John Hyde is - is - is married! There, I was in such a hurry to get through with that effort I neglected to furnish two r's to that big word. Marian is blessed with a boy. . . All true happiness in the world is expressed in three words - Godliness with contentment."; "Much obliged to you for your information regarding bee hives. Is Mr. B. as wrathy[?] as you describe him to be at the Observer. I do not like the spirit of it at all - in fact I abhor newspaper controversy on any subject, as I have seen it conducted."; "Nov 4th - This morning Mrs. Bailey wished me to go with her to Clinton Cottage and Edward seconded the motion so decidedly that I went. Found the lady out, was not particularly pleased with what I saw inside and do not think I shall go again. Mrs. Bailey calls her place Orchard Hill. You have never told me whether Sister Mary still endures Miss Joanna or no. I was thinking of her, is est, Sister, a long time today. Has she not decided upon a name for her youngest darling yet."; ". . . I am well pleased to learn of Carrie's improved health yet I think it somewhat alarming - Poor Mr. Selden! If it please God, I hope he will be soon released from his sufferings."; "Well, Pierce will probably be our next President - Edward does not believe the reports of his intemperance at all."; re plans to visit Tenton falls; re robbery, crime, "I wish I could bring you some house plants in the spring. Have I told you that Annie is here attending school at the Institute while Gertrude is with her Grandmother comforting her during Annie's absence. Mr. Peck has been spending several nights with us. He has been to Louisville and returned by the way of Niagara. He had the pleasure of being robbed of fifty dollars on the journey."; "Nov 18th - Yesterday I went to Mrs. Goodman's, having my merino dress made by her dressmaker."; re slavery, "Edward and I have been disputing about the last slave case on the ta[?]is[?]. He thinks it was outrageous to take the man's slaves from him just for passing with them through a free state, while I rejoice in the escape of any from slavery. I saw the other day some sketches of the history of Mrs. Stowe which interested me exceedingly. I do not wonder at the strength of her opposition to slavery if that be true."; re music, "Millis is learning to play Nelly Bly."; reading Robertson's 'Charles the Fifth'; "I think it likely that Mr. Peek [Peck?] will come home with Edward. He writes that Miss Peck is suffering from quincy[?] sore throat. She is boarding with the children at a hotel in Hartford."; religion, "Millie asked me yesterday after we came from church what Mr. Taylor said about 'Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife'. You know that the commandments are read every Sabbath in the R[?] D church. I was surprised at Millie's question for I had no idea that she ever listened to a word that was uttered in church."; holidays, "Thanksgiving day is coming on apace. I have not made my mince and pumpkin pies yet. Tomorrow I intend to go into the kitchen and see what I can do in that line. Would it not be pleasant if we could all meet again around the parental hearth or stove on a Thanksgiving day? Ah would it not!"

Angie fr Sarah (Mount Harmon) No. 1, 26 Nov 1852; holiday, health, "Mr. Peck spent Thanksgiving day with us. My mince pies were not very nice. Edward thought it might be called a failure but I do not think it was altogether my fault. Mr. Peck leaves for New Orleans on the 29th. I do not envy him the voyage. Nov 30th - Edward has come home sick this evening. I went to Newark after him. Millie was along and made rather a sage observation on the way. We passed a house which had no chimney. She says 'That house has not any chimney. Santa Claus can't get into that house, can he!'. Poor Edward, I am sorry for him. He has one of those terrible colds in the head which are so hard to be borne. He does not take cold very often, but when he does it is quite a circumstance. Mrs. Thomas called on me yesterday and I was much pleased with her. I believe I shall have to call at Clinton Cottage again. It is not easy to drop acquaintances. I made another aggressive call, so to speak, the other day. It was on a family that came here last spring and as they attend our church and give quite liberally towards the support of the Domince[?], I was admonished that I ought to call on them. Millie has on a dress with a pocket in it for the first time and you may imagine her delight. Angie do you remember how our dear mother used to make us red flannel dresses with pockets for winter and how excessively pleased we were with the pockets?"; health, ". . . suffering from the worst cold I ever had in my life, or at least within my remembrance. Dr. Parse[?] says it is a kind of influenza. The most painful symptoms of it have been a very sore throat and distressing pain in the eyes. . . . On Tuesday Mr. Taylor was installed & I increased my cold considerable by going to church. I had no idea of going until the bell rang for I had a good deal of fever the night before but three of the clergy dined with us and they were so agreeable that I thought I could not miss the opportunity of hearing them preach."; invited to a christening but did not go; "Edward has had a furnace put up in the cellar and all the stoves cleared out. I was very desirous of having it done but I am afraid I shall not like it after all."; Edward going to New Orleans next week, for one month; re sewing clothes, "So you are going into the shirt-making business. Well I pity you. I do not mean to make any more for my husband, if I can help it. I think I have enough to do besides. I do not know of any new way of making bosoms as I never notice them. I make the fold containing the button holes, of the same width as the other plaits. As for the pattern of Edward's wrist-bands you shall have one of Mrs. Beman's."; "I am glad Sister Mary is going to call her baby Angelyn."

Angie fr Sarah (Mount Hermon) 17 Dec 1852; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, Lyme, Conn, postmarked New York, Nov 22 [goes with a previous letter]; health, recovered from cold; "I received a day or two ago a sweet letter from Carrie informing me of the death of Mr. Selden. She wished me to send her my black bonnet and shawl which I should have been well pleased to do but I had given my bonnet away. I concluded to go to Newark and get her one to send with the shawl. I am afraid she will not like it and I want you to write me what she says about it."; "Edward was going to New Orleans tomorrow but he has been quite sick today with an attack of diarrhea so that he will not be able to leave before Monday now. We have been talking about seasickness until its horrors are all before me - O bah! I am thankful that I am not going to N O again. Dec 20 - Edward left for N O this morning and I am therefore in a manner disconsolate. I felt half inclined to have the blues this evening but wisely concluded to defer it to some future occasion. Millie has a bad cold. She has been complaining of a sore throat today and has been rather feverish. But as I have applied a wet cloth and flannel to her throat and administered a powerful dose of belladonna in the following proportions, viz, 2 pellets in four teaspoonfuls of water and 1 teaspoonful at a dose, I hope in the morning she will be nearly or quite recovered. She has been very well all summer and she never looked prettier to me than she does now. She has become exceedingly interested in Bible history of late, and I have to repeat my stories every day. She is quite acquainted with Pilgrims's Progress and says 'Mama I want to go [to] the celestial city - Won't you go'. See never sees any pictures of mountains but she asks if they are the delectable mountains. O for wisdom to win this precious soul to that Saviour, of whom she likes so much to hear. . I pray continually that she may indeed seek Him early and find Him. Annie wishes to unite with the church at our next communion but I do not know whether she will or not. I hope she is truly converted. Dec 21 - I noticed with much pleasure the fact recorded in the Herald that the ladies of North Lyme have made the Rev E.F. Burr a life member of the American Board. I have before me the Family Christian Almanac for 1853. It is beautiful but I do not think it equal to the Presbyterian Almanac. That has some magnificent scenes engraved in it."; re Christmas, "Millie found her stocking filled with candies this morning and among them a cockadoodle doo and a man on horseback which when she saw she exclaimed 'O funny Santa Claus'. We distribute 40 copies of the Messenger here and Mr. Taylor says they are very thankfully received and everyone wishes to pay their shilling a year for it."; "Last Wednesday, which by the way, was a tolerably cold day, Miss Wooley and myself went to see some poor people at the Harbor, if you know where that is. I never before saw poverty and filth in such extremes as in the first room we entered. The Mother had about as much dirt on her person as I think I ever saw in my while life before and three half clothed children were rocking together in one cradle, the youngest about fourteen months and the promise of another in the spring. Their prospects both for this world and the next were gloomy enough. The other part of the same house was occupied by a different sort of a person. There the mother was as neat as neat as horrible and though she had five children she continued to keep them clean. I would that I could do them good, their souls as well as their bodies. May God help me."

my safe arrival and continued prosperity but it seems almost impossible for me to find time for anything. I beg that you will not measure your letters by mine. It is not fair for you to do so. What do you know of family cars and responsibilities? We had our darling boy baptized on Saturday at the preparatory lecture. Mr. Taylor preferred to do it at that time rather than on the Sabbath. The child now bears the very respectable name of Albert Gillet so that Mr. Burr cannot call him the Anonymous any more. I went to church twice yesterday as Mrs. Goodman is here and kindly offered to take charge of my infant. I will send your Medicine and that cloak trimming for Carrie as soon as I can. Millie sends her love to Auntie Angie and Grandma and is especially anxious that I should send it to Mr. Burr who I hope will be suitably affected by her regard. Somehow the lives of Goldsmith came into my mind 'E'en children followed with endearing wile[?],/ and plucked[?] his gown to share the good man's smile.' Please write soon. However my cups so loaded with mercies I cannot complain. / I have quite lived[?] outdoors this spring & you may expect to find me nearly of the complexion of the boys. But I think I may reasonably infer it has been for my health for I have not had a hard headache for two or three weeks. EFG ("My own dear good husband") fr Angie (Mount Hermon) 26 July 1853; "I am full of commiseration[?] fro you my poor E on account of the trouble you had in your efforts to obtain a girl for sister Mary. I know she will appreciate this. It s however just what I feared."; "And so you were glad that I did not go to the Chrystal Palace. Does that mean that you would advise me not to go at all? Mr Hyde expects to go some time during the first of August and said he would take me with him. Do write me if you do not think I had better go for I shall not know what to te3ll him. I am astonished that it is no place for ladies. I am sure there will be a great many there at all events."; "I have been careful t obey your injunction as regards exercise and have had one gand excursion to the grove with Sa and Millie. They both took off their shoes and waded through the brook but by my superior agility I escaped the necessity. We staid an hour or two and I took the occasion to search for my name which you remember you carved on an ironwood tree. There it was as legible as on the day you wrote it."

EFB fr Angie (Mount Hermon) 3 Aug 1853; with envelope addressed to Rev EF Burr, Westport Conn, postmarked Camptwon, NJ Aug 4; glad EFB in better health, "I was afraid your haying and harvesting might give you trouble."; re her routine, "I rise at six and breakfast at seven. After that I help Sa wash the breakfast dishes or something of the kind. The rest of the day is a medley. I walk on the gallery or through the walks to see how the roses progress, or read or sew or talk as seems most agreeable. Besides I have a daily walk to the P.O. We had a lesson in Chemistry every day for awhile, but Sa commenced read the "The Wide, Wide World" to me and the sciences were all forgotten. This is something of what I do. Angie fr Sa (Mount Hermon) 10 Jan [Jun?] 1854; motherhood, altering clothes to fit the growing baby; husband Edward left for New Orleans 2 weeks ago; inquires "about your Telegraph stock"; "Annie received a letter from Molly Griffin yesterday. It was written in a beautiful hand. I was charmed with it entirely. She does not know whether she will return next term or not - I cannot help hoping she will."; "I hope Sister Mary has a good servant before this but I am afraid not by your silence. That reminds me that I am freed from those torments [?] and Sarah. I do not care for any better maids than those that fill their places. I begin to think there is some comfort in housekeeping after all."; childbirth, infant death, "Mrs. Goodman presented her husband with twin daughters between Christmas and New Years. She was not expecting till the middle of February. One of the twins died about a week after its birth, the other is doing well. Poor Emily, she has suffered dreadfully since her confinement. I went down to see her the day before the baby died and let Gettie with Annie³ and Margaret the Maid. It was a sad sight: the poor suffering dying babe. It reminded me of my own little one that died in NO."; "Poor Eddie seems to be bearing the yoke in his youth. What has been the matter with him?"; re nursing, "I do not use the shield in nursing any more. I find it on the whole less painful to do without it. I am glad you are trying riding 'pony back' for your chest and I hope it will accomplish the end desired but in truth, I do not think it will."; "We have a funny pet here, a little tadpole which we keep in a tumbler of water. How we came by it is a little queer. Baby has awaked from his rosy slumber and I must take the darling."

Angie from Shady (Mount Hermon) 1 March 1854; health off baby, "[Gettie] He is not quite as fat as he was a month ago. He was quite sick with the vaccine disease and lately has had a bad cold and sore eyes but is much better now."; "I begin to breath more easily now as Edward is going to have another maid so I can have some help about taking care of baby and the sewing. Miss Peck and Hattie are coming to board with us during the month of June so I hope to make my visit to Lyme in May. Edward talks of accompanying me but he may change his mind. The honorable gentleman arrived at Mt Hermon on the 23rd to the great joy of his expectant household. [dangers of travel] He had a narrow escape from very imminent danger, down in Alabama on the stage route. The horses ran away in the night and after throwing the driver from his seat ran two miles when they dashed against a stump breaking one of the front wheels when the axletree stuck in the mud and brought the wild creatures to a stand. Thanks to a kind Providence no one was injured."; "Mrs. Goodman is getting along very well. The survivor of the twins is a wee bit of a thing, some considerably smaller than Gettie was. Do you know that they intend to do me the honor to name it Sarah Lord? My hitherto refractory members have ceased to afflict me for which mercy I desire to be most thankful. I do not know how I bore it so long. It seems to me I could not again."; re religion, faith, "I thought Harriet Brockway became a Christian some time ago while at school. I am sure you told me so."; "Listen! Mrs. Faull has a little boy!!! Now what do you say! How soon will you . . . well, no matter - - -. The little tadpole met with an untimely fate. One day when I was in Newark Nevie upset the tumbler and spilled him out and in attempting to pick him up, wounded him mortally. Margaret brought him up to me in a pitcher of milk for the baby."

Angie fr Sa (Mount Hermon) 25 May [1854?]; with envelop addressed to Mrs. EF Burr, Hamburg Conn; "I have finished today a book which has been to me a treasury of holy and beautiful thought - The Royal Preacher by Hamilton. I wish that it may prove as profitable as it has been delightful. I sympathize with you in your emotions on reading 'Shady Side'. Edward said he could not believe it ever had its counterpart but my heart told me it was too true. Would God it were not! . . . After reading that book I felt as though I must increase my donations to the Ministers Fund which Mr. Chapman advocated in our Church sometime since."; re servants, "Our new girls do very well I think. I wish Edward was as well suited with them as I am. It is quite refreshing to me to have some servants willing to do just as I want them to even if they do not do everything exactly right."; garden/farm, "I asked Edward about the evergreen corn and he said he would send Joseph some."

Ah my dear, dear E. I had rather you were here, stretching yourself out on the ground after the old fashion. And you will come, will you not? To all the inquiries why you did not come with me, I have said, I think he will come on for me. Sa says you will have to bear her displeasure if you do not. . . I wish I could send you a substantial and palatable dish suited to your fastidious appetite."; re visiting mother, husband, servant for mother; "You know how much I would like to he you come and make us a visit but I certainly would not urge it against your will and convenience. Can you not bring business matters to a close so as to spend a part of the vacation at

EFB ('My dear E.') fr Angie (Lyme) 5 Aug 1854; with envelope addressed to Rev. E.F. Burr, Westport, Conn, postmarked Lyme, Ct, Aug 7; re summer fruits, EFB farming; entire letter: "My dear E./ I am again quietly settled in the old mansion. It is very still here. I assume you are somewhat lonesome. I am sometimes tempted to drum on a tin pan or something else to wake things up. But Dame Nature is not asleep if she is unconscionably still. She has been doing a great stroke of business since we went away. The late peas have sprung up above my head and the corn to twice that height. I am suspicious it is all leaf and stalk and no fruit. There is however no lack of sweet apples and pears. If you were not more profitably and perchance agreeably employed I really wish you were here to eat some of our blackberries. They are very abundant and a size larger even than the Weston blackberries. / I found Mother waiting for me at the station well pleased apparently to have me home again. She has not been well a part of the time since we left. I flatter myself I can be quite useful to her as, owing to the great press of business with our neighbors, she is obliged to personate a hostler dairy boy, dairy maid, cook, chamber maid etc. /

Oh, my jewel, what a business man you would make. Mr. Hyde would find himself in the background if you were to take the field. I have failed to carry out my hastily formed resolution not to care about you any more. I was rather suddenly impressed with the idea that my affection had been lavished too profusely, and felt somewhat as a kettle of boiling water may be supposed to when a pailful of cold water is dashed into it. I fell to musing on the peculiarities of delicate appetites. 'Salad for the solitary' looks very tempting in the distance but when it is placed before - bah! He can't touch it. The diet of jealousy came near taking full possession. I must have one of your sweetest letters before I shall be fully exorcised. / I am very much tried by the - - - laziness, parsimony - I do not know what to call it, of the people here. I do not learn that anything effectual has been done to supply your pulpit. Leander headed a subscription with $3, two others put down $3 apiece and that is the last of it. By some accident they had your predecessor Mr. Griswold last Sabbath and I suppose they will go on the strength of that until you come home. I wish I could go to Hadlyme to spend the next Sabbath, but I do not know that it will be possible. Miss Huntington has my class, so I need feel no uneasiness about them. Mrs. S. Ely died the week after we left. / Health and happiness to you, my dear husband, and success in your farming. I hope it will not press upon you so sorely that I should not get a good long letter very soon. Can you not direct it so that I can get it by going to Mr. Bill's? Mother send her kind remembrance and please accept from me just as much love as you wish for. We shall be most happy to welcome you home. / Yours Angie/ Lyme Aug 5th '54"

Burr, Lyme, Conn, postmarked Westport, CT, Aug 9; entire letter: "My dear A/ I [?] your note last evening, and according to promise answer it at once. / Amid my many thoughts I failed to think of the difficulty you might have at the New Haven station with your baggage until it was too latte to alter arrangements. If I had thought of it a much before your leaving as I did after, I probably should have accompanied you as far as New Haven. / Yesterday I went to see the little sick girl of Mrs. Smith - the one who had a bone cancer. Her limb is one of the most dreadful objects I ever saw. She suffers constantly and without complaint. She seems very happy though, perfectly aware of her situation. She loves[?] everybody and tries to make herself useful by sewing and knitting. As usual I found it better to go to the house of mourning[?] than to that of [?]. / Last Sabbath I preached again at Weston. I am not expecting to preach again until I return to Lyme which I fear will be rather after than before the expiration of six weeks. The [?] day of my return I cannot yet settle upon. / We are in the usual bustle confusion here. Your quiet and my noise would contrast extremely. We are constantly meeting with events – which you can hardly say – but in my case one wave washes away the impression left by its predecessor; so that would be difficult for me to give much account of my vacation experience. / My love and duty for your Mother. / Yours EFB / Westport Ct Aug 9 '54 / I was at South Norwalk the other day when they professed much regret that you did not pay them a visit."

Burr, Westport, Conn, Lyme Ct, Aug 12; health, "I have been capable of very little exertion since the first day or two after I reached home. I took my first ride to Hamburg yesterday and though very much fatigued have not felt the worse for it. I think I shall recover strength more rapidly hereafter. My faith and hope have been at times as weak as the body. I will not ask you to pray for me for I know that you do, and it is a comfort to me to think that other prayers than mine are offered for me. I will only ask you to pray still more for me, for I am most needy."; weather, "We have had scarcely a drop of rain since I came home and I fear our fine blackberries will be cut off for the want of it. I have almost lived on them and if they should happen to impart their color color to my skin, there is some danger that I might be 'sold down the river'. Had you not better hurry home to prevent such a catastrophe?"; re getting a girl [maid, servant] for mother; re miniature

Angie fr Carrie (Hadlyme) 30 Aug 1854; with envelope addressed to Mrs. M. Lord, Hamburg, Conn; health and faith, "Yesterday I was suffering from one of my headaches & though trying to the flesh I feel this morning how thankful I am that I am not prostrated by long & wasting sickness. I think there are few of God's creatures who have received so overflowing a cup of mercies as is given me. My prayer is that 'The goodness of God may lead me to repentance.'"; re attending meeting ["of the Board?"] in Hartford, what to wear, "And now if I conclude to go with you what shall I need to take with me. I should like very much to see you before we go, but I do not see as I can come down so will you please write me all that is necessary in regard to the fixtures. Do you think I had better fix that Tissue[?] dress or shall I be more likely to wear thick dresses. It will be too early for my Tan will it not! Do please make any suggestions you can think of. Does Mother think she could take one or two of my boys?"

Angie fr Sarah (Mount Hermon) 16 Dec [1854?]; sickness, children, sister Mary's pregnancy, "Millie has had two illnesses since you were here and she has lost what little flesh she had. Her chin is so sharp it reminds me of what Mother used to say of mine - sharp enough to pick a brier out. Poor child, she suffered considerably in her last sickness and Dr. Parse was afraid she was going to have inflammation on the chest. She is quite smart again now. Before Millie was well Albert was taken with Croup to my great alarm but the disease yielded to medicine. He is much better yet far from being well."; Dec 18, "Albert is improving but he is very fretful still. Dr. P thinks worms trouble him. He is a sweet boy, Angie. When he comes to me with, Mama, up - it is hard to resist him. Millie seems quite well again and is looking forward to Christmas with large expectations as papa has promised her two little China dolls, a mother & daughter. My New Years presents are pretty extensive. I went into New Y to call upon a cousin of E's and he bought me a cloak for 23 dollars and said it was my New Years present. That was rather nice, eh? Now I have the promise of a sewing machine on New Years. It is needless to remark I am very well pleased about it. How did Carrie like the fruit knives? When is Sister M [Mary?] expecting."; "Mr. Taylor is still an inmate of our house with little prospect of our losing him for some little time. We have two very good furnaces in our church which make it very comfortable. You know how comfortless it used to be with those miserable stoves."; "We are all invited over to Sister Bailey's this evening to see Brother Sam and his wife."

Angie fr Shady (Mount Hermon?), 1855?; "I am intending to study French with Miss P. How far I shall proceed in it is rather dubious. She says I pronounce very well - encouraging - Cannot Mr. Burr teach you. There was a French beggar along here the other day and hearing Miss P talking with him put me in a fever to learn French too. Everybody is talking French around me. I would like to know what they say or I shall be as badly off as Dame Eleanor Shearing. My zeal will not hold out long I expect but if I have my sewing machine I shall have more leisure I hope."

Angie fr Sarah (Mount Hermon) 5 Feb 1855; "I am all alone this evening, the whole family even to Millie having gone to Mr. Chapman's to hear the dialogue which is to come off this evening."; 'The fire has gone out in the furnace through the carelessness of the maid . . ."; re French lessons vs. "profound subjects"

Burr, Hamburg, Conn, postmarked Camptown NJ; sickness, "I felt quite anxious about you on account of your sitting up with Mrs. John Bill; because she had the typhus fever."; re gardening, I do not think I shall be able to come to Lyme before June but when I come I will if possible bring you a queen of the prairie rose and to[?] things grow in the meanwhile I would prescribe plenty of manure. I consider that to be the most efficient means of encouraging vegetation. Mr. Peck intends to leave NO with his bride about the first of June. [to be married May 3]"; Miss Peck will keep house for her in June; sickness, minor ailments, "Millie too has a sore on her head that threatens to be troublesome. She ran against Annie's pen one day. EFB fr Angie (Mount Hermon) 19 July 1855; with envelope addressed to Rev. E.F. Burr, Westport, Conn, postmark illegible; Angie's reaction to EFB decision to go to Europe for a year, money, entire letter: "My very dear husband,/ It is not yet sunrise. The night has been oppressively hot and the air of my room doubly so on account of the heated range. Besides this I feel as if half devoured by mosquitoes. But these discomforts are trifles light as air and not to be mentioned by the side of that one great evil which stares me in the face. Are you really going off to Europe to leave me for a long year!! O I will try to be brave, but since I received your letter last night I have been literally almost sick. I have read and reread to see if I was not mistaken, but there it stands. So the matter is decided. I have before thought of it as distant and certain, now I feel as if hundreds of miles of green sea water were already rolling their cruel waves between us. O I wish I was rich - I wish I was strong and could endure like a donkey. I wish I could - you know what - more than all I wish you were well and did not need to follow such a long prescription. / But I must not stay to write all I ~~feel~~ want to say about this matter for Mr. Hyde has offered to take my letter to New York as it is too late to be mailed here today, and I must have it ready for him. We are to have no dividend from the Telegraph stock for reasons which I will endeavor to give when I see you. I am glad your crops are so promising but the weather is too hot for you to look after them much I am sure. I will do what I can to wax '[?]' as a partridge,' but unless I become quite oblivious to what is now so engrossing I think I shall not be likely to. / I shall be quite ready to turn my face northward and eastward by next Wednesday notwithstanding Sa's protestations. She says she thought a brother was born[?] for adversity and yet I leave her to hear her inflection alone (the Pecks remain and are likely to through the summer.) Please write immediately and tell me what train I shall take etc. If I should not get a letter I should come nevertheless and stop at Southport. I do not hear from Mother. / And now my dearly beloved and longed for (may I not say that?) I must bid you a genuine God be with you, which means heaps of blessing on your precious head. I must dress for breakfast. The sun is shining in [?] shockingly[?!] / Your Angie./ Mount Hermon July 19th at [?] Thursday '55"

B seems somewhat disposed to go with me & probably will come to some conclusion before I send this. I cannot say that my hopes for him are very strong. / You see that I marked[?] Westport in safety[?] and by the time I intended - though this last item hardly can be seen from such promises as I have just given you I found the hat store closed and see I was obliged to leave my veteran hats for another time. / Ask Mr. Hyde if we are to have a Telegraph Dividend and when; and you will yourself a favor and me also. / I find my hay crop very good and there are several men now cutting in. Mother (probably Angie's mother) fr EFB (Westport) 26 July
up from N. York with me yesterday."

EFB fr Angie (Lyme) 4 Aug 1855; with envelope addressed to Rev. E.F. Burr, Westport, Conn, illegible postmark; visited sister Mary, re Ecclesiastical Society, religion, money, clothing; "They met last Monday morning and decided that they were not ready to dismiss their pastor and would accept of his proposal to supply the pulpit. They groan[?]
some and say 'can we get along with Mr. Noyes?' Some feel as if there ought to be a minister in the place. The Universalists are exerting themselves greatly. Poor Mrs.
M. Brockway thinks it is a dark day. But no one finds fault with you for going away. They seem to feel that you need it and appear very sympathetic. I asked Mr. A.
Griffin if he thought they would be able to pay you by the middle of this month. He said they would try to, but it was a pretty tight place for them. Privately, I do not believe they will, unless you are here to remind them of their duty. You know how intensely busy the farmers are,
and what an effort it will require for them to accomplish
it. / So much for parish matters, now for the things that concern ourselves. I am rejoicing in all these bright days on your account. I hope other things favor your progress as well as these fair skies, so that you may come home very soon. You may be sure there is a shadow resting even on this dear old home as long as you are away. I hardly dare think of the future. If it were not wicket I could almost wish to take one of Rip Van Winkles naps. But no, I would not either, for I hope to have some joy with the pain, joy which I would not lose. . . [list of things from NYC] . . .

but of all things do not forget the daguerreotype. I do not want to tease you about it. I only want you to know how much my heart is set upon it. The failure might be irreparable. A good Providence seems to favor my wish in giving us an unusually large dividend from the Fishery. I am thinking that if all our dividends were to improve upon those of the last year in the same ratio, I would be pretty likely to be your companion in travel. I have not received any information from Sa in regard to the India rubber cloth. I will write as soon as I have. There is nothing of the kind at Hamburg. I wish you would take special notice of the India rubber capes – the length, how finished about the neck – have they standing collars – how fastened etc – also the knapsacks so that you will be able to give me written directions when I come to make them.”; death of Miss Lucy Martin, “I am told she was very happy when dying.
Mr. Hillard preached at her funeral.”; “Jenette Brown is to be married next Monday to a brother of Richard Beckwith and leaves immediately for a home in the west.” ‘An sister Jane it is said waits until the fall, when she expects to unite her fortunes with one Stephens, a friend of her father from the south. Is not this a precious bit of news for old Lyme to furnish?”; “Mother has not received the Christian Union yet and begins to fear you failed. What is to be done about having the buckwheat sowed?”, etc.

Angie fr Sarah (Mount Hermon) Tuesday [1855?]; entire letter: “Mount Hermon Tuesday/ Dear Angie / An safely arrived at home. Found Edward waiting for me at Peck Slip.
/ Everything going on smoothly. Miss Peek seems not to have thought it out of the way my leaving as I did – like the new damsels amazingly; have not seen Catherine – headaches most unpleasantly therefore with a ‘God bless

Angie fr EFB, Tuesday Morning; re arrival, money, “Give yourself no trouble about money matters any further. I have no doubt but we shall get along comfortably n some way. I so not trouble myself – so you must not. It is a matter of convenience to have a little more funds but I think not of necessity. By a turn of good fortune (may I say [?]) I saved $30 yesterday. Still if you could ascertain in [?] judicious way how much Mr. H. dost? Think himself able to [?] for a Piano I should like to know.”

EFB fr Angie (Lyme) 7 Aug 1855; with envelope addressed to Rev E.F. Burr, Westport, Conn, postmarked Lyme, CT, Aug 7; re Europe trip, entire letter: " My dear, dear huysband, / My heart is so heavy that I must unburthen it to you. You have so much to engage your attention that you cannot realize my utter desolation in the thought of your going away. I almost seems as if a few more such nights as the last would make me crazy. I have leisure to measure the length and breadth of the calamity and it seems to me that I can never endure it. I have wept till my eyes have seemed on fire, every day grows longer, how can I bear months of such days! Is it not possible for you to take me with you? I know it is a great thing to ask but do not say no until you have heard me through. You said with your own lips that you would like to take me with you and I suppose the principal objection is that it costs so much. Now you do not believe it would take what Mr. Thompson says to transport your wife. You have cut down his estimate for yourself one third, now do the same for me and see if it cannot be met. In the first place, I would sell my piano for the purpose more cheerfully than I bought it. Then who knows but Kate might be made to earn something for her mistress. And you must subtract the sum that would be necessary to keep me at home. After all I know that it would be necessary to draw somewhat largely on our fortune, but dearest, have you not said you were laying by in store for me? Now is your time to prove it. Can you believe that the same sum would ever afford me so much pleasure or at least save me as much paint if reserved for the future as if expended for me now? You know that I have always been accustomed to a small income and it does not look at all terrible to me that it should be so for the time to come. Do you not remember how we promised four years ago to cleave to one another till death should part? It seems like a broad breach of that compact to go so far asunder. Of course I would not expect t go if there was anyone home who needed my presence. Who knows if Providence has not spared me the case of any little ones that I might be free to go with you? Who knows but I might so enrich my mind as to make it yield a little fruit? If a great taking[?] book were to be the result it might be a profitable investment. Perhaps I might be foreign correspondent to some Fireside Magazine which did not want strong meat. Or I might learn to use my pencil so well as to furnish a few sketches for your great work. / O how it has lightened my heart even to dream for a few moments of what might be! But I know there is more than one objection to my going. My health might not be equal to traveling continually. It certainly is far from it now. But with more pleasing thoughts and the benefit which might result from a sea voyage, it seems to me that I might take it in the leisurely way which would be best for your own health. I should be most afraid of being in your way and that you might wish me at home. I leave it for you to decide, only do not do so until you have thought seriously of it and tried to realize what it will cost me to have you go without me. I desire it so earnestly that I have ventured to petition to Him who said 'Ye shall ask what ye will in My name etc'. I hope it is not wrong and that I may have patience to take a denial if so He wills. / I think when Hettie has thought of it as much as I have with no husband near for whose sake to check sad thoughts she will feel as I do. If you can O do let us both go. We might sometimes be a trouble to you but you might sometimes be the happier for our being near. / I hope my letter will not trouble you if after all you do not think it best for me to go. I perhaps should not have written it if I had not been in spirit down to the waters edge and seen the ship bearing you beyond my call. In my horror I said, 'that going must be spared, if words of mine can do it. So write to me as soon as possible and tell me what I am to expect. The idea has full possession of my mind and if it is to be exorcised, the sooner the better. / The last Messenger gives in its list of new tracts, 'A Friend of Christ.' Is not that yours? Ought not the avails to be forthcoming? I went up to the P. Office this morning hoping to get a letter either from Sa or you. I am going down to Lyme this afternoon to carry this and my perhaps hear from Sa. If so will tell you. / With a heart all too full of love I fear / Be pitiful to your poor / Angie / Lyme Tuesday Aug 7th '55/ A thought by the way. It requires but one passport for a family if I mistake not, so here the expense could not be doubled on my account sure. Heaven send me favor in your eyes."

Angie (My chere Angie) fr Sarah (Mt Hermon) Tuesday 7 Aug 1855; re clothing, "The India rubber cloth which Edward got for me was of no use whatever. It was black and stiff and cracked as soon as it began to be used. But Mrs. Bailey and Emily use the white soft rubber cloth and they say it wears very well. Mrs. Bailey says hers was more than a yard wide and a dollar and a half a yard but it comes of all widths black & white and may be found in Broadway lower part at Day's great India rubber store."; "Mr. & Mrs. Peek returned from New York Saturday evening. They expect to leave for their grand tour on Thursday."; re French lessons, "I am getting along in my French a little and I enjoy it highly. I wish you were as far in the grammar as I am and we could go on together. It would be delightful and I almost wish we were school girls again."; Edward in Newport last week, "I was quite alone for two days . . . But once in a while, I do like to be alone."; re Europe trip, "I wish your chandelle had burnt a little longer that you might have enlightened me a little more on the all engrossing subject of Mr. Burr's European tour."

Angie fr Carrie? (Hadlyme) 24 Oct 1855; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr c/f Baring Bros & Co., forwarded to Florence; re birth, "I will proceed at once to inform you of the fact that I am the mother of four boys. Perhaps you will be somewhat disappointed, as everyone close seems to be. But it is all right. The girls are for Sister Mary & the boys for me . . . My baby is now nearly 4 weeks old and I am getting quite well. Mrs. Miner stayed with me 2 weeks, and since then I have had the whole care of my baby. . . I cannot tell you what a comfort my dear Mother has been to me. But I have been afraid she would get sick, she has taken so much care of the children & family matters in general. I beg her everyday to sit down and let things go but you know our good Mother's propensity to have everything done decently and in order. I think she has found it more difficult than she imagined to keep Dinah & Kate straight and will not wonder if I should chance to be impatient sometimes. Joseph took Eddie and George down to Saybrook to stay the first two weeks to relieve Mother of some care. I think she will appreciate the quiet of her own home after spending a year with her older daughters & their noisy children. . . The boys are very desirous I should consult you in regard to the name for the baby. I would like to give him his father's name, but as he is not willing to have him called Joseph we must add some other name to it. Can you not send us one!"; "Mr. Hillard is indeed married & has taken possession of our new parsonage which is said to be done up in fine style. So far as I can learn Mrs. Hillard has been favorably received by the people. Mr. Parsons has sent in his resignation to his people."

Angie fr M. Lord and Carrie (Hadlyme) 2 Nov 1855; re Angie's safe arrival in London, " . . . how does Mr. Burr get along without his study and books. I hope his health is improving & yours too."; no headaches, getting along with Carry, "She has a very nice Babe looks like George has taken him out riding today."; re letter from Sarah, Albert had severe cold; Francis & Mary visited with 2 youngest children; "Mary E said when I was there she would like to have the use of the Seraphone while you were gone. I told her she should have it."; "O the pumpkins cannot give you any information about them as Joseph sold all out the garden hens chicks & pasture to Mr. Bill."; from Carrie written on same page: "Joseph has gone to meeting and Mother is deeply engrossed with the 'Catacombs of Rome' a work Joseph took from the Sunday School Library . . ."; "It has been 4 long months since I have attended church and I feel it would be a precious privilege again to go up to the Courts of the Lord & one which I hope soon to enjoy. I have been highly edified during my stay at home by reading the sermons of Dr. Adams . . ."; "I was surprised at your account of the Sabbath on board ship. I thought it was an invariable custom to have service if there was any one present to conduct it. Most heartily do I sympathize with you dear Sis in all your trials during that long passage but rejoice in your safe deliverance from them at last & hope you will have a pleasanter passage home. I am quite shocked at your description of the state of our Seamen. I can hardly believe it to exist under our government. Perhaps you will prove their eloquent friend as Mrs. Stowe has that of the Slave. I am really anticipating some brilliant emanations from your pen as the result of this year's travel."

Angie [in Europe] fr Sarah, 8 Oct [1855?]; [with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr c/o Baring Brothers, London, postmarked Nov 212]; "Every steamer that arrives now from Europe I am hoping to hear from you . . ."; family health, "Since I came from Hadlyme M & A have been sick with colds and Albert has suffered very much with the ear ache so that it seems as if I had done little else besides take care of him, but they are both quite well again."; births, "I had a letter from Joseph a few days ago conveying the intelligence that Carrie has another son and was very comfortable, considering - [making do without servants, etc.]" ; Oct 10 inquires about "progress in French", reading "Maid of Orleans"; Oct 29 finally receives letter from Angie Angie fr Molly [niece] and Mary L. Griffin [sister] [East Haddam] 2 Nov 1855; finally received Angie's letter saying they arrived in Europe; "I wish that you might be repaid for your good letter by a long one from Mother but the multiplicity of her cares which are somewhat increased now that Sarah has left us render her time for letter writing very limited."; seasickness, "Although we very much regret that sea-sickness made you so long and familiar a visit yet we are very glad that you were favored with pleasant weather all the way notwithstanding you were so long at sea. Though I know little or nothing of sea-sickness from experience, yet I can imagine enough respecting its horrors to give you my sincere pity. But did you not try to console yourself with the thought that it is said to be very healthy to be seasick?"; birth of Carrie's son; religious? Society, "The societies have been held every other week since you left, but I have not attended them so that I know nothing about the affairs of the society. They have changed the tract society to a home missionary society. Ann Parker, Maria Brockway, & Hattie Marvin were the committee appointed to revise the constitution. Rueben Griffin is entirely recovered. He has been to church several Sabbaths. The Consociation met at Millington the 2d of October. Father was a delegate and I think he said that there were quite a number of ministers there considering that the weather was so unfavorable. Mr. Russell was dismissed from the pastoral charge of the church in East Hampton. Mr. Parsons has requested a dismissal. Mr. Miner's son who has been very sick in Hartford has recovered."; re suicide, "Perhaps Grandmother will not write you about the death of Capt. Daniel Chadwick of South Lyme. He committed suicide by cutting his throat a very short time after you went away. 'Tis thought he was deranged though he had the same day rode 3 or 4 miles and transacted some business in a perfectly rational way. When he returned he told some of the family that he was going to walk in Judge Waite's grove. As he went away from the house he met a servant girl to whom he said 'you will stay here always wont you and take good care of Mrs. Chadwick'. He then spoke with a boy who worked there and said very much the same to him. He went to the woods some distance away and committed the fatal deed with a razor which he carried from home. He had been very much depressed for some time and his relatives had feared that he was not perfectly sane but they had not become so much alarmed as to watch him closely. It was a severe blow to the whole community. What must it have been to the family! Capt. Mather Chadwick is married to Mrs. John Noyes. Dr. Ely is expected to be in Conn and return to Chicago with his long sought lady during the present month. Ellen Olmsted will probably spend the winter inn Ripley yet she may return this fall. Dr. Babcock and Mr. Mosely Brockway have been taking a bird's eye view of the west, but neither of them think of going there to reside. The western fever seems to be raging quite extensively among our good citizens. Mr. Jewett, Mr. Beckwith, & Mr. C. Start think of going, and I don't know but the countr4y will be desolated. However, I think not immediately. Mrs. James Marvin has come to Lyme intending to spend the winter. Mother called upon her yesterday at Uncle Marvins."

Angie fr M. Lord, 11 Nov 1855 [with above letter]; sickness, "We are all very well except Carry she would be very well for the time if it were not for the neuralgy that afflicts her."

Mother & sister Carrie fr Sarah (Mt. Hermon) 23 Sept 1855; arrived safely in New York Thursday morning, travel, sickness & remedy, "Joseph has related to you of course what a pleasant and comfortable time we had getting to the boat but he could not tell you how much obliged to him I feel for the good care he took of me and my little folks.

I do not know when I have enjoyed anything of the kind so much as I did that drive to the ferry and the row over the river. The water was as smooth as glass and the moon shone so beautifully I was quite enchanted as were also Millie and Albert. While we were waiting for the boat we all three went to sleep and of course, the time went by without any weariness on our part but I suspect Joseph found it somewhat more tedious. After we were on board Albert commenced to cough very hoarse and two or three ladies spoke out 'why I should think that child had the croup'. One of them advised very kindly goose grease or any kind of grease. I was intensely anxious about him for a little while and very fervently wished myself back to your house again but I administered a couple of spongia pellets [homeopathic remedy] (I think I see Joseph's fine nose turn up a little) and he went to sleep and did not awake until morning. His cold has gone to his head and I never knew him so fretful. He was up every half hour last night and today his eyes are very dull and the lids quite inflamed. Millie was sick the night after we came home with headache and fever and kept her bed all day yesterday but she is playing about as lively as ever today."

Angie fr C.L. Selden [Carrie] (Hadlyme) 17 Sept 1855; Sarah visiting; mother has "cheerful and well", "Do you not think our Mother is a wonderful woman? I always knew she had very great control over her feelings, but she certainly bore the breaking up of her home, which we all know was so dear to her, & the separation from you & Mr. Burr far better than I could have supposed possible. She ever inspired me with a fortitude quite beyond my expectations. When Mr. Burr informed us that you were going with him & that I should not see you again before you left I could hardly be reconciled to it."; "I have enjoyed Sa's visit exceedingly particularly since Mr. Hyde took his departure for you can easily believe this just at this present time [childbirth?] I did not feel very much like entertaining gentlemen visitors especially. I was somewhat taken aback when I saw the vehicle drive up with our dear sister Sa & the children in it & Mr. Hyde walking quietly by the side of it. It was wholly unanticipated I assure you but we got along very well after recovering from the first shock. Mr.

Hillard is expected to return this week with his Bride & so soon as the Parsonage is completed, which will be very[?] in a few days I presume he will be duly installed therein, much to his happiness no doubt."; suicide, "Capt. Daniel Chadwick committed suicide last week. How melancholy! It produced great excitement in Lyme."

Angie fr Carrie (Hadlyme) Sat morning [17 Sept 1855?]; re servants?, ". . . Joseph brought down from Hartford a very fair specimen of the Irish race."; "Did you ask Mother about Miss Benson? I do not feel like having Mrs. Miner at all & if Mother knows of any one will she please send me word. Lynde[?] Selden said they got along pretty well with her, though she had quite an idea of having things her own way."

Mother fr Sarah (Mt. Hermon) 5 Sept 1855; Albert sick; Angie visited a week before sailing; Angie getting to NY; deciding where mother should stay for the winter; re servants?, ". . . I lamented very much that she [Angie] had not begged you to write before she left for Europe that we might know how you were after all you had passed through with that awful ~~Margaret~~ Irish wench - I cannot sufficiently admire my dear Mother's courage at that terrible time . . ."

Angie fr M. Lord [mother] and Carrie (Hadlyme) 12 Dec 1855; with envelope [probably mismatched] addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, c/o Baring Bros & Co., London, postmarked New York, Nov 3; Joseph saw Mr. Clark; staying with Carrie; Carrie's baby growing well; "the last time I was home I found Joseph had covered your strawberry bed nice & warm went into the study found the books all safe & free from mould & all things about the house kept safely. I expect to go over to Mary's tomorrow."; [the following from Carrie, 14 Dec]: "Joseph remarked at breakfast this morning that the more he saw of Mother the greater respect he felt for her. And I have become so used to relying on her judgment in everything that I feel quite lost without her."; "We are very anxious to hear whether you & Mr. Burr have grown fat, or your general health in any measure improved."; re correspondence from Europe, "The thin paper does not trouble us at all & you may write as hastily as you please, I can decipher it. We are surprised that you find such cold weather. I certainly thought the climate of Europe even in the same latitude was much milder than in America."; "We had a very quiet Thanksgiving, no one but our own family to east of the abundance usually prepared for this festival."; "I believe I mentioned in a previous letter that Mr. Parsons had sent in his resignation to the church of East Haddam. He has been duly dismissed & his place becomes vacant in the spring. Mrs. Holmes (Joseph Holmes' mother) came to Hadlyme in the Fall to visit her daughter, Mrs. Turner [Warner?] & was taken sick & died the first of Dec. Her illness was very much like [?] Selden."; "Mr. Hillard says he misses Mr. Burr very much, especially at the Ministers Meeting."

Angie fr Sarah and M. Lord [mother] (Mount Hermon) 10 Sept 1855; [fr Sarah]: Albert sick; decided to visit mother & Carrie; met Reuben Lord, his wife and eldest daughter in Hartford, "He did not recognize me at first but afterwards remarked that I had not changed in the face but was rather more stout than I used to be - ahem!"; expects to visit sister Mary on Monday; [following from M. Lord, 19 Sept 1855, Hadlyme]: by mistake opened letter to Mr. Burr from Mr. Case "requesting Mr. Burr to pay him seven Dollars for one Sabbaths labour out of two as he has not clothes to attend Church. I did not like to pay it until I had directions from Mr. Burr but will do so immediately on receiving them."; visited Mary last evening

Angie fr Sarah (Mount Hermon) 3 Dec 1855; "Does Mr. Burr condescend to speak in French or does he always recourse to la plume?"; "To proceed with the routine of my daily occupations after breakfast I trim the lamps and attend to the dairy as formerly; after these somewhat active labors are over, a little reading, writing, either new themes ou des letters a mes amies, and some fancy sewing fills up the time that Bertie leaves unemployed, until dinner which important event takes place at half past four or five o'clock. Then when my youngest responsibility 'is fairly locked in the arm of Morpheus' I bring out my plain sewing and use my needle assiduously until bed time in order to keep up an appearance of industry before le pere de famille who likes so well to see ladies at work."; "Edward said to me last evening 'The next time you write to Angie send word to Mr. Burr that I insist (advise, he meant I presume) that he does not shave at all while he is gone and see if his health is not improved by a beard & mustache'. Edward has been to Norwich to see Annie who is there under the care of Dr. McLane and the medicine talked so eloquently in favor of la barbe that Edward is actually growing a beard & mustache - I hope he will not shave again until you see him. But what will Mother say when she comes here in the spring – I am afraid he will frighten her away. I am fully as anxious as Edward that Mr. Burr should eschew the use of the razor in future. I believe it would be more efficacious for the care of Bronchitis that medicine and I hope you will persuade him if he has not already done so to follow the example of the good old patriarchs and prophets. I think he will do so while he is gone, to avoid singularity, if for nothing else, and I hope he will make his appearance here in full European costume as far as the visage is concerned.”; sickness, Albert recovering from chicken pox

Angie fr M. Lord & Carrie (Hadlyme) 13 Feb 1856; received Angie's letter; “I must tell you how very much gratified I was to know that Mr. Burr was glad he had taken you with him & that you was [sic.] enjoying your trip so much.”; has been with Mary 2 months, has not been to church due to weather, “Mr. Noyes preached two very good sermons there was about the usual number the Universalists closed their meetings sometime last fall.”; “Jane B. was married last fall has been boarding at Newport with her husband's brother. Kate Ely was married to Thomas Brockway Thanksgiving day morning, went to housekeeping the next Saturday in the house south of Mr. Harrison's”; snowstorm, good sleighing; Sarah has another baby, “On the 12th of Jan 1856 our good sister Sa was safely delivered of another son so you may have as many nephews as nieces yet! She has suffered more than ever from nursing her baby, though she wrote she was getting much better. . . they propose to call him Walter Selden [?]”

Angie fr Sarah (Mount Hermon) 23 Feb 1856, addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, c/o Baring Bros, London, postmarked March 5; Carrie received letter saying Angie had reached Genoa;

re birth of son, "I have suffered in nursing him beyond anything in former experience but am now able to perform the office of nurse with comparative comfort."; "Last accounts from New Orleans state that Mrs. Peck has a bouncing boy, born on the 12th of February."; cold and severe winter; politics, slavery, ship lost, "The dark clouds gathering over Kansas portend a fearful storm. God give Freedom to triumph in the conflict. The Independent is battling boldly for the right and the Observer waxes more and more hateful in my sight. Last week one of its contributors came to the sage conclusion that 'the slaves of the south are the happiest and most contented people in the world'. What a blessing is the 'peculiar institution'. I think my nose must have been a very perceptible turn up when I read such stuff. The Pacific is supposed to be lost and perhaps there was a letter for me in it."

Carrie fr Sarah (Mount Hermon) 11 March 1856; entire letter: "Mount Hermon March 11 '56/ My dear Carrie/ I must break this long silence if you will not for I cannot bear it any longer - why & do you not know it is five weeks since I answered your letter? And not a word from Angie either. Are you all sick or oblivious or what is the matter! I have just finished a letter to Angie, the first one I have written since December. If you have heard from the dear child since she left Genoa I beg you will inform me as soon as possible for I cannot help feeling anxious about her. As to the thin paper, I have not obtained any yet but Edward says if he can think of it he will get some and with this slight encouragement I repeat the promise I made in my last letter to send it to you as soon as I can get it. In the meantime I will send you another sheet of that I have and will advise you not to use an envelope and then I think there can be no danger of double postage. That is the way I do. My sweet baby is lying in the crib by my side tossing his arms and feet in the most approved manner. He is as good a baby as one need wish for and fat enough and handsome enough to content his mama if not his papa. You know mamas can see beauty in their infants when papas cannot, do you not? I long to know if your own dear baby is not better. I wish you could write me oftener. I dreamed last night that Angie had returned and after the delight of seeing her had a little subsided I felt so disappointed that I had thus lost my share of our dear Mother's company - And here let me remind you that I am coming after her as soon as the weather is warm enough to take my birdling so far, that is, if I can get through house cleaning by that time and it should be convenient to you for me to come with my large family. So please to write me when Mother will be ready to return with me and you can accommodate me and my three children with a berth as I do not like to leave any of them not having any good Mother to leave them with. I have had the teethache [toothache] some lately and I was quite fearful that I was going to have a serious time of it but I took a ride one pleasant day last week and I have been better since and I think when I can get out more I shall not be troubled with it. We have had a very severe winter in these parts. The like has not been experienced within the memory of the oldest inhabitant. Well, I have spun out a much longer letter than I expected to when I began as I do not have much leisure nowadays, here a little, and then baby calls, and then there a little and baby calls again and so on. Millie wishes to send her love to her cousins not forgetting the baby. My love to all especially to my ever dear Mamma. Yours truly/ Sa"

Mother fr C.L.S. (Carrie) (Hadlyme) 22 March 1856; haven't heard from Angie; sickness, Henry has a cold, ". . . I have suffered intolerably from a terrible boil on my arm. I have not had one moment's ease for a week night or day. I am poulticing it & hope it will be better in a few days. But no one can tell what I have suffered from being obliged to use it constantly in taking care of my baby & performing other duties. George has been sick since last Friday with pain in the head & considerable fever in the afternoon & night, but he next morning he would appear much better & we would think he was going to get along without sending for the Dr. Such so he has continued though we think he is a little better . . . He asked me one day if he should get as sick as little Angie if Grandmother would not come over and take care of him. Sammy would like to have his Grandmother know that he has hurt his leg very bad with a nail & Eddie has a finger bound up which was cut today."

Angeline fr Edward Hyde (Sarah's husband) Thursday 5th; entire letter: "Thursday 5th/ My dear Angeline/ I never open your letters but in the present case I have don so as I have the enclosed to send you and cannot see Sarah again in time to enable her to reply by this mail. I suppose I must bear the blame of my exit for carrying out the only feasible plan for visting[?] my family at their[?] only home. You will readily see how I would [?] with my children without their mother, who does everything for them - when I sent them all up - And if so, how [?] to have them return again before the hot season is over - All very well but Angie remember that I have not seem them for 7 months - and muse remain at my [?] of business. The friends at Norwich are equally loved[?] & have them visit there, and between both 'haystacks' don't you see that I am likely to spend my summer without the presence of my children - and [?]? Please state these facts to Mother and say that my plan was my own - that I laid out for a general gathering - and thought it [?] so clever - to invite you down and remain until August - and then all hands go back with you [? ?] for a short time. I think one month of the the [?] is pretty good she's out of my short[?] home at the [?]. We were greatly disappointed in not meeting you - both Mr. Goodman - one morning - myself and [?] the next - but most of all Sarah who not well herself has been nearly a week devoted to the care of Gertrude wick with a congestion of the bowels and still confined to her bed. Hyde, postmarked Chicago ILL, Nov 4 1857; EFB in Chicago, expects to go south tomorrow; "The [?] allows 3 days of grace in the payment of notes so that I have been unable to bring matters to a crisis till today. As I expected my debtor is unprepared. He can be made to pay me almost any amount of interest for another year or rather to promise to pay; but he has shown himself unsafe to trust in drawing a new instrument, so that I have concluded to put the screws on and sell the property which must be advertised ten days before it can be put up at auction. I feel very sorry to proceed to extremities[?] as it will hurt the man very much though it will be probably great [?] advantage to me. Whether I shall remain West till after the sale I am yet uncertain, though the probability is strong that I shall remain. The sale day is Friday of next week. You must not look for me home until some time the week after. If there should be delay in the sale through some injunction etc. I shall not wait. My security is said to be all right, but the debtor may if he tries hard & swear falsely may get a little delay. Tell Mr. Hyde that Mr. Peck[?] says he has not proved[?] up his claim perfectly as yet. The time set for the final winding of the affair is about 2 weeks hence but parties are trying to get a still further extension."

Angie fr sister Mary, nd [1857?]; with envelope addressed to Mrs. Rev E.F. Burr, Hamburg, Lyme, Conn, postmarked ...tport, CT; entire letter: "My Dear Sister Angie/ Your letter of the 7[?] has only increased my apprehension of some evil that has befallen our beloved husbands. Mr. Hyde was in here last evening, he said it must be that Enoch has returned home; your husband is engaged in some speculation so I think said I for he designed to go west for something of the kind before E came on, he mentioned the fact to E, he replied he should dispatch business & return home as soon as possible. I have felt exceedingly grieved that I received no letters. I received a hastily penciled note when last Monday wk from Chicago in which he stated he had been delayed 15 hours. My children are continuously watching the approach of every carriage to see if their Pa has come I have not sent to the Depot but I send to every Mail. I am writing to my Brother in NY to make inquiries & in case Mr. B does not make his appearance there today to write to Winchell the Land Agent in Palmyra for information. My little Willie goes around saying 'Papa'll come again Papa'll come again' it sounds too full of good to b e realized my apprehension tell[?] me[?]. I wish I could send you one ray of comfort. I shall wait anxiously to hear Dr. Knight's opinion on the swelling of her feet. Do you mean Dr. Warren byt 'the doctor does not seem to think much of it'? I received a letter from Emily a few days ago in which she says there is a lady living in Brooklyn who 18 years ago had disease of the heart so badly that her friends thought she would not live but she is in very comfortable health now. Emily had a miscarriage some three months ago and was very sick. Her health is still not good."; mother has a cold; "The children are playing 'church' and the little rogue [Bobbie] is singing at the top of his voice with his somewhat large mouth stretched to its fullest extend and looking like a big O done in red ink. Albert has just given out the hymn, 'Sing' he said, 'the page on the 15 hymn'. Ned is certainly a happy child and as sweet as any rose."; cannot come for visit at this time, "Sometimes when I think of you and Carrie taking so much comfort together I experience an emotion which is I think something more than a painful longing to be with you and partake of your enjoyment. Do you think it can be envy?" "I am weaning my baby. I do not nurse him any more during the day parce que je suis si malade. J'ai le mal de Coeur, beaucoup, tous les jour - Comprenez-vous? N'etes-vous pas fache?"

Angie fr Sarah (New Rochelle) 1 June 1858; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, Hamburg, Conn, postmarked New York, June 3; "the little folks do not show any symptoms of Mumps yet . . ."; visiting Nevie at college, "I had not proceeded far when a young gentleman accosted me with the inquiry, 'Is this Mrs. Hyde'. Having replied in the affirmative he informed me that Nevie had requested him to meet me and take me to his room as he had a lameness which prevented him from leaving it. I went and found the poor boy in a sad case. His knee was swollen considerably and was quite painful. He had called Dr. Knight who ordered leeches and told him he must not use it for a week or two. I felt quite melancholy at seeing him in this condition and anxious as to the result. We have heard from him once since and he was a little better."; Edward went to Norwich Saturday

Burr, Westport, Conn, postmarked New Rochelle, NY, Aug 3; waiting for EFB to visit, rain, "Your hay does not progress these rainy days I fancy. Why not run down and see us. If the skies light up you can run back in the next train."; "I feel pretty well now myself notwithstanding Mr. H [Hyde] insinuates that I am distressingly pale & think. I think your suggestion good to rest after a bath but I must exercise enough to keep off chilliness. Alas, this weather puts a veto on baths. Nevie is anticipating a pleasant row (I do not mean an Irish row, but a row on the sound) with you. The Doctor has forbidden his rowing very much on account of his lameness, which is now pronounced chronic . . ."; "Mr. H leaves today for Cincinnati."

Mother fr Jos Selden (Saybrook) 13 Aug 1858; childbirth, Carrie's baby, "I know you will be happy to hear that Carrie has passed her confinement and is as comfortable and perhaps more so than with any of our previous children. The affair came off last night at about 12 o'clock, the baby will date his birthday on the 14th. My hearth goes out in gratitude to God for all his mercy and yet I feel that I have trusted Him so little. I could not tell you how much anxiety I have felt for our Dear Carrie. Such trying scenes as she has been called to pass through during the last few months would naturally cause us to anticipate trouble. God has not only brought her comfortably through it all but has given us a sweet little Daughter, fat, plump, weighing eight lbs and as 'good as pie'. You will rejoice with us. Do come and see us as soon as you can."

[Letters 1859, Sarah in Cincinnati]

Angie fr Sarah (Cincinnati) 17 January 1859; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, Hamburg, Conn, postmarked Cincinnati, Jan 18; "Indeed it is next to impossible for me to write at all such constant occupation does my baby give me - he is a dear sweet little child nevertheless but if he would sleep in the bed a little more he would be still more charming. I have been quite troubled about him today he has such a very bad cold. . . after I laid him in the bed tonight so I thought I would commence a letter to you though I find using my eyes by gas light not at all beneficial."; asks Angie to direct letters to Mosely and Company; Ned has earache; "Our house is a new one and pleasant enough could it be set down in the midst of some lovely garden or better yet some wild wood but there is little to be seen except brick and mortar. From some of the windows we get a glimpse of some distant hills which is somewhat refreshing to my country-loving eyes. . . The weather is very mild generally but last Sunday we had a cold snap the thermometer down to zero and we all shivering before the fire. . . My acquaintance with Porkopolis [Cincinnati] is not very extensive as yet. During the two weeks we were staying at the hotel I did not go outside of it. That part of the city which we passed through when we came to our present quarters looked very respectable and we saw some very fine shops. Since we came here I have been out into the street but once and that was only to call on a lady two doors off."; Edward sick, "His face has been swelling for two or three days and today I succeeded in persuading him to see a physician and he says it is erysipelas [cellulitis]. I cannot help feeling some anxiety about it."

Angie fr Sarah (Cincinnati) 11 Feb 1859; "I received your somewhat spicy communication of the second instant with immense satisfaction. I do not object to a little pepper and mustard occasionally and 'the sweetness of our disposition' was not affected by the tartness of your reply to my amicable epistle written under difficulties which out to have secured for me your profoundest sympathy. What do you know of war? You recommended a cradle for my darling to aid him in obtaining a needful portion of 'Tired Nature's Sweet restorer' - Supposing 'an indulgent husband' had an unconquerable aversion to cradles and moreover supposing your room contained already no less than three beds of various sizes, two bureaus, a washstand, towel stand, and slop jar, over half a dozen chairs, a coal scuttle, tongs, shovel and poker &c. what then? Now add to this a cradle and tell me how a lady with hoops is to make her way around such an apartment. To remove the mist which seems to envelope my 'surroundings' in your mind, allow me to introduce you into a room about the size of the one I occupied in New Rochelle. The same furniture is in it and that in Millie's room besides. Baby is sleeping quietly in bed, young Edward snoring in the crib beside him. Albert occupies the iron bed, myself the baby chair before the grate, in which the Youghiogheny coal blazes cheerfully, writing on the little stand I had to place my work box on, voyez-vous?"; "What do you mean by saying that 'Mary narrowly escaped a course of Typhus fever'? Has she been seriously ill?"; refers a recent death; Edward's health improved, is going to St. Louis; "I have had a spell of nervous headache lately. To cure it I tried riding in an omnibus taking the four children along. I did not put on rubbers thinking I had only a few steps to take but I found the pavements very damp, the natural result of a two days rain. The consequence was I took cold, had a chill in the evening followed by a good deal of fever. After that my headache left me but I was much troubled with vertigo for a few days. I feel as well as usual now and I intend to go out more as I have now a nice carriage for the baby and Millie is very anxious to take him out in it. My poor little Albert is troubled with rheumatism again though not so severely as he was in New Rochelle. He has not been confined to his bed but he suffers a good deal when it gets hurt as it often does when he is playing around."

Angie fr Sarah Hyde with note from "Niece Millie" (Cincinnati) [22 Feb? 1859, per previous cataloguer]; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, Hamburg, Conn., postmarked Cincinnati, July 24; re visitor and family health; "Poor little Ned is quite sick to night and cries every five minutes."; expecting Alfred Thomas to spend the night, "Unfortunately Edward [husband] is in St. Louis and Annie and I must manage to entertain him somehow. Albert is still lame and I have much anxiety for him. The doctor thinks it is of the nature of a white swelling brought on by rheumatism and is also afraid of scrofula. He has no pain in the knee and he bends it without difficulty but it remains swollen and he walks lame."; note from Millie, "My Dear Auntie Angie", "We are all almost sick with colds. Mama had a very bad head-ache and sore throat but she is a little better now. I have been vaccinated and Bobbie and baby but our sores did not give us any trouble."; "Mama feels very sorry for Auntie Carrie's misfortune in having all her dresses burnt up."; "Have you received a piece of music called Marion Lee Sister Annie sent you?"

Angie fr Carrie (Hadlyme) 11 March 1859; re family health; "Thinking you might have heard of the illness of our little Eddie, I will send you a line to relieve your anxiety about him. He was [?] with the first symptoms of the Croup on Monday night. The Doctor was here the next day and seemed quite alarmed about him. He grew worse at night then we again sent for him & he remained through the night. Towards morning he breathed easier and we hoped the danger was past. He has been gradually recovering since & we think if he does not get cold he will soon be quite over it. I cannot describe my feelings on that sad Tuesday night. I desired to be resigned to God's will whatever it might be and think I had some faith to believe that his grace would be sufficient for me."

Angie fr Sarah, [20 April 1859, previous cataloguer]; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, Hamburgh, Conn, Cincinnati, April 20; temperatures in April 32 degrees one day, 70 the next; "Edward seems to have no idea of my going East this summer, yet somehow I cannot give up all hope of it. Millie and Albert seem to think as much of it nerly as I do. It is pleasant to me to have them think. Poor Albert suffered a good deal from his knee last night. He has not complained of any pain in it for a long time before. The doctor thinks it is the same think as Nevie's from our description but it affects him differently. We do not know that Nevie has been troubled with a return of it."; "I read Mr. Burr's 'Counsels on Spiritualism' with great interest. What an admirable text. It is next to hearing him preach to read his sermons."; "I am rejoiced that you have a sewing machine and I wish you all manner of success in using it."; re religion, "I beg you to unite with me in praying the Good Shepherd to give her [Millie] now a place in his fold. Do you hope that Hattie and Evie are lambs of the flock?"; letter from Mary; Carrie moving?; "You can tell inquiring friends that I like Cincinnati very well thus far but I fancy I shall not enjoy the heat and mosquitoes of July & August much."; "I enclose five dollars for the Home Missionary Soc as I do not know where to send it."

And please take notice further that the other day when I was thinking solitarily of what you had told me of your great love for me and even for my imperfections I caught myself saying aloud, The man that is insensible to such a love as this is a brute! Now as I do not like this idea of being consciously a brute I proposed to discharge on you such a Mississippi, say Amaqzon, of tenderness as you discharge on me."; I have just been up to the wagonmakers, and had an extra bolt put through the axle, to be in readiness to go after you on Friday. I enclose Mary's note, received yesterday"; "P.S. Your mother want you to get a small chimney for the small lamp - (1-1/4 inch diameter at the bottom on inside will fit the burner)."

Angie fr EFB, 10 July [1859 probably]; ". . . I stopped in East Bridgeport and looked over the patent[?] octagon house which you saw advertised, also in rambling about stumbled on another of same material, square in form and of the proper size for us but all falling to pieces. The builder had used [noy?] much more gravel than lime[?] that there was nothing to hold the thing together. The owner of the octagon referred me to a man in Danbury who [?] him and builds such houses there, and I should not be surprised to find myself in the place in a few days."; I have had less difficulty than I [?] with my grain, having engaged by far the greater part of it to be cut on [?], in the course of a couple of hours this A.M. You see every thing here almost goes[?] at California prices."

Angie fr Shady [probably Cincinnati, probably 21 July 1859]; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. You never saw such a sweet little fellow as he is, nevertheless it is a weary task to nurse him this hot weather."; can't visit in the summer, "Edward says tell them to come out here, there is nothing in the world to hinder and in this request I do most earnestly write though without much hope that Mr. Burr will select Cin as a summer retreat - yet sometimes I indulge a faint hope that Mr. Burr's Chicago affairs may call him out there and that he may bring you along as far as this."; "We expect Nevie out very soon. Albert's health is very good but he is easily fatigued and at night when his knee gets bent he suffers great pain. If you have supposed him unable to walk you would be surprised at his activity. He tumbles around so much I wonder he has not hurt his leg oftener. I do not doubt that a change of air would benefit him but I fear that a journey to Lyme would be too tiresome for him though doubtless I should attempt it if I had permission from headquarters but the decision there is we must leave our traveling until another summer. Truly this is a grief to me more than to you I insist for you have Mother and the rest of the family circle while I am alone."

EFT fr Angie, 22 July 1859; with envelope addressed to Rev. E.F. Burr, Westport, Conn, postmarked Lyme, July 23; "On Thursday I received a letter from Norwich but instead of its being a letter to me, Carrie had made a mistake and enclosed a letter to Sa which I suppose she was writing at the same time and the one intended for me has I presume gone on to Cin. So you see I am perfectly in the dark as to Carrie's intentions. . . Not having a daily mail it takes an inconveniently long time to rectify such mistakes. We intend to go up to brother's on Monday and return Tuesday when I shall hope to get a letter from you & a correct reply to the letter I send Carrie tomorrow. If she writes that she cannot come I shall probably do to Norwich on Wednesday . . ."; "I am glad you were so fortunate as to your hay [see previous letter from EFB]. I was afraid you would be getting over tired and I still fear your building project will give you too much walking. I know you are a believer in high aims. I would suggest that your vacation is to reorient your strength, not to exhaust it. Than as my anxious heart must be always seeing dangers I think of your bathing with some uneasiness. You read that sad account in the last paper. Do be careful."; "I took my first lesson in harnessing Bob [a horse?] yesterday & David was gone away. I believe nothing but the hope of getting a lesson from you would pay for it. The way Bob drags me over stones, through briars & under trees, is a caution. I feel as if I had about the strength of a fly when measuring it with his. I wonder if you have such nice blackberries as we had for dinner. The trouble is, I stand a poor chance on the blackberry field among such a swarm of B's."; "Mr. Griffin told me yesterday that Similius Ely's son had as was supposed attempted to poison his father. This done made him very sick but did not prove fatal."; called on Mrs. Biddle; re grass cutting

EFB fr Angie (Hamburg) 27 July 1859; "Where are you and what are you about that you cannot write to me? I was sorely disappointed, yea, I may even say I felt aggrieved yesterday when on returning from brother's I found no letter from you. You have one from Lawrence which I forwarded and with your Ms from Boston a very polite note quite complimentary but declining to publish on the ground of want of adaptedness to popular comprehension. I have letters from Carrie & Sa. C. proposes to come here tomorrow. Sa says she cannot come on this summer and wants we should come out there. Mr. Hyde says there can be nothing to hinder our coming. What say you?"; Dea. Parker officiated last Sabbath, Mr. Marvin be here next Sabbath, "This is the day for the meeting of your Class in N.H. I wonder if you are there and if you wont be coming to see us pretty soon. I should be thoroughly glad to believe it. I am more and more convinced that I am no unit[?]. I am a veritable fraction sadly in want of my 3/5. I prithee supply the balance at the earliest possible day, or if I cannot see you do let me know of your estate more often in time to come. I am quite disconsolate to know how your health is and just what you are doing, whether the fairy cottage has vanished into thin air and when I may hope to see you."

EFB fr Angie, [1 Aug 1859?]; with envelope addressed to Rev. E.F. Burr, Westport, Conn, postmarked Lyme, Aug 2; "Poor Carrie who came on Thursday awoke Friday morning with what seemed to be rheumatism in the shoulder which steadily increased until yesterday it reached the point of spasms or something extremely like it. I entertained serious fears it would be immediately fatal to her. Chloroform produced no effect upon her. I think the Doctor himself felt the case a very critical one. He came twice yesterday and once this morning. I watched her almost sleeplessly last night and have not found time for a nap today. Mother has sent me off for that purpose now but I wanted to scratch away a line to you. I do not know that I can say that Carrie is really any better today. The Doctor does not intimate it, yet she certainly appears pore comfortable. Perhaps it is merely the effect of the powerful anodynes she takes. She still cannot move, sometimes even a finger, without cries of pain. Poor girl, it is hard to see her suffer so much. I do not know that I have done right but I have sent a letter for Joseph today. Perhaps it is quite unnecessary but I have done as I would be done by."; "I was hoping to hear something definite about your plans for the rest of the vacation but you say nothing. I am very impatient to see you. I can scarcely believe it is only two weeks since you went away. I should scarcely be able to see you if you were here now. What with a baby to tend, our pretty badly poisoned boy to pity. I cannot do much for him. (Eddy is about as badly poisoned as Lawrence[?] was in Norwich and I am greatly afraid I shall take if of him) and a sick sister to nurse . . . George & Harry[?] are in Saybrook. I am having a very troublesome toothache these days, not a very pleasant companion to watch with and I am very desirous to have my tooth wither filled or extracted."; "Carrie was comfortable during the night and I was able to sleep some. But this morning she is worse than she has been st any time since Sabbath. To my great relief Joseph came by the early train this noon (morn]."

York on Monday and returned the same day."; preached at Greens Farms in AM and Wesport in PM, next Sabbath in Weston; "As to my plans, I think I should be ready for you to come on here the beginning of next week if you could leave your sister - with the idea of returning[?] to Lyme

Burr, Westport, Conn, postmarked Lyme, Aug 4; "Joseph is going up to Hadlyme today an I send by him the papers to Robinson, to be left in the Office. I hope this may be satisfactory to you. Not having you by my side I have to act according to the best of my judgment. By the way let me say before I forget it that the ink you use sticks the paper together and mixes up the writing so as to be hardly legible."; wishes EFB would write more letters, "don't forget I am bitterly disappointed every time I fail to get one."; re Carrie's health, "I wish I could write something encouraging about Carrie. I do not feel now that she may not live the day out as I did the first of the week. But will she ever be well again? I sometimes fear she may be another 'Chloe'. . . She is kept from acute suffering by hot bags of hops, changed frequently and powerful anodynes. On Tuesday she had a large blister put upon her shoulder, but without any marked effect. Joseph takes care of her nights and that is a great relief to me. You do not know what a time I am having with my tooth. You need not be surprised if in a pit of desperation I get the Doc. to extract it. . . Mother has kept up wonde3rfully. Mrs. Morgan is helping us for a few days. But when am I to see you. It seems as if I could not wait much longer and yet the house is so turned upside down you would not fin it pleasant here. But could you just show me the light of your face if you do not want to stay."

He is drawing a picture of 'Weary man's rest' from Dr. Kane[?] a book which has interested us all [????]"; Albert's health improving, "I do not think he is very fretful. He is sensitive to pain it is true but equally so to pleasure and when free from suffering is generally cheerful and happy. This is a cause for devout thankfulness to me. His helplessness sad as it is, is not so sore a trial as pain which could not be relieved or prevented would be."; "Annie & Gertrude came out!!"; Sarah cannot come to Lyme, "If you could be here for a little while you would see that without some wonderful change in Albert's condition travelling with him is out of the question though doubtless it would be a great benefit to him if he could spend the hottest part of the summer in a more northern locality. . . Albert & Millie often wish they could go to grandma's house again. . ."; "I am pleased to learn that Mr. Burr is becoming thorough[ly] impressed with the beauty of our woodlands. . ."; made biscuit and codfish cakes for supper; visit from Miss Josie Kemper and her brother; Mr. Hyde prospering; hopes for Lizzie's recovery and improvement in her mother's health (Carrie?); ". . . little Frank is growing out of his babyhood . . ."

At one time it was over a foot deep and the sleigh bells sounded as merrily as in old Connecticut a long time ago."; 8 degrees below zero; "I never saw him [Edward] seem to feel the cold so much. As for me I can work fast enough to keep warm during the day but at night I am most uncomfortable. We take a hot iron to bed for our feet and find it a great comfort and I would recommend it to all of you who are troubled with cold feet. Edward had quite a serious accident a few weeks ago. He was knocked down by a mad cow in the city and his head was badly cut by the curb stone. He had a good deal of pain and uneasiness in his head for a few days but the wound healed surprisingly soon and there is noting like as head[?] a scar as I expected there would be."; inquires about Angie's sewing machine; "Millie's education does not go on very rapidly at present. She is so much interested in Irving's works just now that I am letting the lessons slide for a while. She can do several things very well such as setting a table and clearing it off, making a bed etc., but I do not call upon her overmuch. I want her to like work and I do not like to give her an overdose."; "I felt quite sad to learn of Mrs. Parker's death. I have a charming letter from Nevie in which he speaks of seeing Mr. Burr in the cars and says something about you which you would like to know but I do not know as it is best to tell you - yet I might if you should see fit to let me into that secret. My secrets! I have none as I knows[sic] on - fork over yours."; "I am sorry to hear that my dear Mother suffers from nervous headache. I am afraid work does not agree with her. . . I saw a large locust tree thrown down on the ground."; "delicious cherries"

Angie fr Carrie (Norwich) 13 Feb 1860; Angie will not visit until warmer weather; "I know my dear Mother cannot come [during] this cold weather but I trust as soon as the mild days of Spring visit us I shall have the pleasure of welcoming her once more to Norwich though in another home. We have had the greatest difficulty in finding a place to shelter us & are at last obliged to take a very small & inconvenient house at three hundred dollars rent. But I trust Providence may so prosper us that before many years we may be able to dwell beneath our own roof be it ever so humble. . . I dread the thought of moving again but as it cannot be helped I must summon all my resolution & go through the best way I can. Joseph is rather undecided in regard to the boys L & E. He thinks they ought to progress more rapidly than do or they will never get in to the Free[?] Academy. Millie says, judging from the attainments of the scholars in the first class, they ought to be able to go in next fall if they could go right along in their preparatory studies. But they are obliged to go back [?] so much to suit the capacity of some poorer scholars that is rather discouraging. Joseph says he thinks it would pay to send them to a private school if by so doing he could get them in the Academy next Fall."; Lizzie teething

I like it better than ever on second reading."; "I have seen neither Doctor nor Burgundy pitch since you left. I am not very sorry, not that I am getting on so rapidly as to be beyond improvement, but I dread the remedy. I think I have gained some since you left - you would perhaps perceive it more than I do."; Mr. Biddle will take letter to post office

Mrs. H.A. Burr ["My dear Niece"] fr N.H. Gillet (Unity Parsonage) 20 Aug 1861; with envelope addressed to Mrs. H.A. Burr, Hamburg P.O., Lyme, Conn, postmarked Latrobe PA, Aug 22; re Civil War, excuses for not replying sooner to her letter, "Were I to make an excuse it would be the war, the war! For 4 months, I have been taking a daily paper (besides my weeklies & monthlies for which I have to send or go two miles. This, together with my official duties & overseeing & sometimes helping about my hay making &c has eaten up all my time."; "My health has been pretty good most of the time since I wrote last, but that of my wife has been but poor all summer, & still worse the last two or three weeks. She is seldom in bed, still keeps about attending to her business, because she has no girl but a little one 11 years old, and lately we have had a good deal of company. Sometimes she has been obliged to lie down several times a day. Today I went 5-1/2 miles to visit an afflicted family of my Cong that furnished three young men for the war (three months now[?]) one of whom was buried last Friday & the other two are quite ill. I took my wife along for a ride, she getting out of the buggy before coming to the house, and resting on the grass in a cool summer's breeze, for half an hour in preference to the fatigue & the impure air she would have suffered in going with me to the house. The ten mile ride did her good, and this evening she is decidedly better."; "We have had a very fruitful season for most crops, and generally healthy. Last Sab. was our communion, we had nearly 200 communicants, seated at three successive tables as our manner is, two added on examination & two on certificate. But most of the people have been too much taken up with the war to be zealous & warm hearted in religion. I have felt it my duty to give instruction & warning in regard to our sins & our dangers and our duties as individuals & as a nation. Sometimes in conversation in the social circle but most in public discourse. I have made three addresses to some of our young soldiers. One at the close of a sermon the Sab. Eve. previous to the departure of two companies from Latrobe (in presence of the largest & most solemn assembly I ever addressed in our House of worship there.) Another was last Sab. eve. week in the same house after there return & then again at the funeral above named. You judge right that I am no abolitionist, but strongly anti slavery in my views. But it is another feeling than hatred to slavery that prompts my in giving my prayers co-

operation & influence to the present war, patriotism & duty to support the government. At the commencement of our difficulties I was anxious for some honorable & safe compromise if it could be had. But when such an one was rejected by the South, & their voice waxed louder & louder for 'Down with the constitution and the Union,' one fort after another was seized & finally to make sure of the work & to provoke a quarrel that could never be healed, they actually commenced the way by bombarding Fort Sumpter[sic.] then I gave up. And gave my influence for the war. 14 or 16 connected with my own congregation, 4 of which are communicants, went in the first enrolment. But if you want to know my views more fully I will refer you to a sermon I first preached to my own people e4xtemporaneously then remodeled & partly wrote it preaching it in a neighboring cong. at the request of the pastor, & very unexpectedly was requested to furnish a copy for one of our county papers. As I design to send you a copy I ought to explain why I thought it necessary to give my own views so fully to prevent misapprehension. The Pastor (who requested me to preach the sermon) married a Virginia lady & spent the first years of his ministry in that State & Maryland, his wife is known to be a secessionist, his daughter leaning that way, he has a brother in law, two married daughters who with their husbands & a single son, are all living in Virginia & doubtless all sympathize with the South, while the Pastor himself holds views similar to my own, yet cannot utter a word about the sins of the people and the dreadful scourge of war which providence has brought upon us, without being misunderstood, & stirring up the wrath of his Republican hearers, while some of the Ultra Democrats denounce their Republican brethren with severity. After stating the case to me the pastor says in his letter, 'I wish you would exchange pulpits with me & come & try to settle my excited people. Your visit last Mar' (a time of revival there) 'has greatly endeared you to many of my people & I think you might do much good'. It is to be published tomorrow, & though full of imperfections, & topographical errors no doubt, yet I will send you a copy. The length will try your patience I fear."

Angie fr Sarah (Walnut Hills) 27-30 April 1861; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, Hamburgh, Conn, postmarked Cincinnati, May 2; Angie and mother visited "brother G" for few days; Albert's health improved, "His knee is not so sensitive as it was and he is able to go up stairs by using one crutch and holding on to the banisters which is a great relief to me as I found it very fatiguing to carry him up and he took a fancy that I could take him up better than his father. Angie fr Millie and Sarah, 22 July [1861?]; Civil War, from Millie: "last Friday we all went down to Rogers lake except Grandma, and all went in bathing but Harry and father who was prevented by his carbuncle. Said carbuncle is slowly improving. We found a splendid place to bathe in though rather stony. Mama and I have not forgotten how to swim yet though I had almost. The day you went away, grandma went up to uncle Francis and did not come back until Thursday so we had the house all to ourselves during that time. This morning father, Albert, Ned, Harry and I went huckleberrying and got altogether nearly two quarts. Mr. James Bill stepped in last night to talk about the hay and he said that there was a telegraphic dispatch come to New London stating that an attack had been made on Manassas, and that our troops were repulsed with the loss of a thousand men but I remembered the Harpers Ferry rumour and did not trust it much, 'I did not feel it in my bones.'"; later, "Papa went up to Lord Hill on an errand for grandma by way of Mr. Bill's and took Ned with him to bring back the paper if there was any. Well, there was none, so he came back without it. Pretty soon father came home, went upstairs, brought down the little flag in the study and waved it. The children hurraed with all their might and then papa told us all about the battle at Bull's Run and about the victory. I ran out and put up the flag, and papa fired off two guns from our 'private battery'. Mother was delighted for Mr. Bill's news had put her in a bad way."; from Sarah: Carrie will probably visit next week, "She [Carrie] was at Stafford and said she was very much better than when she went there. I am afraid she will not remain long enough to get all the benefit she might but perhaps she will gain so fast out here."; "The German girl in Lord Hill is to operate as 'help' in our respectable household during Carrie's sojourn."; "Hal is very busy reading about General Scott."

Carrie? & mother fr Angie (Greens Farms) 19 July 1861; with envelope addressed to Mis[?] M. Lord, Lyme, Conn, indecipherable postmark; Civil War, picnic, food, travel; "After leaving you we rode on beyond Clinton when we stopped for our first nooning[?]. We turned off a little from the main road into a cozy byway and there Mr. B. unloosed Bob from his harness and gave him the length of his halter to shake himself, eat grass & expatiate[] generally - apparently much to his satisfaction. Having provided ourselves with the paper for the day at Clinton we proceeded to the best way of enjoying it. I doffed my bonnet and downed[?] m bloomer and stretching ourselves upon mother earth we whetted our appetite for dinner with that gratefully to be remembered victory at Carrick's Ford. Then the lunch was eaten with rare relish. No one knows how eggs & sandwiches taste until they have eaten them under somewhat similar circumstances. . . After three hours resting we started again on our travel, with but one thing to mar it - the sun shining in our faces - and through beautiful towns made our way to Branford where we halted for the night. In the hotel we had the best of everything for there were no other guests to interfere with us and our host had a doleful story of the dull times. We soon found out that he and the only other guest beside ourselves were secessionist with a thin coating of unionism. Mr. B. could not let them alone, but under cover of thin professed orthodoxy, pitched in right and left without regard to their real sentiments. I think there must have been some good Union men on the rout [route?] judging from the beautiful flags we saw flouting[?] so boldly. Millie would have been delighted at a specimen[?] of red, white & blue. It was a white barn with red doors and blue hinges. At New Haven we stopped but a short time – it was so hot. But I half suspected I caught a glimpse of Nevie – if it was he has certainly changed wonderfully. . . At Bridgeport we called on Cousin Almina and I think I shall go again while I am here. We found two days amply sufficient for our journey reaching here before sunset on Wednesday, with a little fatigue perhaps & vastly more pleasure than by the cars."

"My Dear Sister" fr N.H. Gillet (Unity Parsonage) 20 Feb 1861; health, Civil War; "afflicted with Asthma & colds that I have done but little this winter, either of writing or riding abroad, save to prepare & preach my Sabbath sermons. I have not had the Asthma badly, not been prevented from preaching on the Sab., have not been very much disturbed about sleep, yet I have generally felt it more or less every day sometime between 2 & 9 o'clock in the morning. . ."; series of sermons on "subject of revivals"; "I am more than usually desirous to hear from my friends in different parts of the country, in these stormy times. We felt it our duty to observe the national fast, and we had much the fullest house at chh, that we ever had on a day of thanksgiving or fast. We had several prayers & I endeavored to preach a sermon adapted to the occasion. I spoke first of the calamity we suffer, next of the procuring cause & then of the remedy or the way in which we should seek deliverance. I dwelt most largely upon the cause &c. I did not treat the subject as a politician would, but as a minister of Christ, pointing out the sins of the people, not of the South or the North exclusively, but the most heinous & most prevalent sins, of the whole people; not sparing politicians & rulers any section or of any party. I felt it my duty to pursue such a train of thought as would lead my Cong. & myself to be humbled before God for our own sins & turn to the Lord by repentance, reformation, & prayers & fasting, that the Lord would interpose for our pardon & deliverance, from the calamity which we justly suffer & of which our sins as a nation or whole community have been the procuring cause, whoever & whatever may have been the instrumental[?] or immediate cause, or the occasion politically of the evil. It was a solemn & I hope profitable meeting. Many both Democrats & Republicans I trust went home humbled & mourning for our sins & praying God to pardon our own sins

& those of the nation and appear in mercy for our help since that 'vain[?] is the help of man'. I would have considered it very selfish if not hypocritical in me, to have [?] a fast & called a public assembly and then delivered a discourse setting forth my political views & the reasons of them so endeavoring to make political capitol for my party out of a religious fast. I voted for Lincon [sic., Abraham Lincoln]. . . As to my particular views of our national affairs, I think we must have a civil war, or an amicable separation & be two nations or else there must be some kind of compromise. The first is horrible to think of, the second is probably impracticable, and would lead to war soon, & therefore I would like to have the Government make the effort to fix on some common ground where we could stand and make one more trial. I would be wiling to yield a little, rather than sacrifice a hundred thousand lives & a hundred millions of dollars."

EFB fr Angie, nd; Civil War reference; fantasies wondering why EFB had not written, "My prevailing fear was that you had gone to make one of the 600,000 wanted by our dear President! What could have induced you to throw yourself into the ever widening breach . . and my thoughts took that turn, perhaps more readily because so many are volunteering from our own place."; ". . . Mr. T[?] Brockway after 2 or 3 days work enlisted in the army and I have seen him no more. Elmer has never been here and is I understand attending the District school to avoid the conscription. Bobbins has failed entirely though I have been twice to see him. He may have enlisted too - talked of it."; "George Selden is here, so we have some help in taking care of Bob which is very acceptable. Joseph is in a great indignation because Mr. Guliver has supplied the pulpit for the Sabbath without consulting the committee. It has deranged his plans in regard to you & I do not know whether you will have a call there or no. Your sister will probably tell you about the minister's meeting. Mr. Brainard wanted you should write immediately if you could not have it here and I think you will see that it is not possible. Mr. Marvin preached yesterday a stern war sermon. There have been 15 volunteers from our town. Willie Brockway is home, discharged on account of his stiff knee."

"My dear Niece" (Angie) fr N.H. Gillet (Unity Parsonage) 15 April 1862; with envelope addressed to Mrs. H.A. Burr, Hamburg P.O., Lyme, Conn, postmarked Latrobe PA, [month?] 21; Civil War; replying to Angie's letter of Feb 15; has had a cold and cough; ". . . reading & hearing the war news

occupies the last hour of every evening, Sundays excepted." ; "My interest in our national affairs remains unabated. I sometimes fear that I give too great a proportion of my time & thoughts to these things, to the neglect of some of my ministerial duties, yet I try to discover the path of duty & to walk in it. I have no hesitation about giving the affairs our Country, the President with his cabinet & Congress our Army & Navy, both officers and men, a place in my daily prayers, private & family, & also in my public devotions in the Sanctuary every Sab. yet I am not quite so clear in my conscience about giving an hour & sometimes two or three hours a day, to the reading of newspapers. As to preaching I often allude to our national troubles & the dealings of Providence with us, by way of illustration & the enforcing some practical lesson of truth, but it is a good while since I have made such things the main topic of discourse. Last Sab. however, I read the proclamation issued by the President the 10th [?] from the pulpit & prayed & preached accordingly. . . It has been a matter of great joy to me . . . that our army & navy have been so generally victorious the last six weeks. I could but feel grieved however at the success of the Merrimac and also mourn that our late victory at Pittsburgh landing was so dearly bought. Yet how providential! that the gunboats & Gen. Buell's division came to the rescue! What will be the next news from Corinth & vicinity we know not. One good victory over the rebels there, and another at Yorktown, would surely force our enemies to give up. I have just been writing a long letter to one of our pious praying young men who is in McClelland's army near Yorktown in which I tried to give him such instruction & encouragement as would prepare him (with God's blessing) for the hour of conflict which is doubtless before them. Some 12 or 15 of my own Congregation are now within about two miles of Yorktown. They belong to Co. K. 53 Reg. Penn. Vol. Col Brooke's Gunner's Division so that when the battle shall have taken place & you shall read of Col. Brooke's Reg, you will recollect that some of our best young men, the flowers of my Congregation are among them. Three of them are by the name of Smith all communicants. My wife feels no less interest in the war news than myself. Our Editor has the knack of filling up his paper with something, making news if there is none, giving us some old story in a new dress &c. Such I am sometimes disposed to pass over, but my wife says read it, she never tires till the whole of the war news is gone over." [. . . continued on April 18 . . .]
"Among our national sins you place slavery first &c. The

papists you know have a regular grade of sins 'Mortal & Venal'. And no doubt some sins are more heinous than others, yet I do not know which of all our sins is the greatest. Slavery I believe to be a very great evil, morally, socially & politically slavery, as it exists & works. But how far, I or my congregation are guilty is not so easy to determine. In my sermon I dwelt mostly on those sins which we & our own representatives have been guilty of directly or indirectly. I was glad to notice that my sermon was agreeable to your views as far as it went. I do not know that I fully understand you as you 'long to hear a decree of immediate & universal emancipation to the slaves!' Perhaps you are one of those who think that our government is no longer bound by the constitution since the South have rebelled against it, that now it is competent or lawful & right for the President or Congress to issue a proclamation that slavery is abolished now & forever throughout the bounds of the U.S. & those who will not free their slaves, we will fight till they will do it. If this be your meaning, I dissent. But if, in the providence of God this war shall incidentally free thousands & millions of slaves, Amen! And if the war shall result in a series of measures, lawfully used, that shall set all the slaves free Amen! I say. And when the rebellion shall have been constitutionally put down, then, if the requisite proportion of the people, are disposed to alter the Con. [sic., constitution] so that legally we can abolish slavery in the S. States, I am agree[able]. Again you say 'Do you not feel a little discouraged at our imperceptible progress in conquering a peace'? No: never a bit! My faith has never wavered. 'Does it not seem as if God were waiting for us to take some different attitude from our present? And what could we do nation-wide now likely to obtain the help of His strong arm than to proclaim freedom to all the land'! I am sorry to disagree from one, whom I love sincerely, and whose letters, as to style & spirit are model letters, & as to sentiment so generally right, but to alter our attitude in this respect, & seek to put down rebellion by trampling on the Constitution, to me would seem to be Nation-foolish! & more likely to incur a curse than get a blessing. Perhaps you may think I still read the N.Y. Observer. True & I conclude you continue [to] read the productions of Rev. H.W. Beecher, Rev. Mr. Cheever, General Hor. Greely & perhaps Garrison Pillsbury & Wendell Philips. Not that I suppose you have any fellowship for the heresy[?] & infidelity which may be chargeable to any of them, but I fear that their manner of dealing with Slavery, the Constitution & the policy of Government in regard to the war is a [?] that what works in the [?] of your theory. I am very charitable to many Christians who are strong abolitionists, but what will become of such men as the above named I know not. 'Father forgive them for they know not what they do.' I may err in my judgment, but it is my sincere belief that, when this Rebellion shall have been subdued, if this government shall be under the controlling influence of such men we would not long have peace, but go to wrack & ruin."

"My Dear Niece" (Angeline Lord Burr) fr N.H. Gillet (Unity Parsonage), 23 Sept 1862; with envelope addressed to Mrs. H.A. Burr, Hamburg, Lyme, CT, postmarked Latrobe;

responding to Angie's letter of Aug? 22; re Civil War; I notice you desire to 'know how all the sad changes &c have affected me'. True the opes that were raised at our successes last Spring have been sadly disappointed. Yet I can still say I am not discouraged. I perceive that I take a different view of the causes of our reverses than you do. I can 'see the cloud of God's Frown.' But in inquiring 'Where you contendest thou with us' I do not 'hear the thunder of His "'Let my people go!'"' No: I see no reason to believe that the reason, why, in the providence of God, we have not been victorious over our enemies & put down this rebellion, is, that our President has not emancipated the slaves! He has no power to do it. He could not if he would. He could not do it legally, for the Constitution & laws which he has sworn to maintain & execute give him no legal authority. And neither has he, nor his cabinet, nor Congress, nor all the Generals including Pope & Fremont and their armies, nor all the Beechers & Garrisons & Phillips & John Browns, the physical power to do it!! Suppose the President had a year ago acted the silly part of Gen. Hunter, and issued his proclamation 'From & after the date of these presence[?] all the slaves in South Carolina, Georgia &c are free'!! Would that have secured the freedom of the poor slaves? Never. But say you, he, could have published a general war order, requiring all the Officers & soldiers in our army to cut the bands of the slaves & let 'my people go'. Well, what then? Would that abolish slavery throughout the land, very little of it. And why? Because up to this hour it has not been in the power of our whole army to take possession of & hold the whole of a single confederate state. 'We must first bind the strong man' before we can spoil his goods. We must subdue & conquer the master before we can have even the physical power to set free their slaves. While a few of the slaves (principally in the border states) have been loosed from their bondage, & a few thousands more might have been, yet the millions we have not been able to reach. If God frown upon Mr. Lincoln & the Government, & without his Providential Blessing until they free the slaves in the South (an area where mostly they cannot set their foot nor plant their [?]) I fear we are a nation doomed sure enough. If I believed as a minister preached in Latrobe lately, that the Government can do nothing, cannot begin to put down this rebellion, our army will have no success, until they free & arm the slaves, & that the Constitution of U.S. originated or came from hell - - If I thought thus, I too should be discouraged. But I take a different view of the subject altogether. I view slavery a great evil in every aspect of it. I hope & pray & preach against it (one of my Cong. when I preached on Jer[?] 14 7-9 and spoke at length on slavery as one of the sins that testify against us, was quite offended & called me an abolitionist) yet I cannot see that our President 'is criminal because he does not put it down.' Most sincerely can I say that I have great conviction in the God of our Fathers & firmly believe that when he has fulfilled his righteous purpose in suffering this war, when we as a nation are humbled & penitent for our sins, or even when our Rulers learn that the Lord is the God of nations & of battles & when the church the great body of Christians are humbled for their sins & betake themselves to prayer & the people give up their selfish, party spirit & unitedly sustain the Government, they whomsoever administered then the Lord will appear for our help & go forth with our armies & crown their efforts with success."; a lieutenant from Latrobe recently killed; about 30 from the congregation are in the army, "ten or more are among the 'sick or wounded or missing."

Please tell her it is to be expended for Millie's benefit. I have not time to explain. Mr. Hyde said Sa was in distress for money & wanted the balance of her deposit, I believe $39.00, sent her immediately. EFB fr Joseph Selden (on board steamer Empire City off Charleston) 9 Dec 1862; "Rev E.F. Burr, My Dear Sir"; re steamer trip, "We left N York harbor at 8 'clock Saturday morning as we passed down the bay the wind was strong and invigorating. We were but a few [?] in passing out of sight of land. The wind freshened and old ocean [?] itself grandly & I must say beautifully. It was not long before

Col. B[?] found the way to his room and in a [??] most of the officers followed his example. The weather was cold and the spray as it dashed against & over the ship [?] rapidly & the rigging & decks were soon incased in ice. The wind increased and in a few hours the larger majority of Officers & men were horribly sick. Your brother found himself an exception to the general rule. I remained on deck till late in the night & I should state an untruth if I should say I did not enjoy the scene. It was new & strange to me but grandly beautiful. Sabbath morning came, The wether remained unchanged, an occasional snow squall gave variety to the scene. The victims of sea sickness remained in their quarters. So passed away the Sabbath unlike any I ever before experienced. Sabbath evening came and with it more mild weather. I spent the night on deck wrapped up in my over coat. It was the most beautiful night I ever witnessed. The moon was full. The high clouds passed over its face threw their shadows on the [??] and as they chased each other over its [?] surface. . . . I waited till 5 o'clock in the morning that I might pass Cape Hatteras with my eyes open & then return to my bed to sleep till the breakfast bell should call me at 8. I awoke to enjoy a beautiful day. The sickness of the men & officers had passed away and everyone looked bright and happy. . . . On shipboard is a good place to study character. Looking down the long tables in the saloon you see some engage in reading, most in writing, some in card playing & other amusements."

38 14 A Burr Papers; Angeline Lord Burr letters, ~~1852-~~

Angie fr Carrie (Laurel Hill) 12 Jan 1863; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, Lyme, Conn, postmarked Norwich, Jan 14; husband still away; Civil War; Mr. Hyde in New Orleans; refers to letters from the war, perhaps the letters from John R. Morgan or from her husband?, "He is in camp about 10 miles above New Orleans - has taken possession of the quarters of one of the rebel officers & is living the grandest style. In the absence of Thomas he had the services of a contraband by the name of Washington. He still seems in excellent health & spirits though longing often the dear ones at home. . . He says Thomas has just arrived with his horse both in fine condition though 27 horses died on the passage. . . I have been trying to get a photograph of myself to send him. I wish you were here to tell me if it is as good as any representation of myself can be. I am not satisfied, but I do not know as that is expected. I suppose we all like to think we look better than we really do. . . I delayed sending my letter that I might have my photograph ready. I send you two copies. Please retain the one you like best & send back the other as soon as possible. . ."

"My dear Niece" (Angie?) fr N.H. Gillet (Unity Parsonage), 20 Jan 1863; Civil War; "How strange it is that when I am strong in faith & hope in regard to our Afflicted Country you are weak & trembling with fear & discouragement, & forebodings of Devine wrath ready to burst upon the President for not doing his duty. And when your fears are dissipated, & your rejoicing soul rises on wings of faith, & 'hope, that, 1863 may be God's own Jubilee for every American Slave,' just then my fears begin, a dark cloud gathers over the future and my mourning soul sinks within me, & hope for 1863 dies! and only revives when I look beyond Presidents & generals and armies, away to future years, & up to the God of our Fathers, who I trust, directed them to these shores, . . . If any have looked to Pres. Lincoln, Gen. Scott, McClellan, Fremont, Pope, Burnside Rosecrans, Butler or Banks for wisdom & power to help us out of calamity, they have been disappointed. . . . Perhaps you would like to know what I now think of the President. I think he reasoned well, in his reply to the Committee from Chicago, & would have done well had he followed out the convictions of duty he then indicated. But when teased & reasoned with, flattered & coaxed & threatened till he yielded to make that proclamation, my own opinion is (you may count it weak) that he did 'just the foolish (at least inexpedient) thing' I 'deemed[?] merely supposable'. I have not changed my mind since I last wrote. 'I am not converted & do not intend to be, (pardon me)', until I can see its practical workings to be good. Four months have passed & as I read the papers & view matters, the evil fruit has been far more than the good. . . Last year I hoped that when by the providence of God our Hosts had gained 2 or 3 signal victories, the majority of the South would come to their senses & soon we might have peace upon good terms, submission to the Government. But this year the prospect is that being (by our new policy) fired anew with the spirit of hatred & revenge and desperation, they will fight it out to the last, that we shall have to fight on & on year after year, if we can raise men & money till we kill off all the 'able bodied men' of the South, at least all the Slave holders, and bury 6 or 8 hundred thousand of the soldiers of the North, & maim[?] & demoralize some hundred's of thousands more!! And - - - and - - - what then? Can you tell what will be the state of things in what was once the U.S. of Am. When we shall have subdued nay destroyed the men of the South, & half those of the north & shall have literally cut the hands of all the slaves? . . . And if my prayer is answered & my hope realized, there will be less party spirit at the North, more humility & charity & faith and prayer in the churches & more true patriotism (it is very scarce now I fear) such as will lead our Statesmen & army officers to lay their own party & individual interest & honor, . . . The proclamation not only exasperated the South, but divided the north & gave a power & success, & even triumph to the Democrats in many places, which is felt throughout the whole Country North & South, & before two years will make the wheels of the general government . . . drag heavily . . . unless the Lord in mercy . . . turn the hearts of the 'Ultras,' the unreasonable, self seeking Breckenridge, Lecesh [Leash?], Democrats, and the out & out radical, reckless, John Brown Abolitionists from their present course. Most sincerely do I believe that the course those two classes have pursued for the last 5 months will put back the termination of this war many months & perhaps years. . . Should it be so [if the war does end] I will rejoice. And if it so turns out I allow you to keep this letter, send it back to me if I should be alive, & I will gladly confess myself a false prophet. After all my fears & my objections to the policy of the Pres. I am looking & hoping that God . . . will so order events that great good may result. . . . To me our prospects have been growing darker & darker for 8 months, and especially of late. By deaths, sickness, wounded, captivity & desertions or stragglings, our army is past diminishing. . . During the month of Dec & the first week in Jan. our loss in killed, wounded, & missing was about 30,000 & that of the enemy a little more than half as many! What progress! A few months ago (20th of May) but few of my own congregation had fallen, most of the companies that went from Latrobe & vicinity were still pretty strong in numbers, & I was enabled to keep nearly every Democrat in my charge from opposing the war, many sending their son's into the army; but now among the 30 or 40 of my hearers[?] connected with the army probably more than half are dead, wounded or sick, one of the Con[?] from Latrobe (the one to whom I made my war speech 18 months ago) now I hear have but three more left fit for duty, another which had some of my best young men in were reduced to 43 when they went into the Fredericks battle, but came out with ten!! Their Captain was at home at church last ?Sab. Eve but at the close of service, could only give me his left arm, the other being shot off! A most amicable & brave youth, when attempting to help his wounded Capt. over the stone wall in point of the enemy's batteries, was shot through the head. His father one of our excellent members & a particular friend of mine, went with much difficulty to Falmouth, almost in sight of his son's grave, but was two days too late, the time given by the rebels for the removal of our dead, having expired. So he had to return without the body. Some of my members have had their sons come home & die, some brought home dead, some wounded, some sick, some are lying in hospitals, & two of our young men were lost, one sick, at the time our men retreated from before Rich. [Richmond?], the other wounded at Bull Run. Their parents know not where they are when, nor how, they met their end, nor in what place their bones lie, buried or unburied! Such are the scenes of trouble there which my dear people are passing. Still I hope in God. I hope you will be saved from such troubles in the case of your Brother-in-law [Joseph Selden?]. . . I still say, 'stand by the Pres.' & fight on till we see what providence designs for us. Latrobe is 160 miles perhaps from the places of Stuart's raids. So we were not excited. Brother F writes but seldom, John has just written me they are in their usual health, Luzetta & Ely are with Laura who lives in Canada. She had 3 children, lost 2 of late by scarlet fever. She had been sick but is well. From Joseph I hear nothing of late. My son has not joined the army yet, is teaching in Iowa. My bound[?] boy P. Dick is in the army at Washington. My nephew N.H. Gillett is west. I expect him here next week.

To ? fr "your friend John R. Morgan; (Camp Parapet, New Orleans), 27 Jan 1863; written on Union stationery; in answer to letter; Civil War; entire letter [punctuation and spelling corrected]: "My friend your kind letter and very glad to hear from you. I am glad to hear from my friends at anytime. I was glad to get a letter from you. I thank you for sending my little paper[?] to me. It makes me think of home. I am glad to hear that my to [two?] children go to church and Sabbath school and hope they will profit by it. Choose ye this day whom ye will serve[?]. I do not know that I have an enemy in the regiment. If I have it is unknown to me. There is ten in the mess that I am in. I am on friendly terms with them all. There is roses and other nice flowers in blossom which perfume the air in the morning. We have prayer meeting two or three times a week. I do not very often feel to be there unless

I am on duty[?] when we assemble on the Sabbath to hear the word of god. It puts me in mind of our Church. It seems to me that I can see the Christian friends seated in their usual places. Company [?] went over the river on picet [picket?] guard. One of them undertook to pass the lines. The guard shot at him and put the Ball[?] into the top of his head. We have very good quarters for dry weather. We have very heavy rains and is bad getting around but it dries up very quick. Everything is very high here in New Orleans. Butter is 50 cts [a] pound. Cheese is from 24 to 30 cts [a] pound. Other things in proportion. The least we can get anything is five cts. Te soldiers had better let the pies alone for the[y] are not fit to eat. There is more[?] that makes themselves sick by eating the trash they have out here. The most of the time it is very warm days and cold night and very damp. There is plenty of oranges. They are the cheapest thing we can get. It is better to eat them in the morning. I had the privilege of going down to the city of New Orleans. There is very many pretty[?] things in the city is a very pretty[?] place. Gardens[?] look very fine growing. There is plenty of vegetables out here. They talk of throwing up an embankment all around the encampment. There is plenty of negroes to do it. They are around the camp every day begging for something to eat. I feel need of that heavenly friend every day. I pray to him that he will guide and protect me always where ever I be and I pray to him that he will protect me in all the dangers that I am surrounded. I know that he will not leave me forsake any who put their trust in him. I am willing to put my trust in him. I feel confident that he can do more for me than any earthly friend I have got. I have not very good place to write when. When you write again write how all the folks are getting along. I will send you an [?] in with the letter. Write often. From your friend John R. Morgan. Direct your letter as you did the last one. Write often."

Angie fr Carrie (Laurel Hill) 17 Feb 1863; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, Lyme, Conn, postmarked Norwich, May 14 (probably goes with a different letter); Brother Griffin visited and said Angie et. Al. Were well; inquires about mother's health; Joseph sent $200 "which was very acceptable."; re Civil War, "He [who? Joseph?] says Mr. Hyde has been very well and is a valuable member of the Regiment. Joseph write he is much amused at his attempts to track the contrabands to [] & that the result has been about the same it would have been, had the same effort be3en expended on the south[?]."; health, "I suppose you will wish to know just how I am getting along. I cannot go into particulars but think I am about as well as usual and get along with my numerous labors and anxieties quite as well as I could expect. A child of one of the neighbors died of diphtheria a bout two weeks since and I was obliged to expose myself to extra fatigue & cold and as a consequence I have suffered rather more than usual with neuralgia." ; children are well

To ? fr John R. Morgan (Camp Parapet, New Orleans, Co. C, 26 Regiment, Co[?] Banks Division) 19 Feb 1863; "My friend I take my pen to inform you that I am on the sick list. I hope these lines will find you all well. It is the first time I have been off duty since I went into Camp. I am better now. I hpe soon to be on duty again. There is quite a good many sick in our Regiment. We have only lost 10. Capt Noyes[?] is sick with the typhoid fever. I hope he will get up again. The only way is to live in hopes the company that was over the river on picket guard they captured a rebel lieutenant and brought[?] him into Camp. His father came up to camp the next day and demanded his son to be given up but our Colonel[?] told him he should not let what would come[?]. His father said he should come and take him by force. It would have been as well for him to have stayed at home. He did not come &[?] our Colonel took him down to headquarters. His father came and gave bonds[?] for him that he should not go back in to the rebel army again. But above all things pray for the soldiers. There is great need of it for there is new temptations[?] [?] hovering around the Camp. I will enclose in the letter 2 dollars for the benefit for the Sabbath school. I want you my Friend to lay it out in a way that will most benefit the Sabbath School. May the lord bless the Sabbath School not only because I have children in the Sabbath School but for all who meet there to learn the ways to peace and happiness. . . Write often. Do not wait for me to write."

Envelope addressed to Mrs. Angeline Burr, Lyme, Conn, Bill Hill, postmarked New Orleans, Mar 27

To ? fr John R. Morgan (Camp Parapet, New Orleans) 28 March 1863; Civil War; "I have been sick for three weeks but am on duty again. Things remain the same as they have done. The rebels say if we trouble Vicksberg[?] they will take New Orleans. I guess they will find their match for the negroes are to work building a parapet around the camp and mounting big guns. The gunboat Portsmouth lays{/} opposite[?] the camp &[?] they can throw shell all over the camp. The report is it there is thirty thousand rebels across the Lake from us within five miles of us. I don't think they will trouble us. I have nothing new to write. Peach and plum and orange trees are in blossom. They look very nice. The report is in New Orleans it they are agreeing[?] to draft at home when you write. Let me know if there is a draft to take place. Write all that is going on in Hamburg. We have only heavy thunder showers where we are and is very muddy and bad getting around. It soon dries up. I have not seen any snow since we landed. If my friends write that it has been very mild this winter if things is as high at home as they are out here I don't see how poor folks get a living. I don't think of anything more in this line. We obey the orders of our officers here in the camp. How much more should we obey the orders of great Captain of our salvation. . . [re God, etc.] . . . One of my tent mates is ready at all times to go with me to Meeting when duty don't detain us. Sabbath evening we went to prayer Meeting. I did not feel able to go but I knew that it was good for to be there. We met us a Band of Brothers to worship the Lord in the Beauty of holiness . . . Some of our officers are Christian. They meet with us in our prayer meeting to worship the Lord . . . Pray for me. I am surrounded with temptations. . . "

To ? fr John R. Morgan (Camp Parapet, New Orleans) 10 April 1863; Civil War; "I have been on the sick list to the Hospital since I wrote those two letters you received but I have returned to the Camp. I have written a letter to you since those two. I have not seen General Banks but once. I have not heard anything said against him. I guess he does things about right. I would like to go up to [?]ville about 10 miles up the Lake. It is a splendid place. I would like to cruise around in different places. I should have something to write. It would be better for one's health but we are kept pretty close. I felt sad last Sabbath. Our Chaplain preached his farewell sermon. He has resigned[?] and is going home. Before he got through with his sermon he cried like a baby. I feel bad to have him leave. He was a good man and I loved him. He resigned partly on account of ill health, partly on account of a letter that was written and left on his table that he was nothing but a nuisance in the regiment. I know that he did all he could for us. I know the one that wrote the letter. He is down on everything that is good. He once belong[ed][to the church but he has wandered from the fold & it is very warm here by spells. Between 12 and four is the warmest. It is not so warm here now as it will be. When our Chaplain leaves our meeting will lose. I expect our prayer meeting will close too but I hope not. . ."

To ? fr John R. Morgan (Camp Parapet, New Orleans) 24 April 1863; Civil War; "We have moved from where we were. It is the same Camp Parapet one mile north of the old Camp. We talk of going on a scout up to Ke?ville[?] about 6 miles up the Lake. We are so long in moving if we don't go soon I don't think we shall not go. We expect to start for home before long. Things remain very quiet around New Orleans. The Captain of the [?] shot a rebel a few days since. He run the picket guard and would not halt. He belong in New Orleans. The guard caught 8 rebels cutting through the levy[?]. One said he was cutting through to water his garden. One said to water his cattle & I don't think by their looks it they had either to water. They have a negro baby where we are. Some of the negroes that belong to the [?] they were out cruceing [cruising?] in the swamp. They caught two rebels. They had the New York papers. They were trying to get through into rebel lines. They took them down to headquarters that is to New Orleans down to General Sherman. General Banks is up the river. He is a man that attends to his business. I have not heard anything said against him since I have been here. I guess he is genely [genuinely] liked very well. He is not all the time in on place. He is all the time going from one place to the other seeing to his business. The 128 Regiment on a ten days march. They took to steamers some cotton, come tar[?], and rosson [resin?] it they brought down with them. They went up the Pearl River. Things are flourishing here, blackberries are ripe but they have not the richness as ours have to home. There is plenty of flowers all in bloom which perfume the air in the morning. . . [thanks to God] . . . Camp Parapet, Co C, 26 Regiment, Co[?] Banks Division, New Orleans"

Angie fr Carrie (Laurel Hill) 8 May 1863; re clothes, bonnets, poplin dress, etc.; family health; "Brother Griffin was here last week. He seemed to feel very much discouraged about Nellie [Millie?]."; Civil War, husband's camp has moved "about a mile back from the river where it is excessively hot and 'the mosquitoes are perfectly ravenous'. He complained of the headache in his last letter and I fear he will not remain in such perfect health. . . Perhaps you have heard from Brother Griffin that Mother Selden has gone to Brooklyn. I suppose I have written you that Lizzie had a son whom she has named Joseph Selden [?]."

Angie fr Carrie (Laurel Hill) 11 June 1863; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, Lyme, Conn, postmarked Norwich CT, Jun 11; Civil War; "I know you will rejoice to hear that after the terrible suspense in which I have lived for the last five[?] days, I have just received a line from my dear husband written during the terrible battle at Port Hudson in which he says, 'God has preserved me thus far unharmed. I have been where the bullets fell like rain but the thought of danger never entered my mind. Do not be alarmed for the same kind Providence that has watched over me thus far will still keep me. I can only hope and pray' that it may be so."; "Joseph writes Col. [Thomas G.] Kingsley is seriously wounded. I am sorry for his wife and everyone who has friends exposed to the dangers of a battlefield. I cannot write long with my aching shoulder."

To ? fr John R. Morgan (Headquarters, near Port Hudson [LA]) 13 June 1863; Civil War; "I take my pen in hand to inform you where I am. I am in the rebel dominion[?] so near that the rebel can throw balls in where we are. The rebels are deserting every day. Today there was sixty seven deserted. Today we have dug[?] best work within four hundred yards of the rebels fortifications. Those that desert say that the officers stand guard themselves. They are afraid that the men will desert. The more that runs away the less there will be to throw balls at as they say that they don't want to fight. I have been on the battlefield 2"0[?] days. We have in one very heavy engagement one killed and 8 wounded. One has died since the Battle of [?]. Wish to see balls fly any faster than they did I think they flew as fast as ever I see hail stones fly. Thank kind providence I came off the field unharmed. I feel confident that my heavenly friend shielded me . . . It is a sad sight on the battlefield to see our companions fall. Both sides of us today {?} was wounded through the leg [?] Babcock wounded in the back. The ball pressed into one side and out at the other and there was several others wounded besides. The day the battle was there was one hundred and seventeen wounded and 8 killed out of our regiment. The Batteries will give them a good shelling before we make another charge on the rebels. The batteries boys think they can shell them that they will raise a flag of truce and give up. They shelled one hour today. I should think it must have been warm work for the rebels by the way the shells flew. Those that desert say they have only three thousand [?] for duty."

Angie fr Carrie (C.L. Selden), (Laurel Hill) 17 July 1863; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, Lyme, CT, postmarked Norwich, July 17; "I received yours enclosing money from the fish place . . ."; "And now as regards this request about Stafford Springs I am very sorry I cannot give you all the information you wish. The lady's name was Mrs. Bacon. I do not remember her husband's first name, but do not think there was any other family by the name of Bacon. He lived next door to a gentleman of Joseph's acquaintance who had a pleasant place and was one of the principle men in Stafford. I think his name was Ives. But I have not the remotest idea of the price paid for board. She had not many pleasant rooms and I should [?] to have you [?] the pleasantest one and the same I occupied. I am very glad to hear that you are going to Stafford and hope you will enjoy it and receive great benefit. Now I have a plan to propose in case my dear mother does not feel like accompanying you to the Springs and this is to have her come and make me a long visit. . . . I think she would enjoy being there [Stafford Springs] and it might do her good."; husband away, "I have not heard from him since Port Hudson surrendered, but trust another assault was not made at least by [?]."; Lizzie and family will spend summer in Saybrook; re school & sickness, "The Academy closes today. Ned was sadly disappointed in not obtaining two prizes, one for scholarship and one for attendance. His chance was very good and he would probably have won them if he had not been sick. He was seized very violently the day after the fourth with Billious fever with dysentery and was not well enough to return to school will Wednesday of this week."

Angie fr sister Carrie (Norwich) 24 Sept 1863; family well, Joseph's "anxiety about his business prospects", but better now; re broken cover of slop-jar; re silk dress, etc.

Angie fr Carrie ("your aff. Sister C.L. Selden"), (Norwich) 11 November 1863; "We were very sorry to hear of Mr. Burr's illness and hope his people will never allow hi to speak in a cold room again."; "Leander spent an evening here last week. He brought his wife over to stay till after Thanksgiving. He had a great deal to say about Mr. Samuel Lord's business, but I do not think he convinced Joseph that it was best for him to take the business. I do not know what is before us but trust we shall be guided aright."; re Sarah, "Mary said that Nellie thought she was looking sad and discouraged."; "I regret to hear you have had so much trouble with your silk dress but hope it suits you at last. Mary told me you had been invited to a Minister's party at Mr. Brainard. I could not help thinking your new dress was made just in time."; re clothing, "I had a great job putting my winter dress in order. It had become so faded and spotted I was obliged to turn it. It will never make a serviceable dress but looks very well now. I should like a [delaine?] dress to save[?] it but they are 38 cts per yd here in Norwich. I saw a very pretty dress that Mary Holmes had from Hamburg for 28 cts and had some thought of writing to you to see if Samuel had any more that you might send me a dress pattern but Mother Selden thinks of going to New York in a few weeks and as Joseph will go with her I can send by him. In regard to your black merino[?] (I did not know you had such a dress) I think it would be a very good idea. Black Alpacca's are all the rage. I saw one the other day trimmed with two rows of [?] fluted trimming. But I think either a flounce or fluted trimming on the bottom are worn just as much as ever."; re household help; "Joseph is still at the Governor's[?] and is sure of that berth[?] till spring. He has not received his pay from Government yet but keeps hoping it will come soon. He is very well and cheerful and I am so thankful to have him home with me I could about be content to live on bread and water."

39 5 43-6 Burr Papers, ~~Misc. 1864~~ [Letters 1864]

Angie fr Connie (Norwich) 18 March 1864; "Though your letter found me with a headache, I had been longer without one than for some time previous & I thought myself improving but Joseph decided to send Sam to Poughkeepsie to complete his education at Eastern College & he was anxious to have him leave as soon as possible. So of course, I labored quite beyond my strength to [?] his [?] s he wear & tear of his trip to New Orleans together with [?] articles lost or stolen rendered[?] quite missing[?]. Sam left Monday night & his prediction, that 'Mother was certainly making herself sick' has been partly verified."; re Angie's pregnancy?, "I think it is a pity you did not keep your 'secret' a little longer as I should have honored it [?] New York[?]. Mrs. Stub[?] knew all about it . . . I suppose Mary Holmes brought the news from Hadlyme."; re Sarah, "As to her husband's prospects or rather as to what Joseph thinks of them I hardly know what to say. He is so much at the Governor's I hardly have time to learn his mind on any subject but I think he regards Mr. Hyde's plans with favor. He regrets sometimes that he did not remain in New Orleans and take a plantation himself. He gets almost desperate at times. The cost of living is so enormous now that he finds an ordinary salary quite insufficient to meet his expenses."

Angie fr EFB (Weston) 10 August 1864; "Barlow pretends to think that our boy [newborn son Montrose?] is not the genuine article, but a foundling that we have managed to pick up somewhere in our travels and are going to impose on the world as a well authenticated Burr in good and regular standing."; re Bob the horse.

Angie fr Carrie (Norwich) 16 Sept 1864; re household help [Dick?], "I really think Dick , (he is much the best boy) would be very useful indoors & out, with one exception, he does not know how to milk very well but he seems so anxious to learn that George thinks he could learn in a short time. He appears perfectly willing to be told how to do a thing & tries to please. He is quite delighted when I will allow him to visit me in the house. . . . He will undoubtedly need some training before he can wash dishes or cook quite to your satisfaction but I think you would find him quite teachable. He has an excellent appetite but one thing in his favor he will eat anything set before him, asking no questions. I hope Mother will not attempt to satisfy him with her beautiful bread & butter. I have made hasty pudding a good deal & set[?] up Indian meal cakes but with water which he can pay for himself. He can do his own cooking. As to wages, he says he will be content with what you think he earns, but evidently is not expecting high wages at present. He needs clothes very much & wish I had some to give him to make him more presentable, but he is too small to wear any but George's & he does not seem to have any to spare, at best a coat but I suppose Mr. Burr will have some old clothes he could let him have. I do not think it is necessary for Mr. Burr to come for him. George can get the Conductor here to put him on the right train at New London & someone meet him at Lyme."

Angie fr Carrie (Norfolk VA) 1 December 1864; Civil War; "Do you realize that I am here on the sacred soil of Old Virginia & did you not think I had taken leave of my senses when you heard I was going to return with Joseph? . . . The first day or two after I reached Norfolk I found it very chilly & begin to understand why Sa [Sarah] had to say she suffered more from the cold in New Orleans than she did at the North. . . Yesterday was like summer. To hot to go out without their clothing & sunshade. I hope it will be cooler in a day or two for I find it very debilitating. I have seen nothing very desirable or beautiful about the city of Norfolk as yet. It has a dingy appearance. The most noticeable picture[?] is the crowd of donkeys [darkeys?] that throng the street, of all ages, sizes & shades. Some driving the most rickety carts, some with huge bundles or baskets on their heads & multitudes in soldiers uniforms. I believe I have not seen a really genteel lady on the street. Yesterday we went over to Portsmouth to see the Navy yard, which was one of the finest in the United States. It was sad to see such destruction of property. The rebels burned all the buildings & attempted to blow up the Dry Dock which is the most stupendous work I ever saw. Did you ever see one? I can not give you my idea of it. I do not know how long I shall remain here. I must confess to feeling a little homesick at first & told Joseph I should not be contented to stay very long, but he seemed so much disturbed I shall not say any this more about it at present. I have confined myself so much at home with my family that I hardly feel easy away from the daily routine of my duties there. But I think I shall enjoy a week or two here very well & perhaps the change & rest will do me all the good Joseph thinks it will."; will visit Sam in New York on way home; inquires how Angie getting along with Dick

"My Dear Niece" (Angie) fr N.H. Gillett (Unity Parsonage) 19 Dec 1864; congratulations on birth of Hanford Montrose Burr; "I notice the picture you have drawn of your infant son, and do not think it at all strange that it was so many & so strong attractions to a mother."; re Civil War, "You refer to my 'patriotic' declaration about giving my son & ten if had them to the service of our Country. As you 'shiver at the thought' perhaps I wrote too hastily not 'counting the costs.' Yet in my most sober moments, after long & deep reflection, I can think of nothing, earthly, not life itself, which would be too great a sacrifice to save my Country from anarchy & permanent division, disgrace and ruin, if that sacrifice were the only means of salvation. I acknowledge that I often feel a solicitude about my son in the army, & should he fall on the battlefield or by sickness, I am well aware that sharp arrows of sorrow would pierce my heart, . . . yet I trust no one shall ever hear me say 'I would to God that my son had never enlisted in his Country's Cause'."; "Hallock was at Memphis about two weeks ago, but where he is now I know not, if living. When he last wrote he was expecting they would be ordered away soon. If he was sent to Gen Thomas at Nashville he may have been in the recent battles there. If he was in that detachment of his Regt (3 Iowa Cavalry)

which was on board the steamer that blew up at Carondolet last week, he may have been among the sufferers. Still I hope for the best."; "The boy I raised (Peter Dick) had a very narrow escape of his life last July on Morris Island. He is in the U.S. Signal Corps, and when on the top of his tower 80 feet high, he was blown over tower and all & he was dashed to the ground, his head buried in the sand 8 inches & he remained senseless till the next morning. Slowly he recovered & is now well!"; "As to the Election of which you speak I did not feel so much dread & fear about it as some did. I had a strong confidence (after the adoption of the Chicago Platform) that Mr. Lincoln would be elected. Yet I did not expect so signal a triumph at the polls. I was much pleased with the President's late message in all its main features. I think the closing part was admirably worded. I am not sure that it was wise to make definite mention of our relations with several small nations & silently pass over England & France, & that with apparent design. It would not be good policy to stir up the 'British Lion' till our war at home is ended. The war news from Serriden, Sherman & Thomas has been encouraging for some months past. An the late news that Gen Sherman has safely go through & has taken Savannah (if true) is wonderful. I am not so sanguine in my hope of a speedy peace as some persons, yet I trust the Rebellion will be brought down at no very distant period. And as to slavery we need not dispute or speculate about that as providence seems to be so ordering events that it will eventually die, if it should not be killed outright. But when I think at what a sacrifice of treasure & blood!! My heart is sad. & most of all I think of the suffering of our poor prisoners, some of my congregation are among them. Ten thousand exchanged & twice that number dead & buried & 40,000 yet freezing & starving in Rebel prisons. Dreadful & horrible!!"; his health, "For 4 weeks I was quite ill with earache, a beating in my head, one or two Sabbaths not able to preach. For a month past I have been better. Last Sab. I took cold & am now very hoarse, could preach but one sermon yesterday. My wife too is laboring under a bad cold."

EFB fr Angie? (Mansewood) 14 June 1865, with return letter on same piece of paper to Angie fr EFB; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, Lyme, Conn, postmarked Boston[?] June 20, envelope embossed "Parks House/ 137 Washington St., Boston, Robert E. Drake"; "I sincerely hope that 'sacred conspiracy' will make short work of matters at the 'Hub'. I wonder where you are domiciled tonight and if you have already convinced the Convention that you are the man to steer it. . . [misses EFB] . . I should think person doomed to solitude would very soon have diseased minds. I wonder if Montie is not lonely too. He cried last night so as to alarm me. His breath was bad, and he seemed to be suffering so much that I thought he must be sick. . . He looked quite pale this morning but has seemed comfortably well."; "Mr. Hyde gets no permit to join august body. You have no letters as yet. Maynard has been at work here today and Mrs. T. Peck has given me a call. . . . If mattresses are selling for a song in B [Boston] don't fail to make me a 4th July present of one."; EFB reply on same paper: at hotel; hot in Boston; "There are now about 600 delegates present & they already begin to talk about 'future ages' looking back to us. For the last two days have been exceedingly wearied[?] with reading of voluminous reports. They have put me on the Committee to which has been referred Dr. Becon's Report on Church Polity with a view to protect the interests of Connecticut [?]."; "Today being the anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill has been a general holiday in Boston . . ."; visited Bunker Hill, navy yard in Charlestown; "Next Thursday we are to go at public expense to Plymouth Rock & partake of a collection[?] at public expense."; "Boston swarms with the gentle sex[?!] - but I think that they are, in general, remarkably ill-formed. I strolled on the Common this AM and was struck with the crowds of [?] & evidently strong-minded virgins[?!] whom I met. Tomorrow I expect to hear Prof. Park of Andover a part of the day. . . Boston is really a great place for notions and articles of vertu & it is perhaps well that my money is safely locked up in bonds or I might be undone."

It was conducted by Mrs. Jones, Mr. Beach & Doct. Warren."

To Mrs. E.F. Burr [perhaps] fr Lizzie Lester (Hamburgh) 29 November 1865; "You wished to know why I was not able to say I was a Christian. I will tell you why I think I am not. I have always thought I should experience a wonderful change and feel convinced that I was really a Christian how[?] I been[?] enter[?] being[?] a right sided? I know I am much happier than I used to be that I love to be with Christians and that I am willing to listen to any one & talk with one upon the subject of religion. There was a time once when I felt offended if anyone said anything to me I need to be afraid my companions would make fun of me but even I don't care if they do. . . "

To EFB fr Angie (Stafford Springs) 26 October [1865?]; re health & spa cures; delight in receiving letter from EFB, ". . . when Miss Dunbar M.D. came into our room with a letter for Carrie and asked if my number was 68 [mailbox number] . . ."; "I am not ravenous for the food here. We are fed on diatetic principles . . ."; joy at receiving letter, if EFB has seen her pleasure "you might almost have been moved to write to me everyday as the friends of many of the patients here do. This is quite a place for letters - a thriving branch of Uncle Sam's business. But I do not mean to be unreasonable, or to forget that D.D.s and fathers of boys whose mothers have forsaken them, have enough to do besides writing sugar-plum letters. Indeed I felt a little guilty for having send you so many scribbled sheets to decipher - knowing as I do your aversion to long letters. I do not as yet perceive any effects from the air-baths, and I am beginning to think how I am to get home."; may go with Joseph but rail travel would be expensive & difficult to arrange, "I must either leave here in the night or be a night in Albany or N. York. [will leave it for Joseph to arrange]"; homesick, wishes EFB & Montie were there; "Poor Carrie, I cannot bear to think of leaving her alone. And yet it seems to me best that she should remain. Her appetite is certainly improved. I think she eats more than I do. But she is having a good many [?] and a good deal of headache, so that if it were not for the encouragement she receives from other patients, she would get very blue."; Dr. Curtis preached, Dr. Foster conducted Bible class after dinner, "There were sharp minds there and devout, young Baptist preached in evening; "It is plain that I do not carry the minister's wife in my face. When my bill was left under my door Sat. morn. I found the full price charged. That would never do so I went to the Office and said that I came with the understanding a minister's wife would receive a reduction. 'Ah certainly, I was not aware that you were a minister's wife'. I found the reduction to be one third Angie fr Carrie (Clifton Springs) nd [probably Nov-Dec 1865, after Thanksgiving]; refers to Mr. Rawlinston's sermon on Thanksgiving; Dr. Foster away with his brother, "They took a great quantity of provisions with them and are camping out.", expected home 20th of [Dec?]; thanks Angie for sending 'engraving' to decorate her room; "Miss Dunbar came into my room with an armful of letters & papers for her devout patients . . ."; "Perhaps you will be surprised to learn that Mrs. Lockwood has gone downstairs to take the Matrons place & Sulphur Kate has taken the position of nurse. Deficient as we thought Mrs. L was, I am sure she was lovely by the side of Kate. I dread the thought of having her around me but I will not borrow trouble hope I may not require much of her presence or assistance. The icebags were not very pleasant you may be sure, neither did they lessen the pain in my 'spinal column.' After trying them for a week or two the Dr. thought it was [?] things & I had better wait awhile, in which I fully agreed. For with that & Electricity and baths I got very tired and did not have time to rest before supper. The sulphur baths continue to prostrate me & the Dr. said today perhaps it would be better for me to take but one a week. Joseph asked Dr. North how soon he thought I could go home. He said 'not before March'. I almost expected as much, though I still hope for better things. He said there was no reason why I should not get well & he thought after awhile

I would improve faster. I rally think Js visit did me good & inspired me with some of his confidence & it was so pleasant to learn all about the children & home affairs. Do you remember the two ladies in the room next to mine? Mrs. Casey the tallest left very soon & Mrs. Miller in her loneliness begged me to come in & see her, which I did & was quite charmed with her. Did she not look young to be the mother of two children, one 5 & the other 3 years old? Since then we have been getting better acquainted & find it very pleasant to compare notes & talk about our husbands & children etc. She sits at the same table with me too. Do you recall an 'interesting looking lady with a cap' that you liked - Mrs. Burnham - she has left & at the same table a lady with a boy that I took quite a fancy to, Mrs. Knapp. I like her though I do not see much of her. I must tell you about some extra treatment I have been getting lately. And you will understand how completely my time is taken up. An extra disrobing[?] - when 'Myra' with an electrical battery, proceeds to rub the spinal column for 10 minutes & then passes the current through the liver. You may understand how little vitality I have in some parts of my body when I tell you I do not perceive the least sensation though a most powerful current is applied but the Dr. thinks in a few weeks it will be able to start up some action. This comes every afternoon before my 'sits'. This morning I had something new, an application of ice bags to the 'spinal column' for half an hour. Now all these things take time to say nothing of the 'wear & tear' of dressing & undressing so many times a day."; re sewing, clothing, "Mrs. Spencer told me she was having a dress made here in the village but the lady was so 'driven'[?] you had to engage her a long time beforehand. The daughter had on a new dress that she said she paid $6 thinking it was cheaper than she could get it done elsewhere but it looked pretty rich[?] to me. Mrs. Lockwood finds time to do a great deal of sewing for herself & it has occurred to me today that I might get her to take a few stitches for me. I was very much disappointed in that green dress I mentioned to you. When it was sent here I found it so spotted & shabby, it was utterly unfit to wear. I need something to wear in the morning so much I should write to Joseph to get something in New York, but for the difficulty of making it."; Joseph getting along well at home; waiting for the engraving to arrive; Mrs. Sullivan lost husband and all her children [?].

Mrs. E.F. Burr ("dear cousin") fr Lizzie H? Lord (12? Quincy St, Brooklyn, NY) 6 Dec 1867[?]; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, Lyme CT, postmarked Brooklyn NY, Dec 7; re wedding, "It was a very pleasant affair. There were about three hundred guests present."; re studies [mostly illegible, ". . .some of Homer. My brother had but just commenced both Greek & Latin. He is [?] to prepare for College as nearly as possible in one year."; mentions Mr. Blakeman.

Mrs. H.A. Burr ("dear Madame); fr J. R[?] Warren, 20 December 1867; re school, "I believe I told you that I should be able to remain in your class this winter. I would gladly do so but I don't think I am a fit subject to remain under your instruction if I was as happy now as I was once I should enjoy it. I am not very intelligent and I think it should be more of a nuisance than a help to you. I thank you for lending me the book. I did not wish to appear mean so I made this explanation. Yours Respectfully, J.B[?] Warren"

Mr. & Mrs. Burr fr A.J. Beach (Deerfield Centre, N.H.), 9 August 1868; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, Lyme, Conn, postmarked Deerfield Centre NH, illegible postmark; re not returning to school, "I feel more & more inclined to think it is not best that I return - best for the school or best for myself. I do not think I was ever in a school where I found it so difficult to get to the heart of any [subjects?] as at Hamburg, & of course my influence, under such circumstances has lessened, indeed I felt that I had very little influence over them anyway[?]. to be sure, there were some exceptions, but most of them seemed[?] so distant. Mrs. Thompson used to speak of the same difficulty, though her influence was far greater than mine. All this week I have been hoping to hear that she would take my place in the school for another year, but as yet no line has come[?] from her. I know you could all be very glad to have her with you & I am sure it would be difficult to find a person better fitted for the work. It seems to me if I was in her place, . . ."; suggests another teacher, from N. Haven, "She is a widow lady, about Mrs. Thompson's age, a very earnest Christian, much resembling Mrs. L in many ways. I think you would be pleased with her. Her father is wealthy & she does not need to teach, but she desires to do so because she thinks in that way she can do the most good in the world. She is a real missionary, . . . Her father's name is Welch."; "A letter from Miss Lizzie Brockway[?] a few days ago brought the tidings of Miss Marvin's death. How shocking the circumstances! Are you sure there is no mistake? It is hard to believe that a girl could commit such a horrible deed! How very desolate & distressed the family must be! My heart aches for them."; weather nice in New Hampshire, raspberries & blackberries, kittens, sewing machine.

EFB ("husband) fr Angie (Clifton) 21 Oct [1868?]; re spa, health, medical treatment, arrived safely, "I had to change cars at Syracuse about 7 in the evening. . . But I must say that the jaunt seems to me all a well person can endure, and am not surprised that Carrie was so prostrated by it."; "Some of the physicians are absent so that Dr. Foster has his hands more than full but after long waiting for him I secured, perhaps one minute of consultation, in which he prescribed an air bath of 2 hours duration, just the time I had set aside for writing to my dear husband, and this same bath has so pressed my poor head that I can hardly tell what I am writing. How shall I describe it? With three others I went into what looked like a very large stove pipe. The door was shut and if we did not look like 4 of the worst convicts ever shut up I do not know what we did resemble. Then the steam was got up with a sound like that you hear on a steamboat and then came the pressure on brain and tympanum. It frightened me a little, for it seemed to me that a little more of the sort would be positively unendurable. But that little did not come, so I survived, but my head feels very badly still."; going to chapel this evening; love to mother, Montie, & EFB, "Carrie looks hardly as well yet as when she was at our house, but I do not think that we ought to be discouraged."

EFB fr Angie (Clifton Springs) 22 Oct 1868; health; Carrie's headache, "It is hard work for her to keep up courage when she does not seem to improve under the treatment, but as we have already heard that this is a common complaint with those who come to these Cures, we so as others do in the dark [?]. These pencil marks [changed from ink to pencil] show that I have gone into my dungeon for the air bath. One of the ladies has furnished a candle to enliven our darkness and I have thought the 2 hours confinement would be more tolerable if I could be chatting meanwhile with my darling mon mari. But Oh dear, O dear, what shall I say. First take something weighing 20 pounds and lay it upon the top of your head and then let someone take 2 pencils and push into your ears up to the last pitch of endurance. Now suppose your hands to be tied so that you cannot help it if he pushes beyond that point, and you can form some idea of my present position and that of 3 other fellow sufferers. One of them tells me that the doors of our prison cannot be opened under 15 min. let come what may. I made another effort today to see the great Mogul ie D. Foster. But I have borne[?] about with me ever since I came into the establishment a somewhat oppressive sense of the fact that I was only one of 300 and the least of those probably. Therefore as one of 300 I secured an audience with the Dr this morning. It lasted probably 3 min. not more. I told him that I should write to my husband today and that he would be anxious to know what was the prospect of my being benefited by treatment here. He told me that it was impossible to tell until I had been here several days & tried the effects of the air baths as deafness was induced my very different causes. I asked if an examination of the ear would not determine the matter. He said no. This ended the conference. I am suffering less today than yesterday and they say that will be the case in every successive day. You will want to know about our rooms. I found that Carrie feared she should not sleep as well if I shared her bed. And then only a dollar and a half per week apiece would be gained by it. So I have a room on the next story. Carrie's room is $16 per week and mine is $17. The reason that mine is $1 more, although on the third floor, is that it is larger and overlooks the streets, while hers looks into a very small court and the building on the other side keeps out the light so that we only see a little strip of sky. It is no place for her, as she is mostly confined to her room and I have been trying today to see if she cannot do better. But we are only 2 out of 300 you know and all that I can get is a promise that the first vacancy that occurs she shall have. I would be quite willing to take a less desirable room for myself, if I could save anything by it, and went to the Office today to see about it. But I found that it would only make $1 difference if I went still higher, and I am now quite a distance from Carrie, so I have thought it best to make no change. Another thing, the bills are to be paid every Sat. morn. I have enough money to pay the first bill, but I shall wait until I hear from you before I give the check. I am expecting the promised reduction, but I fear it is going to costs more for me to stay here than you expected. What a costly thing a wife is, at best! I prithee send us the Congregationalist, A Tract Journal would not come amiss. Books & papers are not to be taken from the Reading Room and 15 cts per week is charged to those who avail themselves of the privileges of it. As Carrie cannot sit there we do not go in at all, so that a paper now & then will be very acceptable. (There are little windows to our prison and people come and peep at us, as if we were wild beasts.) I fear you will never have time or patience to read all this. But what can poor Angie do disserved from her other half and shut up in a prison besides." ; describes chapel service, ". . . and Chaplain seated a la Beecher opens the service by reading a hymn. A lady commences to sing and all fall in - quiet - devotional - soothing. Chaplain says that the subject for the evening is 'Christ our brother', reads select passages of scripture to suit the4 topic. Prayers follow freely and uncalled for. Perhaps there were 20 gentlemen present. The ladies interspersed singing a la Methodists. There were several short addresses on the 'subject' - all to the point. Dr. Foster's was the best. It was a very pleasant meeting . . ."; snowing all day; Carrie a little better; Montie with "grandma"

Angie fr EFB (Lyme) 26 October [1868]; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, Clifton Springs NY, "The Cure[?], postmarked Lyme, Oct 28?; received 2 letters from Angie; went to post office with Montie, "'What shall I say to Mama for you,' said I. Crossing is legs in manly style and throwing back his head reflectively he proceeded to dictate in matter and form as follows, 'Tell her to come home just as soon as she can - tell dear Aunt Carrie and uncle Joseph to come and visit with us, tell Mama if she wont write me a little note that I have been a good boy, and worn[?] my sack[?] and not played with fire; that I am well, that nothing has happened to me, that the house has not broken down, that the chairs have not broken down, that the sideboard has not broken down, that the side of the house has not broken down (and so on, cataloguing many things that meet his eye as if he were taking out administration on the estate) . . ."; spa treatment, "Before this reaches you, you will have completed a week. Had you not better take[?] the treatment still further and keep me advised? As to the pay, I think there would be no impropriety nor indecency in your stating privately at headquarters that you have been informed that the families of clergymen are treated as a discount & inquiring whether it be a fact. Whatever sum is charged per week insist in the check. I send you another check for the 2nd week which you will have to endorse on delivery, after having inserted the sum. Barlow proposed to send Gennie[?] to our school."

EFB fr Angie (Clifton Springs) 29 October 1868; Carrie gets 3 or 4 letters a day; answer to above letter, received the check, "If there is any improvement in my hearing it is so slight that I am not aware of it. Where Joseph got his idea that a week's experiment with the air baths would be any test of their efficacy, I cannot tell. I hear nothing like it. Dr. North said this morning that in four or five weeks one would be able to judge of their effects. I feel very sorry that with all this expense the experiment will not really have been made. But I do not feel as if I could stay any longer, even if you thought it best and as I do not know that you do, I intend to return with Joseph. Perhaps I may reach Lyme in the midnight train next Monday."; "I find here here Miss Goodell, the daughter of the Missionary, and Miss Bruse the sister of Mrs. Thompson's sister's husband. . . . There are 2 new occupants of our air bath today - treated for asthma. It takes as much good nature to get along well in our bath as in a stage coach. I am a model. Can't say as much for all the rest. All I ask is the best chance at our [?] window. The rest dose or knit or talk. What do they want of light."

EFB fr Angie (Clifton Springs) 30 October 1868; arrangements to leave with Joseph; "Dr. Foster and Joseph think it a thousand pities that I should leave before any satisfactory result has been gained. And if a week more would do it, I should be tempted, if I knew mother was better, to stay. But as far as I can learn, 3 weeks would be but a drop in the bucket. People come here and stay by the year, and at the expiration of 2 or 3 they are decidedly better."

Angie fr Carrie (Clifton Sprigs) 7 November 1868; heard from Joseph that Angie reached Lyme, glad to know that mother is "more comfortable", "I do not wonder she dreads Dr. Ely's prescription but it must be very trying not to know what to do for her. I certainly hope nature will effect a speedy cure . . ."; Montie glad to see Angie, "It was a long time to leave the dear little fellow."; health; "Was Mr. Burr disgusted with Clifton Springs because you failed to find two good [?]? Your visit here was such a very bright spot for me & though I was conscious of enjoying it exceedingly at the time I hardly realized how much, till your absence made the darkness so apparent. I did not care to make acquaintances while you were here & after you left I felt almost as dismally strange & forlorn as at first when I went down to the dining room or parlor. Several of your friends have inquired after you, particularly Mrs. Nynde who wished to be remembered to you. I delivered your goodbye to Miss Buise. She said she intended to have seen you before you left. I am glad you retain a pleasant impression of your stay in Clifton Springs. I wish you could have received more benefits & certainly wish I could have your company the remainder of my stay here but the next best thing is to receive your charming letters."; "Poor J [Joseph, probably], I really feel that I have been very selfish in thinking so much of my own grief & loneliness in being separated so long from those I love, forgetting how deeply it affects him, but I think it will be made up to him by my recovered health & strength. I did feel very broken hearted for awhile but Erma[?, Elmina?] did not leave me in peace very long. By the way, I do not know what she could do especially for my comfort, if she was ever so anxious to express her gratitude but if I find my way you may be sure I shall not hesitate to call on her. I think it would have been better policy to have bestowed the gift on Mrs. Lockwood. I took a sulphur bath this morning & she 'forgot to come for me,' so I had the pleasure of trying my own strength, which may not hurt in the end but gives me such a sense of weariness that I must lay aside my pen & fini9sh my letter another day." [letter continued "Monday Morning"]; "I made another attempt to attend church last evening. 'Eva' who sat on the sofa beside me said the minister was Mr. Hall from Auburn. He was a venerable white haired man but his sermon was excellent & his manner so much like our own ministers it seemed very homelike but I suffered so much from neuralgia in my neck & head before it was closed[?] that I felt quite discouraged. I have been into chapel every morning & enjoy that very much. The service is short & I can have my corner. I am not feeling quite as well this morning but I was conscious of being better last week or the latter part of it. I feel somewhat encouraged. My appetite is quite sufficient & I had less pain & a little more strength I think."

Angie fr Carrie (Clifton Springs) 17 November 1868; health; "I had just taken my 'sponge' & laid down to rest, when Miss Dunbar came I with 5 letters for me. . . My good husband thinks he cannot exist any longer without ocular demonstration that I am improving & as he has business to New York & perhaps to Albany he proposes to reach Clifton Springs on Saturday. I wrote him, when he first mentioned it, not to come for I dreaded so much to be left alone again but I find his heart was so much set upon it, that I bade him come. . . I hope Joseph will be able to see some progress. Sometimes I think I can but it is very little. I did not feel quite as well last week as the week before but yesterday & today better again. But the amount of pain depends so much on the amount of exertion I make. I have not been into the parlor since you left but whenever the weather will permit use my spare strength I have in walking once or twice across the balcony. I finally concluded[?] to subscribe to the reading room thinking I might like to step in a few minutes after dinner but I have not felt like it & in fact I need every moment's spare time to satisfy in any manner my numerous correspondents. But I accidentally discovered that the members of the reading room were entitled to take back numbers of the magazines to their rooms, which privilege I have been very glad to avail myself of. I have changed my seat at the table, though I was sorry to leave Mrs. Nynde, but you know I could not carry on much conversation at the table with her & a very unruly disagreeable child took the seat on the other side, so I had no communication with any one at the table. Joseph told Michael to give me a seat with those Hartford ladies when they made a change, so we sit at the table where Mrs. Long[?] was. She left this morning. I like Mrs. Jerome much the best. Mrs. Billings[?] is very stiff in her manners & opinions. I have had your wish a great many times - that I could find one or two ladies just to my mind with whom I might feel well acquainted. That would suffice for my limited social abilities & be very pleasant but that is just what I do not seem to find. Mrs. Spencer has been in to see me once or twice & I have been in her room but she is no more inclined to be easy & affable than myself, though I really think she means to be very kind. She is the wife of that gentleman Joseph knew. I always stop & say a few words to Miss Briese[?] when I meet her. You remember Mrs. Hayden. I enjoy going in to see her very much. She is very sociable & like to have company. I meet Mrs. Nynde every day either in the hall as we come out of the dining room or in going to the chapel & after sit on the sofa together. She inquires after you & was quite pleased when I told her today I had heard from you & Mother was more comfortable, for which I trust I am very thankful. I have thoughts of her so many times & feared she was suffering very much. I do hope now the pain is better the soreness will soon pass away. Tell Mother I do not know whether she will consider it a particularly good symptom or not but I really think I am getting to have her 'flashes.' I am wakened several times during the night with a feeling of intense heat as also during the day." ; [continued Tuesday Evening] "I have been confined to my room 4 or 5 days with a carbuncle & owing to the pain of this & sleepless nights I have suffered from neuralgia in my neck & head the whole time. I have been able to be up around my room some today & hope in a few days to o down stairs. Rather trying to poor human nature but if these things are so beneficial as Dr. North professes to think I must be resigned & take it as a part of the treatment. By the way I am to lose my Dr when the 'Grand Panjandum' returns next week. I hear there is a young doc coming to take his place. Now you can easily imagine this is not very agreeable. For some reason the [?] has not left these parts & I am still favored with Mrs. Lockwood's attention & inattention. I see by a Bulletin J [Joseph] sent me that Ed[?] has been nominated as one of 'the [?] of the Cars[?] of 90.' What this is you will probably understand better than I do. Joseph has also received an appointment which he considers quite flattering. He goes to Washington the first week in Jan probably to be the bearer of the Electoral votes of the state. Have you heard Mr. Hyde's last plans? He has written to Joseph urging him in the strongest language to force if necessary Mosely to a payment & with the money bring a horse [?] New York. . . I hear Millie has been to N 'on a shopping excursion' but I fancy to have a personal interview with Miss M[?]. If so I shall be anxious to know the results. J said she was very thin." [continued on Wednesday]; clothing; "I think I am improving in all respects & shall hope to be able to leave my room tomorrow. Mrs. Spencer was in here this afternoon. She had a new dress which looked so nice & comfortable that I remarked on the same. She said she thought a good deal of it because it was made out of an old one. It was originally a magenta merino[?] with black spots & she had it dyed a dark [?] color showing[?] the black spots of course. It as made for a morning dress & was very handsome. It reminded me of your dress & I think if it were mine I would not have it dyed black but some dark color for the figure will show."

Angie fr Carrie (Clifton Springs) Tuesday [c. 20 December 1868]; Carrie's health, "rather poorly", "A week ago last Friday I had one of my very severe attacks of neuralgia. I had been suffering all day & especially in the evening. Dr. north had been in two or three times & left medicine & said he would come in again but either forgot me or supposed I would get along. Mrs. L [Lockwood?] did not come in & after the gas was turned off I knew I must trust in my Heavenly Father alone for help. My head was nearly bursting & how I could live till morning I did not know. About 12 I heard the watchman & knocked on the wall. He came in & wanted to know what he could do. I sent him for the Dr. who made his appearance immediately & never left me for two hours except to call Emma who applied hot fomentations to my head, neck, stomach etc, all night. About 5 I got a little [?] & slept a little. Dr. North wanted to know if I had had many such attacks as that & what had relieved them. I told him nothing but morphine. But I must not make too long a story. I did not seem to get over the attack entirely & Sunday & Monday was confined to my bed with another headache though not violent. Still it does not leave me & I fear I am not going to feel very well at present. I asked Dr. North this morning why it was so. He said, 'O, you are falling under the influence of the treatment now, have got thoroughly stirred up, & the system is making a great effort to throw off the morbid matter which has been accumulating for years & of course you feel worse than when it was in a dormant state.' So much for their theory & for ought I can see, we must accept it & hope for a better state of things by & by. This seems rather discouraging at the end of nearly three months treatment & I think will try the faith & patience of us all in the Water Cure. I do hope to feel better before J [Joseph] makes his next visit which will be after his trip to Washington & Annapolis, the sec'd week in Jan. . . I must tell you the surprise he got up for me for Christmas. He had three pictures taken, one of Sam & Ed, taken when they were home Thanksgiving, one of Lizzie alone & a [?] of himself Hal & Lib. . . I am very much disappointed in Lizzie's picture - especially the one taken along. I thought when I first looked at it I should not have known it was her. . . I think you will be glad to hear that I have at last been able to make a very happy exchange of rooms. It is a north room on the platform. Do you remember up a few steps on the same floor. It is very small but has a bright pretty carpet & black walnut furniture & best of all a luxurious bed. I can hardly tell you what I suffered from the wretched bed in No. 9. There are very few such rooms in the house & I fully believe a kind Providence made this opening for me. . . I have fully appreciated it since I have been confined to my room & bed so much. I believe I have not been down stairs but one day since I wrote before or been into the chapel. I am feeling some better today. Dr. North says I am going to come out of this before a great while & I shall find I have taken a long step ahead. We will hope so. I shall be very sorry to have Dr. North leave as I suppose he will tomorrow. Dr. Foster I hear arrived yesterday but I have neither seen or heard him yet. Miss Dunbar expressed herself very much delighted at seeing him. What he will do with me I am wanting anxiously to learn. I dread very much being turned over to one of the other Physicians." ; describes plants in her room; "A great many of the patients have left. The dining room was getting to look quite deserted the last time I was there & I hear of some new ones leaving every day. Some of them are coming back, after two or three weeks & I suppose there will be some new ones. Miss Buse[?] came in on Monday to bid me goodbye. . . "I must tell you what a treat Ed & George had. The Yale ball club decided to send a delegate to the Washington Convention & Ed was the fortunate one. So he had a chance to see the wonders of the Capitol & make George a short visit which was duly appreciated."

Angie fr Carrie (Clifton Springs) 29 December 1868; "I had a severe attack of neuralgia Christmas Eve which prevented my going down to the parlor to see the 'trees' which I had been hoping to do all the week & which I think, from the accounts I have heard, must have been beautiful to look at. A party went to Rochester a day or two before & procured a great many bunches of flowers from the hot house there. Miss Dunbar - I do remember my faults this day - told me she had a beautiful bouquet & Dr. Foster received a large basket of flowers of the choicest kinds. Some of those that adorned the tree were sent around the next day to 'the room patients' & your humble servant was made happy by receiving a wee bunch. Of course my Christmas was passed mostly on the bed but I tried to be as 'merry' as possible over a bit of roast turkey & a piece of mince pie which was brought for my dinner. It would have been difficult for me to have realized that it was indeed the 'merry festival' we think so much of at home had I not heard the 'greeting' so many times repeated in the hall & heard sundry significant sounds of trumpets etc. I am glad dear little Montie was made - this is that beautiful ink you admired so much - happy by a Christmas tree. There seems to be a great fascination about them to all children & grown up people too, who enjoy seeing children happy. . . I finished that pair of red stockings Lizzie commenced so long ago & was going to send them by mail judging from the rate of the engraving you sent me but I wanted to send an apron I had made for Lib since I have been here so she would get it at Christmas & Emma when she came in for my bath offered to take it to the Office & put on the necessary stamps & when she came back she surprised me by saying she had to put on 6 which I thought would be as much as the stockings were worth. I was sorry to hear Sa [Sarah] had been sick again. Poor child, I don't know what is best for her. I should feel very bad to have her go away & yet I can see it is bad for Mr. Hyde to have his family so far away from his business. I am sorry Millie can not come home to see her mother oftener. . . J [Joseph] wrote me he heard Wm. Morrison was married to Ann Packer but as you have never mentioned it concluded it is not so. Have you had any sleighing? It has been constant good sleighing here the whole of this month. . . Mrs. Thorp froze her cheek quite badly going out a short time Christmas day."; "I want to 'state a few more facts' as Mother used to say & as I must lie down I shall be obliged to use a pencil. I have taken a few extra steps today which is the cause of the increased pain in my spinal column tonight but I have been slowly creeping up the hill since last Friday & hope to escape any more acute attacks. Did I tell you some time ago that Dr. North was trying Electricity up & down the back. After that severe attack in the night he ordered it 'suspended for the present.' He said the spinal cord as too much excited. Then I went through a vigorous course of cupping[?] without any apparent effect & now have the ice bags applied again. Dr. Foster returned about a week ago & very pleasant it seemed to see his assisting countenance around. There is something in his face or presence that inspires one with hope & confidence. I hold him one morning when he came in to see me my husband was very anxious to know what he thought of me. 'Tell him I think you are a very good woman.' I told him he knew that already & wanted he should tell him something he did not know so well. Whereupon we had quite a laugh. He said it might be a long road & a devious one but he expected I was going to get well. Joseph wrote Dr. North before he left that he was very anxious Dr. Foster should attend to me when he went away & he is doing so at present. Dr. North was very kind to me & I felt sorry to have him leave. Miss Dunbar expressed a great deal of pleasure at seeing her adopted father. She had her arms full of pretty books one morning when she came in with my letters, which she said he had just given to her. I went to her room this morning to state your case. She said they had some ointment which she thought would relieve all the symptoms if you used it long enough. She said she got some put up for me. I expect J [Joseph] here the first of next week on his return from W[ashington] & I will get him either to send it to you or take it as far as Lyme. . . I went to chapel this morning the first time in many weeks & such a little handful of people. There was no one to play the organ & an old gentleman with a tremendous voice did the singing. There are a great many patients confined to their rooms Mrs. L says. There are four regular nurses & they think there ought to be another one. The change I mentioned has not been made after all & I am very glad for I dislike Kate as a nurse very much."; plants froze; ". . . I was able to go down & eat a New Years dinner – roast turkey or pint[?] oysters with tomatoes - & cranberries & mince pie & ice cream!"; "Last evening Dr. Foster & Dunbar gave me an examination & Dr. F pronounced me in better condition than he expected. In some points there was quite a gain & yet judging from my own feelings I am no better than when you were here. After supper I sat down in the parlor for an hour. I believe the first time since you were here & now I am suffering from that bad pain in the back of my head & neck. But I somehow have a great deal of faith in the Dr's opinion & have now pretty good courage. In fact it is quite a marvel to me that I am able to be in every measure reconciled to this prolonged separation from my family but I cling to the hope that I may be able to be of more use & comfort to my family than I have been the last two or three years. Perhaps you will be interested to know that my brown merino [a dress?] made its first appearance at the dinner table today. After waiting several weeks hoping to feel well enough to commence the work of remodeling it myself when J was here at Thanksgiving he found a dressmaker in the village – not the [?] one who was to have it done if possible the week after. She brought it back this week Monday but to my disgust after she left I discovered several grievous faults which I have been using all my spare time & strength to [?] to correct. I have needed a dress for morning wear very much . . ."; mentions other patients, reading group

EFB ["My Dear Sir"] fr Anson J. Beach (Deerfield Center NH) 3 Sept 1868; with envelope addressed to D.F. Burr, D.D., Lyme, CT, postmarked Deerfield; in answer to EFB and Mrs. Burr's letter; "The many kind notes from different individuals at H have made it very hard for me to say that I could not take up my labors at that post again. Indeed, all along, if I had [?] my feelings & inclinations I should have returned to you; for I love my old scholars, every one of them. I have so often & so long carried them to Jesus, that they seem a part of my very self. The people too I like, & the place. But shall I tell you just how the whole matter seemed to me in looking it all over? In the first place I was not well & strong enough to do all the work in such a school, & do it well. 2nd The difficulty of finding anyone who could afford to labor with me. 3rd My own primary embarrassment. 4th Without any seeking of my own a situation has offered to me which promises to away with these difficulties I should [?] in returning to H. 5th If I left, you might be able to find someone who could do all the work, & so not need an assistant. On the other hand I know how unfortunate it is for a school to be constantly changing teachers. I have made a beginning & know perhaps the needs of the scholars better than another could know them for some months to come. Neither have I been unmindful of all your painstaking, all the care & expense you have bestowed upon the school. The interest you put in its welfare & now the trouble & care it will give you to find a new teacher, one who will labor dutifully for the highest good of the pupils. . . ."

42 15 Clifton Springs ~~1869-1870~~ [Letters 1869-1875]

Angie fr Carrie (Clifton Springs) 18 Jan 1869; ". . . my days are so occupied with one thing & another that I find very little time for writing letters. They are all pleasant people in this hall & inclined to be very social & in some respects it is very pleasant but I find these frequent calls & chats by the way, take up a great deal of my spare time. You may be surprised to find I have discovered a sort of cousin among them. Mrs. Spencer told me soon after I came to the Cure, that there was a lady here who was very anxious to see me, as her maiden name was Selden but as she was mostly confined to her room I did not have the opportunity, till I moved to this hall & into the room she had just exchanged for one a trifle larger, a few doors beyond. Mrs. Frazier[?] says the Seldens are all cousins & when Joseph was here he & Mrs. Bickford concluded there was no doubt about it. The first time he came here she saw him & without knowing his name, she remarked to a lady that that gentleman looked so much like one of her brothers whose name was Joseph Selden. She is very lady-like & lovely in her manners, evidently one of the first families in Chicago, yet assuming so airs & quite fond of her new cousins. I did not intend to spin so long a yarn about Mrs. Bickford & will hasten to mention some one more interesting to you. Can you guess what particular friend of yours made a short visit to Clifton? No less a personage than Miss Beach. Perhaps you have heard her speak of Mrs. McKin[?] I understood her, Miss B, to say her husband was a partner of two gentlemen in whose family she is staying and she came with Mr. McKinsty[?] on a visit to his wife about a week since. I went into the parlor that evening for a wander[?] & Miss Goodell came & introduced Miss Beach as a particular friend of my sister. It was so sudden & unexpected a meeting I could not recall

all I knew of her at once but with some hints from herself I remembered she was teaching in a family & that you wrote to her from here. She was very much surprised to find me well enough to be out of my room, as she had judged from your letters I was suffering so much. I do not wonder you loved her so well she appears so lovely. Mrs. Bickford & one or two other ladies were sitting on the sofa with me that evening & she had just remarked 'what a fine face that lady had' referring to Miss Beach, when Miss Goodell spoke to me. She told me Dr. Foster advised her to remain a month or two. A few days before she had taken a long sleigh ride which had brought on some old troubles but she had not come prepared to stay & thought it would not be necessary. She wished me to remember her to you but perhaps she has written you herself before this."; saw Miss Phillips in chapel; enjoyed Joseph's visit, "He treated me to a sleigh ride - the first time I had been outside the Cure - and though a very short one I was as much exhausted as I used to be after my short rides at your house & did not get rested for a day or two but the Dr said it was because I had used a new set of muscles. Thursday I thought I would venture a little further than usual, to make sure that I was using all the strength I had & walked around at the end of the parlor towards the gymnasium but I have not felt as well since. So I suppose the only way for me to do, is to try to wait patiently for health & strength to come as Dr. Foster is so confident it will in time. But it is very trying to be away from my family so long. J encourages me to think they are getting along nicely at home though missing me sadly."; [mother suffering with rheumatism], "Did she think it was a result of taking cold?"; "I did not know that you were 'confused' in Dr. Foster's presence. Don't you remember I used to say he always worked me up into a fever by his dubious way of talking to me & even now I hardly know how to take him sometimes. Last evening he opened the door & looked in. 'Well, you have not been good today.' I, of course opened my eyes & inquired what I had done amiss. He said I had not been to his office. I said he did not tell me to do so. He 'thought it was time some of his calls were returned.' I told him the pain in my neck was bad. 'Yes, stiff necked & rebellious, this is because you have not done your duty.' Then he looks at me & laughs & enjoys my somewhat puzzled or confused look. Whether he wishes to be relieved of the trouble of coming to my room or designed it as a little joke I am left to surmise. But he has been very kind & attentive calling twice every day & always has some little 'pleasantry' - Indeed, I am not the woman of the Institution. I see those so much worse than myself I feel that I never ought to complain. I laugh at Joseph for talking & writing to the Dr as though his wife was of more consequence than all the rest. J only stayed three days the last time & it seemed very short - & made my heart ache to have him leave me. Still it is a great satisfaction on the whole to us both. He proposes to leave home the last of next month for one of his long business trips & he will take Clifton Springs into his route."; weather, sunny, "I always walk out on the balcony whenever I can, sometimes two or three times a day I inhale as much of the 'genuine article' as possible though it savors so strongly of sulphur I cannot relish it. I believe it is just as disagreeable to me as it was when I first came here. I hope you have received the ointment which J took with him & was going to have Ed leave at Lyme when he returned to New Haven. When I asked Miss Dunbar[?] what was the damage she said 'fiddle' & turned away quite insulted. Mrs. Jerome[?] is still here & has grown very lively & pleasant since Mrs. Kellogg left. I do not know why it was but she seemed very much subdued when Mrs. K arrived. Her husband made her a visit a week since. I only saw him at the table. He was quite a pleasant looking gentleman & not old but quite bald. I wrote to J I much preferred gray heads to bald ones. He was written to Monty[?] who writes it is impossible to furnish the money at present but promises great things for the future. My room has the same view tht you had & though it is small it is very pleasant. The pretty carpet & furniture make all the difference in the world. If it only had a few hours of sunlight each day it would be all I could ask but I cannot make up my mind to change it for one on the other side of the hall, with poor fixings & that dismal roof. It is abundantly warm & there is not danger of either myself or plants freezing when I leave the window too far down. Do you remember after Mother Selden died, exchanging my velvet hat and some other things for green backs? And my mother gave me $5 when she came to Norwich two years ago to buy me something nice. Well, I have kept those sums intending to treat myself some day, and when Joseph was here I asked him the probable value of my old watch chain & expense of a new one. The result of all this was my receiving last week a suspiciously bulky letter which on being opened, revealed a small box containing a beautiful chain with a little jet cross for a chain which my husband said was his gift. So dear sister, I have what I have long wanted & receiving it as a present I do not consider it as an extravagance. I look upon it with a great deal of pleasure remembering three very dear friends. . . I was glad to hear Sa [Sarah] was well. Are the boys attending Miss Conklin's school this winter? . . ."

Angie ("Dear Sister Angie") fr E.H. Burr [EFB's mother or sister-in-law?] (Weston) 6 Aug [1869?]; "Yours of Aug 1st we have received. We thank you for your kind & cordial invitation to visit Hamburg & our will is to accept of it. But I have been quite unwell for some months with disease of the heart, & though for a week or two past I have felt a little better, yet I do not feel able to endure well the fatigue, even of so short a journey. Besides, my husband thinks he cannot leave home to stay more than a single night, except in his vacation, which you know he is not accustomed to take until Oct. And now as it is not convenient for us to visit you, we return the compliment to ask you to visit us. It is your vacation, & we do not see anything to hinder your coming to Weston, bringing the 'Prince Imperial' along, & Grandma also. So come, & we will do the agreeable & the best of our ability. And please remember that you live as near to us, as we do to you, & that it is a long time since you have been here & that I have never seen your 'olive plant'. Hoping to have a favorable answer from you, I remain yours sincerely, E.H. Burr"

Angie fr Carrie (Clifton Springs) 12 Feb 1869; ". . . I was just recovering from a very severe neuralgic headache when your letter came to cheer my loneliness & in just a week from the time I was able to get out of my room after that attack I was seized with another still more violent [?] which resisted all the remedies for 24 hours & did not leave me very easy for several days. I am once more slowly creeping up the hill but have not felt well enough to go to the dining room yet. I asked Dr. Foster if he did not think it very discouraging when I had been under the discipline of the Water Cure more than 4 months. He said No, it had not discouraged him one bit. It had developed some new features of the case & he should change the treatment. I fancy he has decided it is too tough a case to be cured by those infinitesimal homeopathic doses & I am now taking 6 large black pills a day. He calls it Sulph of Beburin[?] & says 'it will sometimes knock this kind of neuralgia higher than a kite.' I have taken fresh courage & am waiting to see it fly. Joseph has been very confident I should be able to go home the 1st of Apr & the children are counting the weeks when they can see their Mother but the Dr says I must not set my heart upon it, for he did not think it will be safe for me to leave here before settled[?] weather & talks about balmy air. We do not have much of that before June & not even then last Spring. But I earnestly hope for better thinks. My heart is sick with hope so long deferred. Now, my good sister before I go any further I propose to give you a small scolding for leaving my carelessly written sheets in the Revds[?] way. I have always felt as safe as a 'bug in a rug' to scribble all manner of nonsense not dreaming his honor would deign to glance at them. But I must say I have seldom in the course of my life felt more highly complimented or more amazed that he should have waded through the entire letter. . . [excuses for not writing her mother sooner, many people have colds] . . . "Dr. Foster was saying this morning he had hardly known such a winter 20 years, so mild & yet sleighing the entire season. He says sometimes they do not get out a sleigh at all. We have a great many days that seem like Apr, the snow melting & running off in streams & yet before it is entirely gone another snowstorm makes it appearance. I was quite distressed to know your eyes were giving out again & cannot help wondering you try to manufacture collars when they can be bought equally good - poor economy sister dear it seems to me. . . do not attempt to write if it hurts your eyes. . . [re sewing, clothing] I feel I am quite too late to make any suggestions in regard to your dress - but if not I would make the skirt without a trail - nearly[?] the same length all around & trim it with the same if you have abundance of material, either a straight piece about $\frac{1}{4}$ yd wide plaited to resemble fluting fastened at the bottom or a bias flounce bound on each edge & plaited short distance from the top, not very full or you can put some narrow trimming at the top of the flounce & save binding one edge & this same[?] trimming would finish the waist & sleeves or they could have a narrow ruffle of the same but as you know you cannot very well go amiss in trimmings. I wish I could send you a pattern of the gored skirt for you ought not to attempt to cut one without. They are made without any plaiting except two or three small plaits on the hips[?] & perfectly plain in front - the back breadth not gored but gathered full. I will give you the width of the different gores in my [?] - front 30 inches 2° 19 in 3° 22 in & whole breadth of the [?] back. Your friend Mr. [?] is back again so I concluded he is receiving some benefits from the air-baths. I walked around there one evening with a lady before going up to my room & I do assure you my pity[?] was more strongly enlisted for your experience therein[?] than ever. They have a dismal look from the outside & I earnestly hope I shall not have occasion to take an interior view. The 'deaf girl' has become my next door neighbor & sits opposite me at the table. Miss Phillips told me she was improving slowly & if she had the means to stay here for a year while her health was restored she should probably regain her hearing. I have been disappointed in not receiving a visit from my husband this month as I expected, for the Lock business is in commotion[?] & J is determined to get out of it, if he loses every cent he has invested and he thinks he shall feel 10 years younger when he is relieved of the load he has carried the last three years. Bu I cannot help feeling sad that he should have so much time, energy & money. I do not know what is before us but J writes very cheerfully & hopes it will be all for the best. If there is any prospect of my returning in Apr I do not think he will come before. . . You need not envy my 'lady like life', 'The stern realities of housekeeping' would be much more to my mind. I have quite lost my relish for Water-Cure [?] of late but as I do not seem to fall away I need not complain. . . [visit from Miss Goodell] . . . Have you ever seen a book entitled 'The Cross Bearer'? Dr. Foster lent it to me one Sabbath & I was very much pleased with it & hope to own the book someday. . ."

Angie fr Carrie (Clifton Springs) 13 March 1869; re Angie's eyes, weather, snow, ". . . the sleigh bells still jingle as noisily as ever & without any cessation since November. My good husband returned & spent last Sabbath with me & treated me to a fine sleigh ride on Monday morning before he left, which I hardly need say I enjoyed exceedingly 'notwithstanding' some fatigue but this was less than before & the Dr acknowledged I was getting so independent he believed he should have to haul[?] down & say I could go home after all before May. I am gaining strength & flesh (I will have you to guess how much I weigh) more decidedly the last few weeks, but I cannot perceive that the trouble in my back is much relieved or is likely to be. It mars the joyful anticipation of seeing my home & children to think I must return with the same poor back, but the Dr confidently asserts that the trouble is purely neuralgic & will gradually disappear. I can only hope it may be so. . . [weather, etc.] . . . The time for my return will depend somewhat on J's business arrangements. I did sympathize with you in your dismay at the result of Mr. Burr shopping but am very glad you got out of it so well. I am in such a fair way to sport a new dress. I am sure it will look very nicely. I am troubled to think of your destitution after the 1st of April but I hope you will be able to supply yourself with some efficient substitute. It is so early in the season to commence housecleaning I fear you will take cold. I do not know whether Ellen will make any exertions in that direction before I go home though it would be very much like her & would be a great relief to me if I did not feel that there must be some change in the carpets, one or two new ones, for I know some of them will not hold together to be shaken again. I thought so last spring & perhaps the '[?] on ways & means' will not be forthcoming this spring no more than last. But I think even ragged carpets will not prevent my home from being dearest spot on earth to me. . . Joseph did not succeed in accomplishing all his business & returned to Clifton to spend the Sabbath starting for home in an early train this morning, leaving me rather lonely. I did so long to go with him but I must get my courage skewed up to endure this separation from my family for another month. Ed will be home then to welcome his mother. He writes that he enjoyed Mr. Burr lecture exceedingly & regrets that he was obliged to discontinue them. Many thanks for a picture of the 'JD'. I shall take it in & show it to Miss Phillips. I was sorry to hear that Uncle Franklin & Aunt Catherine were so much afflicted in the illness [of?] their daughter. Is it not strange that she & her mother should have had consumption. How long it has been since I have seen Uncle & Aunt. I think I visited them with you once but it is so long ago I cannot tell when or how it happened. You will miss your correspondence with Uncle Holleck. Has mother any other brothers living besides Uncle Franklin? I was surprised to hear of Mrs. Lord's trip to Washington. Judging from her appearance when I have seen her she must have had some 'fixing' to do or did she go just as she was? It is melancholy to think the Griffin girls are so delicate. When is Eva expected home? Does Mary get along nicely with her two babies? Did I write you Prof Mather of Amhurst has brought his wife here. It seems she spent a year here before her marriage. Her own physician thought she could not live but a short time when she was brought here & Dr. Foster says it was no [???] she would have died if she had not come here. She completed the cure by going 'abroad' for a year afterward & she says she had enjoyed very comfortable health since till the last year. I find her very pleasant & enjoy her society more than most of the ladies here. Your old friend Mrs. Lynch[?] is [?] gaining very fast now. She thinks she will remain till June. Do excuse this soiled sheet. I went to my desk for a half sheet to scribble a little more while lying down to rest after my bath this afternoon & did not observe how bad it looked till I turned it over. Give my love to Mother & tell her I am beginning to anticipate her strawberry visit this year with more than ordinary pleasure. . ."

"My dear Cousin" [Angie?] fr Elizabeth L. (Auburn NY) 23 Aug 1869; "During the present summer I have often been reminded of my little visit to you two years ago, which was so pleasantly & unfortunately interrupted (if you can fancy such a [?] occurrence). I came up here in March with Uncle Burr to make him & his family a little [?] visit. I was an invalid during the winter and the journey so wearied me I was obliged to prolong my visit. Then I seemed to be gaining and the Dr. [illegible. . .] seemed to understand my case and do [??] until he left for his return farewell trip. I made many pleasant friends here by that time and so I am here yet. The past year has been one of great discipline to me but its close has been quiet & [?]. My new [?] should come in September as then I should seem to make my beginnings, and this year I trust will end as it bids [?] to begin with good health. I [?] tell you what Uncle Burr[? Brown?] has been to me. Indeed his coming home at this particular time seemed one of the providences of my life. You probably [?] John Lord and he told you of their intended trip overland. I was a very pleasant journey. We hear from Aunt Elizabeth they sailed from San Francisco Aug 4th and by this time must be in Yokohama. I suppose you have heard that Uncle is in the employ of the Japanese Government and is to open a school at Niigata[?] which in time will become a college. Will your husband think it too much of an undertaking to cross the continent & go to Japan to lecture to students there. I cannot tell you how much I enjoyed Rev Burr's book which he so kindly sent me. I lent[?] it very generally among my acquaintances, even to the little shopmen[?]at the corner, who 'considered[?] that anybody in the country could write such a book.' His idea of learning was [?] to his minister tho he read the daily paper. Will Mr. Burr favor the world and the little shopmen with anything more? I hope so. Our family [?] broken up now but Mother will begin housekeeping in Sept. I wish you would come and see us then. I often think of the pleasant days spent with you and wish I could return the [?] . . ."

postmarked Jamestown NY, July 31; "I did not write to you yesterday tho' I sent you a paper wh. Contained somethings that will be almost as new to you as they were to myself. As my lecture was unwritten & I had no chance to look over what the reporters took down they have made not a few blunders. It seemed very well received and Dr. Vincent was unwise enough to say that it was 'the most magnificent lecture that Chautauqua had had in the whole course of its history!' Another man came on the platform after the lecture and said, 'The best thing I ever heard - I swear' So you see the religious impression I made was very poor. Yesterday I had a public 'breaking of lances[?]' with Prof. Winchell on the Neb. Hypothesis which seemed to give the people considerable amusement and was conducted with good nature. I have been asked to go to Jamestown[?] tomorrow to preach by one of the Presbyterian pastors there and shall probably go. We have now very sufficient lodgings & very excellent board; and the Scientific Cong. Being one I am tempted to stay a few days and rest; for thus far the parts[?] I have taken have been wearing rather otherwise. Nothing from home yet. Address me at 'Fairpoint, Chautauqua Co., New York'. Most Aff. E.F.B."

Angie fr Sa, 13 Dec 1869; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, Lyme, Conn, postmarked Bayonne NJ, Jan 11; finished Ed & Harry's shirts; weather; "We manage to keep pretty comfortable. The kitchen is so small and the range so large there is no difficulty in keep[ing] warm there. In the sitting room it is not so easy but still practicable thus far but if we should have very cold weather I think we may shiver some. We keep the fire all night and it is decidedly comfortable to dress by in the morning. . . Now after finishing up the day's work I have still half an hour more or less of daylight left which I should like to improve in writing but with Freddie sitting very close to me I fear I shall not make very rapid progress. I had a charming walk to church yesterday in the afternoon through a pleasing mixture of soft snow and mud and once I came near slipping down but I dexterously managed to maintain an upright position. Mr. Jones gave us a very good sermon and I rode home behind two nicely trotting black horses, a nice young lady in the seat beside me and two nice young gentlemen on the front seat - very nice to be sure, only I was miserably chilly riding where as I was very comfortable walking. These good people gave Mr. Hyde a ride home in the morning. The boys seem to be much interested in the Sabbath school which is held at nine in the morning and meets again at half past 2 for singing - Just now they are practicing some songs for their twelfth anniversary. Mr. Lane, the superintendant, who kindly gave me a ride home two Sabbaths ago, told me the children had not found any fault with the tunes selected this time. Sometimes they say 'couldn't you find any better tune than that' and other things equally complimentary. I thought they were not afraid to speak their minds. It would do you good to see how finely Harry progresses. He is studying Geography and arithmetic and is also learning to write quite fast I think. Willie is doing pretty well too and like going much better than he expected. Albert is studying at home and assists me and I should miss him sadly if he father should succeed in finding a place for him of which there seems no immediate prospect. Freddie is in excellent health and says 'praps Aunt Angie will come here sometime and Montie' and I encourage the hope. Oh Angie if you could come how happy I should be. Are you without a girl yet? I hope not as Carrie says I am always troubled about you when you have no girl. Many thanks for the handkerchiefs that Millie brought me. I take a [great] deal of comfort wearing the green dress of Carrie's in the evening. It is so chilly and cold then that I cannot be comfortable at all in the same dress I wear in the morning. Mr. Hyde wishes me to ask Mr. Burr for a letter of recommendation for us to the first Reformed Church of the city of Bayonne NY. . . Mr. H says he paid $1.20 for two plough points for Mr. McCurdy and asked him to pay the same to Mr. Burr. Did he do so?"

Angie fr Sa (Bayonne NJ) 16 April 1870; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, Lyme, Conn, postmarked Bayonne NJ, illegible date; "I had another attack of sore throat a few days ago more severe than the first. I went to the Druggists and asked Dr. Derby if he had anything for a sore throat. After looking at my throat he prescribed a gargle, which on trial I thought the most disagreeable preparation I had ever put into my mouth, a mustard plaster on the outside but not to be kept on long enough to produce a blister, and besides I was to sweat my throat by holding my face over a pail of boiling hot water and covering both with a sheet for four or five minutes. I thought at first I should suffocate during the last operation but my throat was so painful that I was willing to do almost anything and the result of the whole was truly delightful and my recovery was rapid. Mr. Morris also sent me a box of Bushton's[?] cherry pectoral Troches[?] by Albert and between the two I hope to keep the enemy at bay but Mr. Folger told me last evening at the preparatory lectures that this is a climate for sore throat. However he consoled me by telling me I should get acclimated after a while. But all this is not at all what I set out to say. I asked Dr. Derby how long children could give the whooping cough after they began to cough and he said only for two or three weeks. Now will commenced coughing before the middle of March and Freddie before the 1st of April so you see, according to Dr. Derby there will be do danger of Montie's taking the disorder and therefore may we not hope to see you here before long. . . [weather, admitted to church, letter continued on Monday] . . . I enclose for Montie a choice specimen off Willie's manufacture which he forgot to send in his own letter. He does not cough much now but he has been troubled with the earache a great deal lately but he has not had it today and I hope he will not have it again. Freddie coughs pretty hard especially in wet weather. Millie has had very much such a sore throat as Albert and I have I should judge from her account of it but was quite well when she wrote. . . [in a separate note] I fear we shall not see you so soon as I hoped on account off the whooping cough but it is a good time of the year to have it. I have had a very severe cold myself - 4 days of headache and 8 days of painful sore throat has used up a considerable portion of my strength and spirits but my throat is decidedly better today and I feel much encouraged. Shall I write to Sister Hannah and inform her of Brother Francis' death or have you done so. . ."

Angie fr Sa, 24 June 1870; "Your letter of June 14th was like — Oh what shall I liken it with! Well, a bath on the shady side of Lake Rogers this hot afternoon. . . [looking forward to Angie & mother's visit] It will not disturb my domestic arrangements at all. I can make up a bed on the floor for Montie in your room, or he can sleep up stairs with Harry, as you prefer. As to 'how much I can stand' I think I can stand a good deal of that sort of thing. Now, as to my coming to see you the thing is not to be thought of for this reason, that Ed, in whom I depended to keep house during my absence, a little more than a week ago, was offered a place at S.H. & G's which as Albert says, he indignantly accepted, so there is nothing for me now but to stay at home. I trust therefore my dear friends will come the oftener to see me. I wonder when Carrie proposes to make me a visit. I have not written to her for an age. I have so much to do and am such a miserably slow hand at doing anything that requires any exertion, owing to natural indolence combined with the languor inseparable from hot weather, that I have not found time . . . We hear often from Mille and she seems to be enjoying herself. I was not surprised to learn of Mr. Parker's marriage. I should not think they would remain in H. Mr. H. received $2.50 frn Mr. Burr. I did not think we owed a whole year's slip rent. Did Mr. Burr include the money he received from Mr. McCurdy? He did not mention it. . . [re Angie's visit] if you go to the Bergen Point Station you will find Mr. Connelly waiting there with two carriages and he will take you here for fifty cents. If you should find both carriages engaged he will come back for you, if you ask him to — very soon — Or if you should by any mishap miss the hack, you can cross the street to the Real Estate Exchanges which is nearly opposite the station to the left and there you will find Albert most likely, who will be able to give you further instructions. . ."

EFB (Rev. Dr. Burr) fr Austin Phelps (Saratoga NY) 20 Oct 1875; [entire letter, re Clifton Springs] Oct 20 1875/ Saratoga N.Y./ Rev Dr. Burr/ Dear Brother/ An intelligent answer to your inquiry about Clifton depends on the object one has in going there. The thing which distinguishes the place is the natural & very strong sulphur springs which give sulphur baths such as no artificial compound can furnish. The atmosphere is impregnated with sulphur, and is a valuable tonic for a month or two, till the system becomes acclimated to it. Anyone who needs sulphur treatment could hardly fail to be benefitted there./ In other respects, the Establishment is like other Sanitariums - physicians not remarkable, but good - a homelike place for so large a house, with good attendance, pleasant rooms, many of them - and one of the most delightful homes, religiously that I ever saw. The religious history of the Establishment is a remarkable episode in the history of Devine Grace. I have no doubt that many have been cured there, by the sanitary influence of the religious atmosphere./ The chief good which I obtained there, was from breathing the sulphur air, during the first six weeks of my stay there./ Thanks for your kind inquiry about my health. The fluctuations sometimes are discouraging. But on the whole I see great improvement. If no new ill develops itself, I shall expect to lecture again next year. If not, be it as God wills!/ Very truly yours/ Austin Phelps"

Aunt Angie fr Millie (Black Jack Douglas Co. K.) 12 Jan 1870; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, Lyme, Conn, postmarked Blackjack, Jan (illegible); entire letter, westward move, health: "Jan 12th 1870, Black Jack Douglas Co. K./ Dear Aunt Angie,/ I hope a short note will be more acceptable to you than nothing, for I have promised a dozen people or more a note immediately on my arrival so of necessity they must be short./ Well my dear Aunt, we are safely here, thanks to a kind Providence, after having had a very pleasant trip. We also made some calls on the way, which we enjoyed highly, especially the visit at Mother's. I hope Mamma won't feel badly about my coming away. Please do your best at writing her and offering consolation./ I feel a long distance from home. Everything is so different here, scenery, manners, customs, homes & people. But I shall endeavor to be a good girl and be content with such things as I have. I hope dear Grandmother will be relieved when she hears that we made the journey without accident. Have you ever crossed prairies Auntie? It seemed very odd to me, and it seems odder still to live on one. Will's brother Horatio and his wife are very pleasant people & I shall like them very much, I am sure. Please don't be shocked at the cognomen of this place but write me. I shall want a great many letters now./ The chief church here is Presbyterian which I shall of course attend. We only have a minister on[?] Sunday mornings in a month, which I shall not enjoy much. What do you hear from Aunt Carrie? I think I must send her a line. It must be beautiful on these Kansas prairies in summer. Indeed it is pleasant now and very mild. I should think it might be a very healthy climate. Have you all recovered from the effects of that peculiar epidermis? I like to think that I helped trim the old church the last thing when I came away. I hope I may help again sometime. Will likes it very much out here & I should if there were some familiar faces. Love to Grandma, affly/ Millie"

Angie fr M.H. Brockway (Black Jack, Kansas) 23 Feb [1870]; with envelope addressed to Mrs. H.A. Burr, Lyme, Connecticut, postmarked Black Jack Kan. Feb 24 westward move, Carries's health; " Aunt Carrie wrote me some time ago. Was she not good? Poor Auntie; I am so sorry she is not better. I do wish she could be prevailed upon to keep quiet."; "We have had two cold days lately, but the weather as a general thing has been delicious, more like May than February. Only think, Auntie, for the last month there has not [been] a drop of rain or flake of snow fallen, and not a whole cloudy day. But once in a while the wind blows furiously, there being nothing to interrupt it on these prairies. I smiled at Montie's question. If he were here very likely he would think he saw 'wild horses' there are so many horses, but they are tame and quite harmless. Indeed I never saw so many. Every man has two or more. Single horses are hardly ever driven[?]. As soon as Spring comes and the grass I expect to have a pony all my own and you may imagine what delightful roads there are here, sans rocks, sans hills. My house if you wish to know is just the counterpart of my Hamburg residence, only newer, and more convenient having bona fide stairs, instead of trap doors. The windows and doors are cased with black walnut. My gate is of the same material, ditto most of my furniture. Black walnut is the most common wood out in K. They make railroad ties of it. B.J. is not a remarkably picturesque village for few of the houses are painted, and there are no trees except a few young ones set out around private dwellings, but the country is very beautiful even in Winter. A great deal of it is sufficiently undulating to relieve monotony./ We are not so badly off for pastoral privileges as we might be. There are two churches here, Presbyterian, and United Bretheren, and there is preaching every Sabbath by one minister or the other. The Presbyterian minister I like very much. He seems a very good man, and preaches good, practical sermons, well adapted to a plain community. I hope we may be of some use here, but I hardly see now where I can./ We see brilliant prairie fires every night, almost. A few evenings since I beheld one quite too brilliant for the comfort of some. It came very near town, and did a good deal of damage to Horatio's property, threatening his houses [horses?] also. 'Twas a grand sight, almost worth going to Kansas to see. I felt a little anxious about my own small domicile, after such an experience, but there is no danger now, the grass is so well burnt. It is very unusual for a fire to come so near a village; the roads[?] keep it away. I hear a great deal about Dr. Burr's new book [probably "Pater Mundi"]. It must be very interesting."; refers to "the famous 'burglary'"

Angie (Auntie) fr Millie (Black Jack Kansas) 21 April [1870?]; acknowledges receipt of letter and "Pater Mundi", "We have not finished the book yet but find it deeply interesting, and hope it will be the means of great deal of good. I do not wonder at it's popularity."; refers to unidentified "sad news", "sad event", "But what will my poor cousins do? I thought at first they might come to Iowa, but surely Nellie could not bear the journey! Soon there will not be any one in Hamburgh I shall care to go back and see. Do you think you will stay there a great while?/ I have never read 'Stepping Heavenward,' but would like to know where it can be obtained [probably by Elizabeth Prentiss, 1869]./ Are you having spring-like weather? Sometimes it is more than spring-like here. I am bewildered by the sudden changes we have experienced. The grass is fast growing green, very green in places. Peach trees in bloom, gooseberry bushes in leaf. For three days it was hot. I actually suffered, and put on summer dress; put out the fire and kept door and windows open. Imagine my profound astonishment, when the fourth night, water froze in the house, and the night after it snowed. I could not have been more surprised if I had experienced a frost in July at home. Today it is warm again. My house by this time seems almost as cozy as the one I left in Hamburgh, though not so finished a house as that even. I do not know whether I have mentioned that it was not plastered? Such is the case, at all events but I am so accustomed to it that I hardly think of it, but to a stranger I presume it would look oddly enough to see pictures hung against bare laths. Soon though we anticipate moving into a more commodious house, and one better suited to the hot weather, and butter-making, for I intent to distinguish myself in that particular science in a small way. I beg your pardon for such a soiled sheet. I certainly thought my hands were clean when I began, but Kansas abounds in 'matter out of place,' dust particularly, which is transferred from the roads to our dwellings with a remarkable degree of persistence, and bids defiance to all efforts made to banish it. When one burns soft coat, as do I, it does not help matters much. . . I would like to know what you think about our joining the Presbyterian Church here. Mr. King, the pastor, is very anxious that we should but though I dread severing the connection with my mother church, I suppose we shall not be a part of it again at least not soon. And now I think of it what do you think of omitting the Bible in the public schools? I at first thought there was but one side to the question, but now am doubtful." ; re letter writing, "Consider how many correspondents I have. One or two letters home to write every week. Two sisters, three aunts & half a dozen cousins and friends, expect me to write two or three times to them . . ."

Auntie (Angie) fr Millie (Black Jack) 19 July [1870?]; acknowledges receipt of photographs, "Mr. Jennings certainly does excel in the art of photography, there are all so good. What a triumph it is to possess the pictures of three sisters, who, if I remember rightly, being disgusted with the way the sun treated them, once resolved 'never to try it again.' I feel quite sick now, but I wait for Freddie. I wish Mr. Jennings could 'take' him. Auntie, if it were not for the home missionary, I should send you $300 back. If you do not want the paper yourself, I don't wish you to take it on my account. . . Did Sarah tell you I was in 'desperate haste' for a [sewing] machine? Why the truth is, in the early part of the summer I began to suspect that Will & myself would need a supply of underclothing soon. I have been living on my trousseau entirely, and everything seemed to give out at once. I dislike making underclothing and the formidable array of chemises, drawers, and shirts to be made slightly appalled me. Then the idea of the machine entered my head, and I began to make efforts to obtain it. Things growing worse all the time made my haste, as with a machine in prospect it was harder yet to think of sewing by hand. Dame Fashion is not particularly exacting here. Pretty much all I have seen this season is a lawn dress with cost $2.50 and is not made up yet - on account of that wretched machine. And the weather - 95 [degrees] is the average. But said machine is on the way." ; new pony, "Yes Auntie I have a lovely pony. As cunning and gentle, and above all so easy to ride. I astonish myself with the length of my rides. An eight or ten mile ride seems nothing. Alas I have been 20 & 25 miles in one day! O, yes paint and plaster are trifles compared with the felicity of having a pony all your own. However we have moved, and rejoice in the possession of plaster at least; the woodwork indoors being chiefly black walnut, paint is not necessary. Our present mansion is somewhat nearer the store, and rather more commodious than the other. Maria may keep her tears to herself for the present, but when I was there she nearly wept at the very idea of leaving Hamburg. . . Did I say I thought it [?] to read the Bible in the schools? I certainly think it ought to be read, but the question as I hear it is this. If Catholics pay school taxes should they not have a voice in the matter? And if they predominate in a community, and wish the Catholic version of the scriptures to be read, might it? Dear Auntie, I hope you have recovered from your rheumatism. How could you write, when it was in your right arm and shoulder? Do you not think it is a good thing for Ned to be in Papa's store?"; "Auntie, I thank you for your counsel. I hope we will try more earnestly to lead Christian lives here than at home. I believe in the 'tenth' system, but sometimes it is a little difficult to arrange it. Taking a tenth of what I spend, besides not being always practicable is no particular sacrifice, as Will is always ready to give me what I want. I have been laying down butter this season with a vision to selling it in the winter, butter here being 15 cents in summer & 30 to 40 in winter. I promised a tenth - and somewhat over - of what I made, which I think otherwise would be spend in books etc. . . I have a class in Sabbath School, but feel discouraged about it. It consists of four or five boys, aged from 14 to 16, though not particularly rugged (I don't see any rugged children Sundays though weekdays they all are) they might easily be put to shame by some rugged boys East. It requires a great deal of tack, talent, and piety, to teach a class. I feel exceedingly incompetent. I fear I never can interest them in their lesson. Although so old they can hardly read a single verse correctly, seem to know very little about the Bible, and care less. They don't learn their lessons at all. Pretty much all I do is to let them read the lesson & explain & exhort[?] a little. Of course if they don't make an effort, they don't become interested. If being harvesting is the excuse they might [?] omitting their lesson. What do you think? . . ."

Aunt Angie fr niece Mary E. Carpenter, (Castle Grove IA) 6 Jan 1868; with envelope addressed to Mrs. E.F. Burr, Hamburg, New London Co., Connecticut, postmarked Monticello; life in the west, pregnancy; "Many times since I have been living in my prairie home I have thought how pleasant it would be to be surprised by a letter from Aunt Angie . . . But I know you do not need to have me tell you that besides my father, brother and sisters there is no one I would like so much to see or hear from as you. Could I see you I suppose one of your first questions would be 'how do you like the west?' If it had been left entirely to my own choices, aside from its separating me from all my friends, I should have preferred a home at the east, but as it seemed to be best for us to be located here, I have looked upon it as my future home and found so much to like and so much less than I expected to dislike, that I presume I shall soon become greatly attached to this place, and if it were not for relatives there, have no wish to return to the east. These rolling prairies look very pleasant to me and I do not wonder that to a farmer they are much more attractive than our stony Conn fields. The location of Monticello is, I think, very pleasant and it is a thriving business place./ The general opinion here is that it is sure to grow and will probably become a village of 4000 inhabitants. It has a good school, pleasant society, and improvements are constantly going on. The new church is nearly finished and will be dedicated in a few weeks./ Perhaps some one has informed you what is in the future for me. If so, you will not be surprised when I ask if you will be kind enough to send me a pattern or a description of an infant's shirt. I remember the flannel bands[?] and linen shirts mother used to have but have an idea something better has been invented for the rising generation of the present day. And will you inform me what in your opinion is the best rule for deciding upon the time when the event may be expected? This section is very healthy. Our clear weather and strong winds are very bracing. Their effect on me has been to improve my general health, and during the last few months I think I have been quite as well as I could expect to be. Within the last few days I have thought that I had never felt better though I know I could not endure as much as usual./ Poor Nellie, how discouraging it is that she has had another attack of severe neuralgia. And Alice too has been quite afflicted. I have felt very anxious about Eva's eyes. She has never written anything about them until within a few weeks, when she says 'perhaps I can see as well as I could before I went to Dr. Halstead.' . . . Is Mr. Hyde at home this winter? I hear that Millie is engaged but have not learned whether Willie has decided upon making the west his home or remaining east. I learned from the papers that Mr. Burr was invited to lecture at Amherst! Is he going so? . . . I learned from the girls that Aunt Carrie's health was very poor last summer but have not heard from her for several months. Is Uncle Joseph's lock business prospering? One question more, are any kind of bibs desirable or necessary? If convenient will you answer soon . . ."; "P.S. Direct to Monticello Jones Co., Capt Carpenter wishes me to remember him with much regard to yourself and husband. M"

On taking down my scrip to your mother last night, I found her not feeling as though she could write this time. The fact is I found her taking a different view of a part of your letter from which I had taken, and much discouraged and cast down accordingly. I took you to mean that the matter, having been finally disposed of according to our wishes, you thought it best to put it out of sight altogether - which we are quite willing to do. Of course your mother did not seriously mean to ask for the letter etc. But she thinks that what you wrote in your last (some things) are not reconcilable with my theory, but that you are bent on - well, on being like that

I am afraid living in such splendor will make our home

We have a fine piece of rye; and the grass promises fairly[?]./ I was disappointed on looking at the Catalogue this A.M. to find that Commencement is to be on the 27th. I had supposed it to be on the 21st and so we all had made up our minds to see you a week earlier than it seems we may count on. Well, the weeks are on wheels, not to say wings, and the vacation of vacations will be upon us almost before we are aware./ Has Prof. Richardson concluded to let you continue in his rooms?/ I have just been reading the 'Hecuba' of Euripides; but the 'Prometheus Vincetus' I do not remember to have read. Tacitus I used to like very much – especially for his conciseness. He would have made a capital sender of telegrams. Book rec'd. Most aff. P.S. Do not forget to avoid night air as much as possible."/ [from his mother] "Yes, with your chills, I hope you will be scrupulous in that matter. This is really a hot morning. Almost the first we have had – and an extremely busy one – baking, churning, washing & housecleaning. When your brain gets tired, as I know it must often, think of our work with our hands and be glad you have an occupation so noble. I was extremely sorry to hear of those chills. Hope to hear better things of your next time. . ."

"This is Mountain day and I hoe it is as bright and pleasant at A. as it is here. Mrs. Fox came back this morning, and though it is washing day and baking day, and piles of work to be done, I want to write a letter to my boy, which I did not succeed in doing the last time./ Now what are you doing today, by way of divertissement? Oh for a telephone to talk it all up. I hope you are not taking any extravagantly long walk, but taking it moderately out in the sunshine which is so pleasant after our long storm.
I hope you are not getting any more shakes. . . Although it seemed to your father unwise - he would be the first one to say, come, if your health required it. You know his attitude pretty well. He had rather a poor week last week
- a regular chill himself, but is looking better now./ I was glad to hear of your pleasant call on the Misses Ely.
Mr. E. Ely has a fine span of horses & his wife helps him take care of them as they have no hostler as yet./ Mrs.
John Sterling Jun is very sick with what the Dr. terms blood-poisoning./ Mr. Knox seems to be having very good success in his S.S.[?] meeting./ Just as we were about to retire last night, came a knock at the door. A verdant young man from O. Lyme, brought a middle aged woman to get the knot tied. . ."

"Today Fred & I have finished (after a very imperfect fashion) picking off what stones Mr. Clark left on the meadow across the street. . . Rosa presented us with a nice little cow about a week ago. So we are all armed and forearmed for the dairy business as soon as the traditional 5 weeks are gone. Yesterday your mother and I took a long ride on Mt Archer to see Mrs. Wood - so home through Joshuatown. Meanwhile Fred and Edith seem to have gone a Maying for cowslips to hang on Mr. Clark's door last eve./
Perhaps I did not tell you that I have a fine Dict'y for the Greek Testament, prepared specially for it; and I will send it to you when you come to that study. . . Harry Selden wrote us about his visit to Amherst and gratified us with a favorable account of you from his acquaintances among the faculty and others[?]. Well, we have excellent authority for thinking that 'a good name is better than precious[?] ointment.' That is Old Test't. And the New puts these words into our head, vis, 'I have no greater joy than to hear that my children walk in the truth.' Most

[from Angie] "We greatly missed the Monday letter. What do you think! Mrs. Wood says her daughter sends her two letters every week from her home at the south. But then she is not in College, I know. While the sons of the soil have been gathering stones, Mrs. Fox & I have been housecleaning. Don't you wish you had been here to move furniture & shake carpets?"; cold weather; "It was very pleasant to hear from you by the way of Hal. He wrote a long letter (full of the Selden glow) about his visit to A. [Amherst] and invited us to his ordination. Success to your B. Class. Was particularly pleased to learn you had been relieved of your intruder. Your Sab. Eve. Text makes a good motto for the week, 'Be Strong, etc.'. . . Mrs. L. does not improve much in health. Society meets at Mr. Luther's tomorrow eve. You should find enclosed a check for your pin. Let me know if you are likely to want another night shirt. Take care of yourself. Aff. Mamma"

Montie fr 1)EFB, 2) Mamma (Lyme) 20 Nov 1882; with envelope addressed to Mr. H. Montrose Burr, Lock Box 91, Amherst, Mass., postmarked Lyme, Conn, Nov 21; "I am afraid I shall have to do all the writing this time, as your mother is sick today, and has been on the lounge all the afternoon. It looks like a touch of malaria - chills and vomiting. Mrs. Fox promises to be back tomorrow. Meanwhile Edith is very helpful. I hope that your mother will be able to add something tomorrow./ Just here E. called me as her mother was vomiting again & faint. But she is now more quiet that I resume my writing - still - thinking she will be better tomorrow./ We had a letter from Mr. Gordon W-day. He cannot be with us at Thanksgiving but, as I understand him, consents to have W. come if he wishes./ Of course we are very glad to hear that you have neither 'flunked' nor 'fizzled' though just what the last word means I am a little uncertain even after consulting Fred[?] - who generally is well posted s to Anglo Saxon of that sort. You know what the wise man says, vis, 'The father of a wise son has joy of him'. So I hope that not to have fizzled is to have made a No 1 record in everything./ If you have Sophocles's Greek Grammar and do not use it bring it home with you./ I will leave the rest of the sheet till tomorrow - hoping that your mother will be able to use it. Most aff. E.F. Burr"; [next from Angie] "I am just crawling around this morning and that is all. So you must imagine all the nice things I would like to say to you and take the will for the deed. But I want to suggest that you have an occasion to bring any underclothes with you. I found a nice pr of drawers after you left. If you find an odd cuff bring it along to match such an one here. Also if you have no further use for your small French dictionary I would be glad if you can bring that. Good bye with much love from Mamma"

Montie fr 1) EFB, 2) Angie (Lyme) 13 Nov [1883?]; "Where is the catalogue for this year? You will have to get a special certificate, will you not? – in order to come home on half fare./ I ws glad to see in one paper that the Faculty have concluded to go back to the old plan of assigning the honors at commencement to the best scholars at large – those best, all the studies considered./ No, we should have justified the Faculty in expelling those disgraceful fellows, sine remedio, and in notifying all other colleges of the fact. It would be a hard thing for their parents; but such things should not be allowed./ I noticed some mispelt words in your last two letters 'meat' for meet – 'uncomonly' for uncommonly – 'weak' for week! 'reherasing' for rehearsing, 'a' for an before a vowel. Remember the 5 times a collegian ought not to make such mistakes, especially in his sophomore year./ You need not blush at being obliged to confess that you have not read, or even heard of, most of the books published – especially such as a poor scholar would be likely to name to you. As long as you maintain a high standing in your class for scholarships you can afford to confess considerable ignorance o general literature. That can be supplied further on./ Tonight Fred and I have been catching some chickens for Mr. Beckwith's market. I trusted Fred to tie them and left three in the shed, but on going in a few minutes later I found several at liberty, and all likely to be very soon./ Mr. Fox is away this week in order to take care of a brand new grandchild; and so your mother is up to the elbows in work and advises me not to leave much space for her./ Glad as we shall be to see you, I would not leave till the College is regularly dismissed or the regular lessons suspended. If you are in doubt take advice of the President or some member of the Faculty. Most Aff. E.F.B."; [from Angie} "Just like you I am too busy to think. E. says give Montie my love and tell him I am working 'as she is, like a bee.' And then we hope to see you so soon, that we will leave love and news etc. to be talked over in that good time coming. When G. decides whether he will come, let me know. . ."

Montie fr 1) EFB, 2) Angie (Lyme) 6 Nov [1882]; "What was my surprise today to receive a present instead of giving one. The experience is so new (I had got so far when I bethought myself of a basket of grapes given me by the 'father' Beebe, as your mother calls him, and quantities of sweet apples from the Clarks, but these people are not my parishioners) that it quite set me up, and give me a charming glimpse of the possibilities of human nature. 'What was it?' A very large and handsome book shining in morocco and gold and fine engravings. As to the matter I can as yet say nothing, but I will venture to hope that the fair body has as fair a soul. 'Who gave it.' It came from Mrs. Dea. Cone of East Haddam, who once lived here and whose father was a doctor in the place, Dr. Brockway, with a very graceful note./ I have invited the New York Gordons to keep Thanksgiving with us and meet W.A.G. here. But, very likely, they will not accept. In any case you had better invite Gordon as well as Abbot./ Just think of being so disloyal to your native land as to say that Amherst scenery is better than Lyme scenery! I must have improved since I was there. Most aff. E.V. Burr"; [from Angie, Tues morning] "This is not an [?] pleasant morning in which to answer your pleasant letter. I quite admired your tact in answering E's letter, and I was just as much pleased as he at that glimpse of 'Manny Boo'[?] tossing up baby Richardson[?] You certainly are getting to be quite a traveler. 'Mare shanks' are not to be despised are they? I should like to have been your compagnon du voyage on that sight seeing walk and if I were as lively and limber as when I once climbed the Alps, I might have kept pace with you. But I am sure I need not warn you against the habit of studying while walking. Take warning by your father. It is a habit more easily acquired than broken up. The brain needs rest just as much as the body. Have you seen the comet? [Great Comet of 1882, September] I was valorous enough to rise for that purpose one of these cold mornings. There is another luminary just now coming above the horizon which I can survey more at my leisure. Thanksgiving. How many plans and anticipations in all our broad country gather about it. May a kind Providence realize ours. I shall be glad to see your friend and G. as well./ E. sends love and says, tell Montie I was very glad to get his letter. And now I must leave even this little bit of a letter for a momentous piece of housework which stares me in the face. Bring home a thankful heart in a sound body and that will materially help us to keep Thanksgiving. Very Aff. Mamma"

telling of how the poor fellows were robbed of their canes, I cannot but hope that you mean 'our class,' and that you had nothing to do with breaking the college rules. If, having good sound legs, they are foolish enough to want canes in addition, let them have them till such time as their [? ?] is gone by. See what manly, Christian Sops they have at Williams - the whole voting, without any prompting, not to trouble the Fresh as to canes. Son't do anything whatever against the college rules - ie keep the promise you have made to them. I have said this before; but I should not relish having the 'college withdraw itself from you.' So line[?] upon line[?]./ Your expenses for October are more than I expected. Your account for September included $1 for Post Office Box and yet you have an item of 25 cts for Box this month. I queried too about your Northampton expenses a little, at not being of the most economical test[?]. I enclose $5 & some of our Autumn leaves to remind you of home and of those who have your best good at heart, and who will so much rejoice to see you [?] your face nobly./ Most aff. E.F. Burr/ 'discreSSION' = discretion."; [next from Mamma] "Edith and I went out for a little ride this P.M. around to Mrs. John Lord's where I heard another eulogium on my greatly honored father. You will have to be the very best of a man to be a worth grandson, as nearly as I can find out by the accounts of those who hold him in such grateful remembrance. You may be sure that I was glad to hear of your call at Prof. Morse's./ Now Montie is the time to show your 'back bone'. Don't go with the multitude after Freshmen. Try your hand at stemming a current. Who knows but you might tone up some weak kneed fellows and help to create a right sentiment and so save your college the disgrace of some such newspaper item as we see too often. As to your being personally involved in such matters I haven't a thought of such a thing. My boy! Oh, no./ I was glad to hear of your plan of mutual[?] instruction in the Bible class. I hope to hear the best things of it./ I souse a little news in the home letter now and then would spice it, but it is a thing you know which you cannot manufacture, or if you do, it is not worth anything. Absolutely, the only new things I know of, is that Spiritist Fox & father Beebe were at the last Wed. eve meeting and you will agree that that is news. I should not object to 'turning up' in your classroom this week and seeing (I suppose I should not hear) your debate. Very aff Mamma" Montie fr 1) EFB, 2) Angie (Lyme) 17 Oct 1882; re health, marriage; "Your two letters came today; and I was glad to find your signature 'writ large' on the family pledge. As to the 'medical uses,' that meant more especially the drinking; though I think I have sometimes heard of tobacco figuring in some small way in cutaneous troubles, vulgarly called the 'itch.'/ Tomorrow I have an expedition on hand from which I shrink – nothing less than going beyond Hadlyme church to marry a couple. Parties unknown to me. Scruples about going into another man's parish for such a purpose. But as? Are evil ?, and under pressure I consented – so must go. I think I will call on Mr. Clift and explain./ I have sometimes noticed that when young men make an easy choice of a profession it works to their disadvantage by leading them to neglect those college studies that do not bear in the plainest way on the line of life they propose for themselves. Thus one chooses the law, and he says, 'This Greek or Mathematics will not help me in my profession as much as something else.' It is time enough to begin professional studies after the college course is over. If a young man is wise enough to know that the best preparation for all the professions is a broad general culture & will not neglect any part of his college studies on account of an early choice of his line of life. I see no objection to his leisurely turning the matter over in his mind, and bring in the book not for information as to what is best in [?], deciding in a sort of provisional way what would be best. Of course, I have my partialities in favor of the Christian Ministry as affording by far the highest field for usefulness & influence to a person of talent & piety. But there are other useful callings in which one can serve his generation, and if your [?] and faculties shall finally seem to point elsewhere I shall not oppose. Meanwhile, do not be in a hurry to decide – keep your eyes & ears open – do nobly[?] present work, ask for guidance, and doubtless you will get it in time. Perhaps your Mother will have³ something to say on the matter; . . .

. Aff E.F.B./ In regard to the lectures, I think I would omit them, both on account of the expense & also because I think that during sophomore year you will spend your time more profitably in 'cutting a clean swath & [?]' in your regular college studies. 'Repport' = Report"; [from Angie] "Your father is just starting off on his long, lonely ride - misty & dark - except for these bright leaves that gleam through the fog. And now I should like a long, quiet time in which to answer your letter. But Mrs. Fox has gone off on one of her uncertain visits and household matters press on one side, which one the other, E. is continually plying me with questions about her lessons - All the contents of your Sunday letter greatly interested me, but especially your thoughts on your 'life work'. I sympathize with you in your wish to have some definite aim before you, and if you could escape the danger that your father suggests of being a one sided man - losing the benefit of the studies that do not seem to you to bear directly on your chosen profession, I should say it was very desirable to fix upon your profession. I shall not deny that it would be a great satisfaction to me to have your hearty choice in favor of the ministry. But we are both very anxious not to influence you against your own choice or natural bent. But with such an aim before you, it seems to me that it would do much in forming your character - in taming tht 'untamed Adam.' I think in your choice of books, comparing etc, etc, you would be asking 'How will this tell on my future usefulness?' I think you will not suppose me to mean that your books should be all on Divinity or your associates all ministers, or ministers to be. Put would you not sift[?] a little closer? Especially I should say the Bible would come to the front. But it is the Lord's guidance I want you should have. I am very sure you will ask for it as I do. And be sure you expect an answer./ I noticed that Yale's Y.M.C.A. was flourishing and hoped to hear as much of yours. When do you have your Bible Class? I shall want to know all about it./ How is G. getting along? We are beginning to talk about Thanksgiving already. Tell G. we shall be happy to have him come with you./ Fred says that Edward Ely came up in the Mail Wagon and I must leve this and go to smoothing up a little E. has just come in with a tray of dishes and says, 'Give my love to Montie.' I went to Hamburg to do my duty at Town Meeting; a part of which was to vote to [?]. We (your mother and myself) found the surroundings of the stores and church very unsavory with tobacco smoke and spittle; and this reminds me that you did not say in your last that you had fulfilled your promise and hunted[?] up the pledge and signed it ex. animo. It is possible that the thing is yet undone./ I wrote you on Saturday, enclosing my check for $18 which I hope you rec. today./ Tomorrow I go to Goshuatown to marry Hayden Reynlds to a Miss Warner. Last week, by my absence, I missed of marrying Ely Harding to a Laplace[?] which I was sorry to do as it was a dead loss to your mother, and one which no doubt she feels keenly./ Next week I expect to send - I will change what I was about to say to, You will find enclosed my check for your semi annual tuition payment which you will hand to the Treasurer as soon as you can. After the heavy rains the grass is as green as June and with the autumn leaves just showing, all things are fair to see. Did you not find them so in your walk of over 8 miles? What about that call on Prof Morse? You see neither your father nor I mean you shall fail in duty for the want of reminders. I prithee don't let Papa have to wash any more ink over that pledge. You have not spoken of your Thursday eve. Or class meetings. Do you attend them? As a member of the U.M.C. Ass. I hope to heard of your doing some good strokes in the one business. I have letters from Norwich (Aunt C. & Alice, both speaking of Hal's enthusiasm in his work. Alice gave me two sheets and a half of pleasant description of their visit and both she & your Auntie expressed regret at not seeing you last summer and hoped you would visit them in your coming vacation. We have not seen anything of Cousin Eliza yet, nor have we any very definite expectation of it. Edith wanted her to come so much as to build her hopes on rather a slender foundation. That's right. Write to Will. Mr. James Bill has his old chimney out, putting in new ones. I chould think they must be having an airy, not to say moist time. Ought you not to put on your thick flannels to guard against colds? I think you should have improved wonderfully in spelling, but you sometimes hleave out letters, e.g. sood for stood. Do you think of any book we have that you would like for S. reading? Affly. Mamma"

The trees hang unusually full, and the balls are just beginning to open; so she and Fred, after serving an apprenticeship at picking up apples, were allowed to take to their clubs and brick bats and fight for their living - the living that children and savages have always delighted in since the coming in of the Stone Age. . . I was a little afraid on reading what you said about the 'rush' that you had been getting into mischief and hot water. I hope you will not be found lifting even a little finger in violation of any of the rules of the college. Most aff. Don't you find that you are too much exhausted to study well after such long walks./ Mr. & Mrs. Ludington called a few days since and when I told them that your father had gone out for a walk for exercise, Mr. L. said 'Yes, that is better than riding.' So as you have no horse to ride, console yourself with that reflection./ Miss A. told me yesterday that she had had 'such a good letter from Montie.' So I am prepared to believe that she sent you a good reply and shall be very glad to see it. She poor lady, is, I am afraid taxing herself too much with housekeeping and school teaching. She told me that she was up five times the night before in efforts to quiet a toothache./ Did I tell you that Will Hyde had had an offer of a situation in Will Brockway's store in Kansas? We have not heard whether he is likely to accept of it. I wonder if G. has found his Stamp book. It does seem to me that I saw it lying with his college³ scrapbook on the sofa in your room when he occupied it. E. & I wonder if you get any Chestnuts in your walks. But I am very sure that by this time you have 'cooled off,' and your heart is as soft as wax. We are pretty busy too. Fred & E. studying - while I hear lessons push house cleaning - a little of everything and your father you may be sure is hard at work. I wish he were better fitted for it. Perhaps this hot weather has something to do with the matter. He has not been doing quite as well this week. I would like to have had your with us at our Call at Mr. Raymonds. The tasteful parlor and the fair young ladies, with the comfortable looking parents made quite a nice picture for that far away, farming region. Miss A. says, 'Tell Montie I dread going to my work quite as much as he did.' Her school commenced yesterday. She expects to ride there every day. I hope you are having good Sabbaths. I think of you especially then. Do you take long walks these lovely autumn days. I was too sleepy to write last night, and the butter making has filled up my morning. . ."; 2) "To think of your getting 'riled' at your father! — and all because of a little pleasantry begotten, it may be, of better physical conditions! 'Well,' says someone, 'it has always been my fortune to be misunderstood.' Am I 100 years in advance of the age or 100 years behind it? I altogether prefer the first — born[?] of the dilemma./ Seriously, I did not suppose that you were entangled in that yoke of bondage./ As to the new carpet, I certainly shall be very glad to have you get along with the old as long as possible; for that is only what we are doing with many an old thing. If, at the beginning of next term you find yourself in straits[?] and rags I may find it easier to help you than I should now — though I suppose it belongs to Prof R. to supply all the needful furnishing of the room under the usual wear and tear."; "I hope that in your next letter you will be able to say that you have discovered that pledge with its cross. Mr. Clark has been plowing for rye in our field today & we (your mother & myself) have made a call at Mr. Raymond's."

Your Auntie and Freda look exactly as when I saw them last. How enthusiastic that sister of mine is over the old place. I believe she loves every timber of it. Will has brightened up wonderfully this evening. He needed to./ I should like to know about the 'lots of things you had no time to tell.' Don't crowd home letters off the program. . ."; 2) "I am glad to see such a solid laying out of the day. It 'means business.' My mouth almost waters in presence of the nice bill of daily fare you present. If you can manage to recite as well as the best in all your 4 studies for the term it will be quite an achievement . . . I am glad that you have reserved 2-1/2 hours for exercise. Let it be vigorous but not violent./ Mr. White preached for me yesterday . . . This P.M. we expect Mr. Hyde. To EFB fr D.C. Bloomer (Council Bluffs) 26 Aug 1857; “. . .
Money can be loaned here readily at three per cent a month, and we sometimes get even more than that rate for it. The securities offered, are what we in the West call good, and what are good beyond a doubt, although there are some eastern people who will not believe that any securities in the west can be good.”;
and re purchasing “land warrants” and “loan them out to settlers . . . I have been doing business loaning money, selling land warrants &c for some time for the Reverend F? S? Bradley of Wilton Conn. . .”

To EFB fr Winchell & Robinson (real estate agents, Palmyra MO) 30 Sept 1857; re money and loan for land, "In regards to S.W. Mo Gov. land we say - we do not think many good lands can now be purchased at gov. prices near any contemplated RR - but still we think that as that part of Mo is rapidly filling up, good land any where there will soon command a very considerable advance upon Govmt price. Any of this land can be entered with warrants - but a recent order from the Gov. has prohibited any one person from entering more than 320 a at once. The land is rapidly being entered & we fear the chances are daily growing less & less bright."

60 8 40-7 Burr Papers, Rochester, NY Corres, re New Church [Burr, letters on Church building]

To EFB fr R.F Frazer (Rochester) 3 May 1866; re approval of "the enterprise" and contributions to it; mentions Eben Ely, Lorenzo Ely, Denison Ely; with envelope postmarked Rochester, May 3

To Sir (EFB?) Fr J?L? Selden (Rochester) 8 Jan 1867; re payment of dividend and future value of stock (telegraph stock?)

To Sir (EFB?) fr J?L? Selden (Rochester) 7 July 1867; "In reply to yours of the 2n inst let me first say that I consider myself entirely & solely to blame for what has occurred. . . I was ready, as soon as I saw that I had committed an error, to meet all the pecuniary consequences flowing from it. But as you very justly say, this alone would not remedy the evil. . . It is not too late however to modify our plans [for the church?], so as to render them somewhat more in accordance with the views of that portion of your parishioners whose opinions I ought to have ascertained before acting at all in the matter. . .
What I propose to do is this. To draw up a new plan very considerably reducing the dimensions of the building, but retaining all, or nearly all that [goes?] to make up the style & taste of the structure

- & see if I cannot thus obtain the assent of the person[s?] named. . . "; with envelope postmarked Rochester, July 8
- To Sir (EFB) fr J?L? Selden (Rochester) 2 Sept 1867; re architectural plans for church
- To Sir (EFB?) fr J?L? Selden, (Rochester) 2 March 1868; re gold mines, ". . . The main difficulty in our way consists in the vast amount of money required to develop gold mines in a new & comparatively unexplored region. There are no doubt rich mines in the District where we are operating, but so many of the surface indications prove fallacious when excavations are carried down to any depths, that fortunes may be spent before striking a true paying vein. We are now at work upon two leads or veins which give fair promise of proving remunerative, but which we know may prove deceptive as so many others have done. It would be entirely unsafe therefore for you to lay the foundation walls of your proposed church during the coming summer. . ."
- To EFB fr J?L? Selden (Rochester) 14 April 1872; ". . . But the collapse of my fortunes was complete & I retained not a single share of Western Union & very little of any thing else, except a small annuity which I took the precaution to purchase when I saw the danger I was in. . ."; unable to contribute to church; refers to clipping about his brother (below)
- Newspaper clipping (nd) in defense of Judge Henry R. Selden [brother of J?L? Selden]; encl. with above
- To EFB fr L? L? Selden (Rochester) 21 July 1873?; re "Pater Mundi", new church, etc.

In answer to your question, I do not think there is any evidence of decline in the acceptance of Evolution by scientific men. The present tendency is to the separation of the old Darwinism into a number of more or less discordant doctrines, more or less destructive of one another, as well as of the original hypothesis. The result of this remains to be seen, but I have no doubt it will ultimately tend to sounder views."

To EFB fr A.P. Peabody (Cambridge MA) 28 April 1873; with envelope; thanks for "Pater Mundi"; ". . . This last work of yours seems to be, in design, arrangement & execution, admirably fitted to counteract the dangerous tendency of the dominant scientific heresy of the day. Yet you are only second-best on your side of the questions at issue. To a careful thinker Darwin is his own best antagonist. He is wonderfully frank; in his books he shows the poverty of his own arsenal of facts & arguments; & I believe that hardly any better service could be done to the cause (one & inseparable) of scientific & religious truth than a fair presentation of Darwin vs. Darwin, - a refutation of him by the orderly setting forth of his admissions & omissions. But all this without prejudice to the transcendent merit of your book, which is equally loyal to religion & to science, supplies an essential need of our time, & cannot but be an instrument of great & enduring good, especially with young men of culture who are not exposed to the perils of skepticism, & best fitted to appreciate the antidote you have furnished. . ."

To EFB fr Jno. C. Strong (Buffalo) 18 Oct 1872; 6-page letter handwritten on legal paper; re "Ecce Coelum" and "Pater Mundi", descendant of Aaron Burr, ". . . I have great doubts about the assumed verities of the Christian Religion and incline to the belief its alleged facts are legendary and fictional . . . [graduated Yale 1842, lawyer] . . . And many & the choicest principles of my religion and yours are the same. The necessity of Religion as an instrument for the cultivation of the moral qualities of our nature I also concede therefore believing it well for a man to go along with the established religion of his age & people & not reject and stand aloof from a system that has so much of truth & good to mankind in it even though you believe its broad underlying facts are fictional and legendary. . . Nevertheless I incline strongly to the opinion the Bible is in no peculiar sense the word of God. . .", etc.

Envelope to EFB fr The Ely Re-Union; (EFB?) handwritten notes, number calculations on front, and poem? on back.

80 19 ["Enoch Burr letters"; Burr correspondence, mostly with "brother" and "Willie", 1866-1887, most re selling land via Chicago agents; folder marked 74, renumbered as folder 80 (RY 7/30/09)]

To brother fr EFB (Lyme) 29 Feb 1866; re land in Chicago?, "I have just received a note from our agent in Chicago saying there has been another decision in favor of the Davis? Claim, and advising that we pay. The lawyer offered at one time to take $300 - whether he would do so now I do not know. . ."

To brother fr EFB (Lyme) 3 May 1866; re land ownership, "I am quite reluctant to be encumbered again with any part of the land. And my impression is that the old arrangement is the profitable? one for you in the long run. Still, as you think differently and insist upon it, we will go back to my offer of cash full[?].

This. . . was to let you have the land north of your house in return for your Bond and your half of the Chicago place. . ."

- To brother fr EFB (Lyme) 29 Jan 1871; re annuity
- To brother fr EFB (Lyme) 30 Sept 1871; re money, taxes
- To brother fr EFB (Lyme) 7 Oct 1875; re Chicago tax
- To brother fr EFB (Lyme) 2 July 1878; re land for sale in Chicago?, re Mr. Ely's daughter to marry Amherst professor, re Brockways moving to Middletown?
- To brother fr EFB (Lyme) 4 June 1879; weather, Angie to "put the church in order for the season", upcoming visit to New London
- To brother fr EFB (Lyme) 23 Feb (nd); "Pres. M'Cosk of Princeton College, New Jersey, wants me to collect what information I can about Pres. Aaron Burr, one of the earlier presidents of that college. He was born and bred in Fairfield and perhaps Mary's friends could hunt up the whole genealogical connections of his family with ours. . . The following is all I know about the family. 1. Jonathan Burr (born in eng. 1604 came to this country in 1639, settled as a minister in Dorchester, Mass. 2. John Burr (son of above settled in Fairfield about 1846). 3. Peter Burr (son of John, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of CT died about 1725."
- To W fr EFB (Lyme) 27 April 1880; re finances and land
- To Willie fr EFB (Lyme) 28 April 1881; re sale of lot in Chicago
- To Willie fr EFB (Lyme) 10 May 1881; re money from sale of Chicago lot
- To Willie fr EFB (Lyme) 12 May 1881; re renting lots in Chicago; Miss H and dislocated hip
- To W fr EFB (Lyme) 15 April 1882; re money, ". . . I have had such large bills to pay on account of M's sickness . . .", Montie back (to school?)
- To W fr EFB (Lyme) 9? Nov 1882; "Of course I should be sorry to embarrass in any way a movement for the advantage of the School District. At the same time, I confess, I should feel unpleasantly to have the premises occupied as I can imagine they might be, if sold. The land was donated solely for school purposes. It would not have been given for any other. I may have given a deed of it; but I have no recollection of having done so."
- To W fr EFB (Lyme) 25 April 1887; re selling land, re family; "I think I would accept and close up the matter [?] whether we promised to accept any offer made or not. Has Elwood paid for the purchase yet? Edith has been sick most of the time since January, but is now better. Willie Hyde has broken down in health & his business, and has returned to us for recuperation. Montie has returned to Amherst after a vacation of two weeks – feeling almost like a junior, the last term of sophomore year being so short. How time flies with these boys as they turn into men! I mean that M shall [?] the land of his father next vacation. Edward Ely & wife came up yesterday to superintend the [?] on Prospect Hill. He [?] the farm house."

To Elisa? Fr EFB (Lyme) 16 April [no year]; re land for sale via Chicago agents, getting second opinion on price; ". . . If Mr. Sherwood can secure for us a better offer than our usual agents can, without embarrassing my relations to them, I would of course accept his offer – otherwise I should feel bound to give the preference to those who have long acted for us. He will know what is considered the fair thing as between agents. If we sell, I suppose it will be necessary to cancel Mrs. Nicoll's claim; but as her offer seems about the same as that of two years ago, I would like, pending the negotiations for sale, to see if we cannot reduce her figures somewhat. I have written to Chicago about the matter. . . "

To W fr EFB (Lyme) 3 May [no year]; re sale of property via Chicago agents; re taxes

To Willie fr EFB (Lyme) 18 May [no year]; re selling land, Baird & Bradley, agents; ". . . But the thing ought to be so managed that we shall not be obliged to pay a commission of 2-1/2 per cent to two agents. . . "

To W fr EFB (Lyme) 26 Oct [no year]; re land for sale, re school district, re Montie doing well at school [jr. at Amherst]; ". . . I would not decline to contribute $5 for the good of the School District, but I cannot say that it seems to me just, much less generous, to require me to pay any sum, however small, for land, which I parted with for school purposes only and which, of course, would never have been given at all had it been supposed that in a few years the District would hand it over to some party where occupancy would damage the contiguous property."

To Willie fr EFB (Lyme) 14 May [no year]; "I received your letter yesterday. I see that you did not understand what I intended to say, vis, that for the sake of having all my share down at once in ready money I would abate? $200. The notes do not admit? of being divided. One party or the other must hold them. On the whole, I think the best way for all parties is for me to let you have all the cash. This amounts to within a few dollars of your full share – and perhaps you will accept that as a final settlement – especially, as for many years I have been subject to various small expenses in connection with the management. If this is satisfactory you will find the money in Barlow's hands, to whom the Administrators can give a receipt in full & surrender the certificate I gave you. We are still in deep [rest of letter cut out]"
